The Editor's column

By STUART R. PADDOCK

We were shocked twice this week.

1st—By the contents of some of the magazines removed from the local magazine racks by the local committee for decent literature.

2nd—By the attitude of some teenagers who think that their approach to manhood entitles them to the privilege of rooting through a fare of obscenity, the same as a hog roots through garbage.

Sex, as God intended, is a wonderful thing.

Sex, as dished up in those objectionable magazines is a menace to sane living on the part of our young people.

It is time that pressure be brought to bear on the government to act as strongly against sex filth as it tries to act against the narcotic trade.

We can see some publishers of filth claim the freedom of the printed word. Making their sale a crime could put an end to their circulation.

Our hats off to the brave women who are voluntarily policing the newsstands and to the merchants who are banning objectionable literature from their shelves.

Air rifles are making their yearly appearance. Local police officers have instruction to pick up rifles being shot within the corporate limits. They will be returned if parents call at the station.

This puts the responsibility for the use of the guns clearly up to the parents of the boys.

Every boy possessing a gun is subject to arrest as a suspect in destruction of street light bulbs and globes on ornamental street lights.

We had the privilege last week of being one of those to extend 89th birthday greetings to Charles Klehm, Arlington's veteran grower of peonies. The reception, attended by the family and peony growers from Northern Illinois, occurred in the Klehm homestead where he took his bride 57 years ago, only a few hundred feet from the house where Charley's parents settled when they came to this country over 100 years ago.

Charley rules a kingdom of his own, situated within a short distance from the center of Arlington Heights business district. It is like an oasis.

The 3 Klehm homes have their own water system, their own roads and no next door neighbors. Even the spring rubbish collection passed them by last week.

Mr. Klehm is like an early pioneer ready to defend, against all comers and attractive offers, the land owned by his family 100 years. The only exception he made was when the village needed a site for water storage tanks. He promptly said, "For the village, yes."

The office of secretary of state was happy last year to renew his driver's license. Charley uses it only to drive to his farm on South State rd., but he gets a lot of pleasure showing the present generation how active a man nearly 90 years old can be.

It is the job of Arlington Heights' police department to investigate all complaints, especially when serious charges are in the air.

Such an investigation made on North Kennicott this week involved charges against a high school youth and led to the circulation of rumors that are without foundation.

It was the responsibility of Juvenile Officer John Aldrich to make a thorough investigation and he did so.

Pinning the rumors upon one individual, against whom the officer found no evidence, is to be regretted.

Mt. Prospect trustees were placed on the pan a bit this week by some stories being circulated regarding road shoulders that should exist along Lincoln road. Property owners there would like to have their lawns extend clear to the "wagon tracks." The board members decided that autoists have the right to make use of a shoulder on which to park their car should the occasion arise.

The aldermen were very much surprised to hear a story that they had "bought off" the owner who took their side.

It is not unusual for a village official to be crticized, but when that criticism goes so far as to insinuate that a public official has been "bought off," we can understand why an alderman may say, "What's the use; just because a man agrees to take a public office does not mean he loses his self respect."

It is too bad that a public official has to withstand such treatment.

"Short and snappy" is an expression we like to use, but the Palatine village board meeting Monday evening may have been snappy after 2 hours spent in listening to complaints, but there was nothing short about it.

The minutes of last meeting were read at 1:15 a.m. A total of 8 ordinances were passed. What more can the public ask for their tax dollar?

There are 14 legal size sheets of shorthand notes awaiting to be transcribed.

Area Boy Scout Fund To Aid Camp Program

The Boy Scouts of America have a slogan —"Three-Fourths of Scouting Is Outing."

In the Northwest Suburban council that slogan is, at best, only three-fourths true.

Last year there were 300 youngsters who wanted to attend summer camp but couldn't.

With present overnight camping facilities, the council can offer a camping weekend in this area to any scout unit only once every 24 months.

TO MAKE camping truly "the heart of scouting," the council is launching a long-range campaign to expand camping facilities and build a sorely-needed council headquarters.

The kick-off date for the campaign in the Blackhawk district is Monday.

The district includes the towns of Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights, Prospect Heights and the school districts of Wilson and Elk Grove.

The drive is already in full steam in Park Ridge.

By June 15 it will start in the Algonquin district, including Des Plaines and Wheeling, the Skokie Valley district, and the Signal Hill district, which includes Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Barrington and Lake Zurich.

GOAL OF THE drive is $220,000 to be spent as follows: improvement of Camp Napowan, $52,210; overnight camp and training center, $90,000, and scout headquarters, $129,790.

Funds will be sought from 5 groups — business, industry, individuals, unit committees and parents of scouts. In each village a steering committee is being organized to collect from the first 3 groups, which make up the special gifts section.

In the Blackhawk district steering committee members are Albert A. Rose, chairman, John Randag, William P. Utermohlen Jr., L. E. Fischer, Fred R. Ainslie and Edward J. Emery, all of Arlington Heights, and R. J. Garofolo, Prospect Heights. The auditor will be F. Russell Clarke.

Additional members will be appointed in Mt. Prospect. Head of the unit committee, which solicits cub, scout and explorer troops, is John Clark. Mynderse H. Taylor will handle public relations.

Rose said that this will be the first public capital gifts campaign in the 30-year history of the council. Present facilities have been acquired through gifts from persons interested in scouting, a large share of them parents and former scouts. In addition, an estimated 25,000 hours of volunteer work has built up Camp Napowan, the council's summer camp near Wild Rose, Wis.

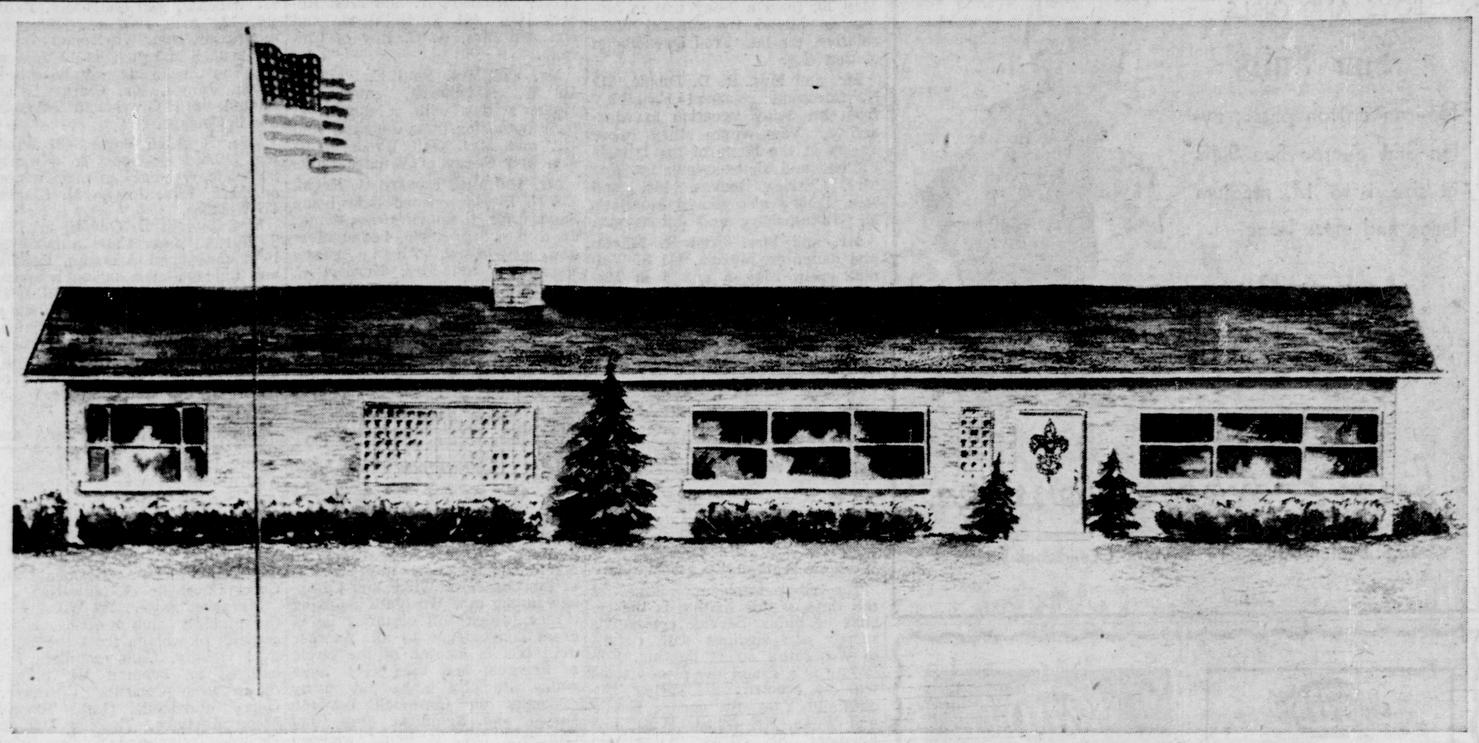
ROSE SAID donations may be in the form of cash or pledges, which may be redeemed over a 3-year period at any rate the giver decides.

Rose cited these facts in explaining the need for expansion:

1) By year's end, more than 7,000 boys will be active in council units. This represents a growth of 1,300 boys for the year. One forecast predicts 10,000 boys active by 1960.

2) Today 1,900 men and women serve as volunteer leaders. By 1960 there will be 3,300.

3) National statistics indicate that the Northwest Suburban council is one of the fastest growing in the nation.



THIS ARCHITECT'S SKETCH shows the permanent headquarters which the Northwest Suburban council of the Boy Scouts of America plans to build within 3 years. This month the council embarked on a long-range campaign to raise $220,000 to erect this building, to be located between Des Plaines and Park Ridge, and to improve overnight and summer camping facilities for scouts.

In addition to Veterans of World War II and auxiliaries, boy and girl scouts, eascouts, brownie troops, as well as school children will have a part in the parade, which starts from the South School at 10 a.m.

Services will be held in Memorial Park at Walnut and Fremont street.

Mayor Goedke, will be escorted by Police Chief Skoog. Fire Chief Winkelman will head the firemen contingent. Other contingents will be the members of the Lions Club. The firing squad of Merle Guild Post comprises 14 men.

Helicopter Service To Loop Predicted

Helicopters are here to stay, the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry believes, and has suggested in a letter to Mt. Prospect and other municipalities that heliport sites be designated now while there is still room.

Helicopter passenger service between major airports and the loop is now in effect, and the Association predicts service between the country towns to the loop is in the offing.

They suggest that plan and zoning commissions study the need and plan now to save suitable sites for heliports.

Special Budget Meeting Set Tuesday Night

Arlington Heights village board will hold a special meeting Tuesday night in the village hall to consider the 1956-57 budget exclusively.

VILLAGE MANAGER R. F. Buechner Tuesday released the proposed budget. It contains a summary of expenditures for the past 2 fiscal years, the requests of each department for 1956-57, the manager's recommendation on each request and a table of estimated receipts.

Also contained in the budget is the first announcement of the 1955 village assessed valuation. The 1955 figure is $47,194,117, an increase of nearly $10,900,000 over the previous figure of $36,313,-621.

This is an increase of approximately 30 per cent in 1 year.

The summary of expense estimates is $807,902.52, only $3,-624.52 more than the budget appropriation for 1955-56. Principal changes are:

General corporate fund dropped $36,392 from last year;

Water and sewer department rose $21,954;

Special tax levy funds rose $17,162.

UNUSUAL EXPENSE items for 1956-57 which the board will consider are provisions for 4 full-time firemen, Dutch elm disease control and a village master plan.

Buechner trimmed some departmental budgets, boosted others in his recommendations. Some of those he cut were the plan commission ($4,100), water and sewer department (more than $7,000), street department (more than $25,000) and police department (more than $2,600.)

Buechner's recommendations exceeded departmental requests for the department of account and finance (nearly $3,000) and the fire department ($16,800 added for 4 firemen not requested by department.) There are other minor changes in both directions in several departmental budgets.

Seize Slot Machines

Four slot machines were confiscated by county police in a night raid this week at Rolling Green country club near Arlington Heights. Gerald V. Marlatt, 30, of 311 S. Elmhurst st., Mt. Prospect, club manager, was arrested in the raid, lead by Capt. Norman Hawthorne of the Milwaukee ave. station.

Postpone Action On Village Appointments

Board To Wait Until New Village Manager Ordinance In Effect

The question of whether Arlington Heights Police Chief C. H. Skoog and Treasurer William Meyer should be reappointed was quietly shelved Tuesday night.

The board voted to postpone re-appointing village officials, including the 2 men, until the new village manager ordinance goes into effect.

Village Manager F. R. Buechner recommended in a letter to the board that appointments not be made now, although officials have usually been appointed May 1, the start of the fiscal year.

BUECHNER GAVE these reasons for his proposal:

1) "the custom or practice of the past has no legal basis in fact;"

2) "more particularly" because the village manager plan voted in last year will become effective "on or before the end of the current fiscal year," and

3) the existing village manager ordinance does not specify when the appointments shall be made.

Buechner asked the board to concur in his proposal to delay the appointments.

Without discussion, the board did so.

In effect, as 1 trustee said, all village appointed officials are now employed on a "month-to-month" basis.

WHILE PUBLIC officials deny that they had any intention of attempting to destroy our business," Clark said.

CLARK POINTED OUT that Consumers co. started business at its present site in 1953, before the present ordinance was enacted. The village contends that the company is operating an industry on land zoned for commercial usage, and is therefore operating illegally.

Clark estimated the value of Consumer co. buildings and improvements in Arlington Heights at about $100,000.

"We have spent many thousands of dollars and a great deal of effort in meeting all complaints and trying to anticipate others; the question has not been in our minds whether these complaints were justified, but rather what should we do to satisfy the community," Clark said.

He added, "We still stand ready to meet all reasonable objections, as well as a great many we may think are not reasonable."

that the chief and treasurer were asked to retire, private reports of such requests have come from numerous sources.

Since a public airing of the issue has been avoided, the full account probably won't be made known.

As there was no public discussion of Tuesday night's action, the effect of the circulation of petitions asking a public hearing of the charges against Chief Skoog probably won't be known.

At a special meeting last week the petitions, with 876 names, were accepted and placed on file.

FOLLOWING THE meeting, Buechner stated that the new policy of keeping officials on a month-to-month basis did not apply to any specific official.

Asked if the age (58) of Chief Skoog had any relation to the question of his retirement, Buechner replied:

"It is not a question of age. When a man has worked 30 years, he should avail himself of his pension."

The manager also said that he had "no bill of complaint" against Skoog.

Consumers Co. Blasts Village

The Consumers co., which operates a cement-batching plant on Northwest hwy., issued a public statement this week protesting village efforts to remove the business from Arlington Heights.

CONSUMERS CO. president H. A. Clark said the company has gone "all the way" in trying to eliminate local complaints against the batching plant.

Clark cited the spending of thousands of dollars to install equipment reducing dust, noise and traffic hazard. He pointed out that during the past few weeks the company has removed 4 old silos which were objected to as unsightly and has provided paved parking space for waiting vehicles.

"This was to meet the objection of those who felt that our handling of traffic, even though according to law, nevertheless constituted some hazard. The village did not indicate, when we asked their permission to do this,

Wilson School Election May 26

Two propositions to build a $120,000 addition and raise the educational tax rate will be on the ballot for a special election Saturday, May 26 in Wilson school district.

William I. Casteel, president of the board of education, said that the addition would consist of 4 classrooms in a wing to be added at the south of the present building and an all-purpose room to be added onto the east side of the building.

Casteel said that at least 3, and possibly 4, of the new classrooms, would be needed by next fall. One will be occupied by the fourth grade, now in a basement room, another will be used when the present combined fifth-sixth grade is split and there may be a second first grade started.

There are now more than 40 pupils in the second grade and it may become necessary to split this grade into 2 classes, Casteel added.

The brick, one-floor additions will be paid for by a 20-year bond issue, to be paid off beginning Jan. 1, 1958.

THE TAX rate measure would increase the rate the maximum percentage allowed on a single referendum. The rate would jump from .75 to .96 and yield an estimated $9,500 more in revenue.

Polls will open at noon and close at 7 p.m. May 26. Voters in Virginia Terrace will vote at 1215 N. Race st. and all other voters will vote at the school.

In fall, 1954 the district completed a $40,000 project which gave the school 2 more classrooms, a combined teachers' room and library and various other facilities.

Show Increase

Tax rates for the townships of Elk Grove, Wheeling and Palatine were announced Tuesday. While increases were small they do not reflect the size of the tax bills that can be expected before the end of the month.

The rates apply on the new assessed valuations. Because land values were raised 11% and business property values were also increased by the assessor, it is fair to assume that nearly all tax bills will show an increase.

INCREASED VALUATIONS in the village of Arlington Heights has increased to such an extent that rates have dropped from 30c to 50c. The highest rate in School Dist. 25 is $3.784; the lowest is $3.35.

A comparison of 1954 and 1955 rates follow:

Arlington Heights	1954	1955
Sch. Dist. 25 in park	4.030	3.784
H. S. Dist. 214 in park	4.038	3.506
H. S. Dist. 214 no park	3.842	3.350
Sch. Dis. 24 H. S. Dist. 214, in park	3.446	2.946

Two New Sites Proposed For 'Unwanted' Water Tank

Two new sites for the unwanted water storage tank for Arlington Heights were proposed at the board meeting Tuesday night.

Trustee Forrest F. Davis said he had considered a dozen sites, but that most of them met with opposition from nearby residents.

The sites, he thought would not arouse residents are located on Ridge, 200 feet north of Oakton, adjacent to the Lutheran Old People's home and on the former Fessler farm on the south of the railway tracks, just east of Arlingdale subdivision.

A TRUSTEE will start negotiations for the purchase of the Ridge site, but the board made no decision on the type or capacity of the tank.

A lively debate between Mayor Albert Goedke and Trustee Richard Bronwell had the latter charging that the present requirement that new homes have catch basins violates the village code. Mayor Goedke said that he had told building Commissioner Fred Hammer, Jr. to require catch basins in residences although they are legally not required.

The mayor said his plumbing experience had shown him that catch basins (grease traps) are necessary to maintain an adequate flow in sewer mains. Bronwell claimed that major cities throughout the nation are now not requiring basins. The village attorney was asked to study the matter.

Other matters brought up included a letter from Prosecutor Stanley R. Billick in which he submitted his resignation, saying that his Chicago law practice made it impossible to continue. Assistant Prosecutor Sam L. Miller will replace him.

THE LONG-DORMANT zoning commission was revived with the appointment of William F. Meyer, village treasurer, as head.

Wilke rd. and Euclid st. entrances to Westgate will be closed to autos during racing season. The home owners association asked for the move "to protect our children from racetrack drivers" and the request was referred to the street department.

Sherwood residents who have filled in their drainage ditches will cause the village troubles in the future, a village engineer told the board. A trustee observed that he had never seen a rural area without ditches whereupon the manager was directed to confer with residents about reopening the ditches.

Construction of an estimated $500,000 in major buildings was approved; a fire station at $80,000, a community house and other structures at South park for $274,450, and a new 8-classroom wing for St. James Catholic school for an estimated $150,000. (AF

Suburban Firemen Expose 'Ambulance Chaser' Racket

Firemen from several suburban communities recounted their troubles with "ambulance-chasing" at a Palatine meeting Monday night.

The firemen were members of the Cook County Suburban Firemen's association and they directed their complaints at Capt. Robert Heese, of the traffic safety bureau of the sheriff's police.

His department is charged with supervision of ambulance and towing services.

Hesse was told that 1 ambulance service that operates from Chicago, Park Ridge and Des Plaines is apparently the cause of all complaints.

Firemen said this service had argued with other ambulances at the scene of an accident about which ambulance was to take a patient to the hospital.

CHARGES were also made that county policemen had called this service when there were other ambulance services available at less distance.

In one case, it was alleged, the county police had insisted on transferral of a patient from one ambulance to another.

Hesse asked that the incidents be put down "in black and white" and promised to take corrective action.

"The rule in all accident cases is that the closest ambulance should be called — whether it is a fire department, hospital or private ambulance," Hesse declared.

"The sheriff's police have no tie-up with any ambulance or towing service," he added.

FURTHER charges made by firemen concerned the alleged interception of police radio calls for commercial use.

Hesse did not know if there was a federal ruling to prohibit monitoring of the police radio by, for example, an ambulance service.

At his urging, the association voted to send a letter to the federal communication commission to get an opinion on monitoring "for ulterior purposes."

Palatine fire department was one of those which complained that the county police had called an ambulance from a considerable distance when a local service could have reached the scene much sooner.

Arlington Heights firemen said they had had no similar experiences, however. An investigation of "ambulance-chasing" is under way in the county grand jury.

Palatine Fire Chief Orville Helms introduced Mayor Howard Olsen, who welcomed the group to the village.

Westgate Community Association

The most important issue at the time of this writing is the results of Public Service company's survey and findings with regard to Westgate's street lighting. Following is a list of the places poles will be erected: SE corner Euclid and Yale, SE corner Euclid and Wilke, NE corner Wilke and Fremont, SE corner Wilke and Miner, NE corner Wilke and Campbell, SE corner Campbell and Reuter, NE corner Campbell and Yale, north side of Fremont at Reuter, south side of Fremont 1401 and 1407, SE corner St. James and Reuter, west side of Yale, north of Miner on existing pole, south side Miner between 1419 and 1421, SW corner Miner and Yale, east side of Reuter between 35 and 103, and NW corner of Miner and Reuter.

It should be noted that the association has nothing to do with the placing of these poles and that Public Service company's survey has deemed these spots as the proper places for effective lighting. This survey has been voted on and approved by Public Service company and there will be no changes made.

A reminder once again that the speed limit in Westgate is 20 MPH and with the warm months at hand and the children out in the streets, much to our despair, caution should be made to exercise this limit. An attempt is being made to stop the coming race track traffic from using these streets, so residents should certainly be careful.

Westgate is now boasting another mail box, thanks to the civic affair committee, headed by Roger Martinell. The new mail box is at the corner of Wilke and Campbell in the new Westgate shopping center, which will certainly be of great convenience to all. Another mail box is located at the circle at Fremont and Yale aves. Sidewalks are also being put in by residents on Campbell between Dwyer and Kennicott aves. and Campbell ave. is being widened from Ridge to Wilke.

The membership committee reports that to date there are 205 paid members in the association. The members are hard at work contacting non-members with the thought in mind that they may not have been contacted when the association was organized. Non-members wishing to join should contact Ray Herda, CL 5-2431, for further information. Membership cards are ready and will, in all probability be distributed this week.

The publicity committee, headed by Howard Pollitz, is to be congratulated on the wonderful job done on the Westgate directory and the very informative May newsletter. Howard has undertaken much of this work himself, which has been very time consuming.

The social committee has great hopes that everyone has set aside Saturday, June 9, which is the date of the first social function within the association. The street dance will undoubtedly be a great success and everyone is urged to participate.

VFW Tells Where Poppy Dime Is Spent

Commander Alex Angeloff of Veterans of Foreign Wars, post 981, has had many requests as to how the V.F.W. spends money collected in the annual sale of Buddy Poppies in Arlington Heights. The sale will be held this year from 5 p.m. May 18 thru 5 p.m. May 19.

"FIRST and most important," he said, "is the fact that of every dime collected, 5 cents stays right in the local community. We here on the community level know the needs and desires of those veterans who must have assistance.

"Two and one-half cents of the original dime goes to our own state and national V.F.W. rehabilitation service," the commander went on. "In a way, that is like keeping the money here in the community."

"The next item is probably the most heart-warming," Angeloff continued. "I speak of our V.F.W. National Home for widows and orphans at Eaton Rapids, Mich. Here is a home for the children and widows of our departed comrades and those who are not able to care for their own families.

"THAT leaves just one and one-half cents and this goes to pay the disabled veterans who made the poppies and for other necessary expenses in the campaign."

Musical Instruction Vital To Arlington School System

(This is the third in a special series of articles on Arlington Heights public schools.)

Arlington Heights public elementary schools will soon complete their first year of providing stringed instrument instruction as a part of the schools' regular music program.

Wind instrument instruction has been available for many years under the able direction of Harold Brunt. He can boast a 97-piece band which produces several fine concerts each year.

In addition, one of Brunt's students, Jerry Campbell, 41 S. Ridge, was recently selected by the Chicago Symphony orchestra as guest soloist for 2 children's concerts scheduled for next fall and winter.

Jerry, an eighth grade student, had his first lesson with Brunt 4 years ago, and his recent honor is a great tribute to his talent and hard work and to Brunt's ability as a teacher.

MELVIN KASEN was selected to get the stringed instrument program under way last fall.

Kasen came to Arlington Heights from Gibraltar high school near Fish Creek, Wis., where he spent 8 years as director of instrumental and choral music in the public schools. He also had the opportunity to work closely with the summer productions of the Door county Peninsula symphony. The symphony is conducted annually by Dr. Thor Johnson of the Cincinnati symphony orchestra.

Half of the new instructor's time this year has been devoted to vocal instruction in the lower grade schools and to special choruses at the junior high school.

The other half day has been devoted to the 40 beginning string students. Most of these students have chosen to begin their instruction on the violin, although they may be encouraged to select other instruments as their number and proficiency grow.

According to Kasen, the school system can support an elementary school orchestra of between 50 and 80 students. This, of course, will take several years to develop, but the enthusiasm portrayed by both the students and teacher assures a bright future for the program.

STUDENTS ARE permitted to begin instruction as early as 4th grade. A liberal instrumental rental plan is available for students who wish to try their aptitude and interest before buying an instrument.

Parents who want to learn more about the program may call Kasen at the junior high school, CL 3-6100.

Eastwood Events

As all who attended the Eastwood meeting last week know, it was a great success. The newly elected officers are: Norm Hoym, president; Lorraine Gustafson, vice president; Florence Johnson, secretary and Homer Nielsen, treasurer. The directors are Frank Patton, Norman Dewey, Haldar Carlsen, Richard Vlack, Jack Anderson and Ben Yunker. The proposed amendment. which would have reduced the number of meetings, was voted on and defeated. Therefore, in the coming year, as in the past, the association will meet each month. The outgoing president, Chuck Bennett, was presented with a handsome wall plaque from the association in appreciaton of his services. During the summer months no meetings will be held. The officers and directors, however, will meet each month to keep in touch with the problems concerning Eastwood and to plan next year's programs. The hostesses Tuesday evening were the wives of the outgoing officers and directors.

Henry and Ellen Wallace, 722 N. Dryden, returned home last Thursday from a months motor trip through Georgia and Florida. They visited Ellen's mother in Georgia. While on the beach at St. Petersburg they happened to meet Mr. and Mrs. Henry Raasch, who formerly lived in Eastwood, but now make their home in Florida.

Ed Neas returned last Tuesday from a convention of the Illinois Synod of the United Lutheran church. Ed was the statistician for the convention.

John and Claire McPherson enjoyed a nice visit with John's father in Craig, Neb., when they drove out to help celebrate his 80th birthday. Upon returning to Eastwood, John Jr., one of their 3 boys, had to have a tonsillectomy. By now he is home and well recovered.

Last Saturday the Dennis family, 402 N. Dryden, had a combined birthday celebration for Barbara and Graham Wetzel, daughter and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis. Their birthdays both come this month. They also celebrated Cynthia Wetzel's first birthday.

Last Friday Mary Lou, daughter of the Ben Yunkers of 315 N. Dryden, celebrated her seventh birthday. Her sister, Suzanne took her first communion Sunday, so a large family gathering was had in her honor in the afternoon for a buffet supper.

Nancy, daughter of Jean and James Rogers, celebrated her 10th birthday a week ago by having 10 of her girl friends in for lunch and a theatre party.

Carolyn Neas and other members of girl scout troop 23 enjoyed an overnight last Friday night at Camp Pine. They were prepared surprised with clear weather.

Judy, daughter of Joe and Evelyn Babs, 507 N. Douglas, is graduating from St. Patrick academy, Des Plaines, this June. Before the prom this Saturday night she is having a coketail party in her home for 22 guests.

Judy Fitzpatrick, daughter of Stu and Jane, was honored by being elected vice president of her junior class of Arlington high school for the year 1956-57.

Eastwood is well represented in Little League leaders this year. Bill Heitz and Jack Muti are Pony league managers; Russ Walters and Stu Fitzpatrick are major league managers, Joe Orgler is a coach, George Tuttle is the player agent, Bill Inman is assistant to the president, and Jane Fitzpatrick is in charge of public relations. Parents appreciate the time these folks, as well as all the other leaders, are giving toward the training of these boys in good sportsmanship. Get out starting this Saturday and give them and all the Little Leaguers support at all of their games.

County Authority Wages War On Suburban Slums!

by TOM BRENNAN

(This is the second in a special series of articles on the work of the Cook county Housing authority.)

The Cook county Housing authority is showing several communities in the southern part of the county how to rid themselves of a civic cancer—slums.

The politer term for slums is "blighted areas," and they are found in suburbs as well as in the core city.

The 2 communities where the Housing authority has taken the lead in the fight against slums are Robbins and Chicago Heights, the latter a town near the size of Des Plaines.

A study in 1952 found that in one section of Chicago Heights, 66 per cent of the homes were in need of major repairs; 40 per cent had rats on the premises.

Robbins, a small community, was characterized by a member of the CCHA as " a hodgepodge that grew without planning."

The 1955 report of the Authority points out how the 2 towns got that way:

Conditions such as these (in Chicago Heights) have grown up over the years. Overcrowding, long-prevalent, speeded up during and after World War II with the general housing shortage. Shortage of housing, coupled with lack of or poor enforcement of building codes, resulted in the conversion of structures meant for 1 or 2 families into units for double or triple that number . . .

Of Robbins the report noted:

Because such small communities do not ordinarily have building codes, number of jerry-built shacks have sprung up over the years. Poorly built to begin with these have aged quickly. Too, small communities ordinarily can afford few municipal facilities.

Because it has lacked sewer and water systems, Robbins has not attracted private developers and industrial concerns. And because it is small, it has not easily been able to raise sufficient money to install modern facilities.

USING THE processes of land acquisition outlined in the first article of this series, the authority bought vacant and blighted land, then sold much of the land to private developers.

Now 300 dwelling units are nearly ready for occupancy. With federal aid, 100 public housing units were built and occupied in 1954. Soon 200 more units will be erected by private builders.

To go along with the building program, stringent zoning and building codes were adopted.

The Chicago Heights redevelopment project, not as far along as of Robbins, will be similar.

Turning to the northwest suburbs, there are at present no serious cases of blight in this area.

Villages such as Arlington Heights, Palatine and Mt. Prospect have had well-enforced building and zoning codes for several decades.

THE CHICAGO and North Western towns were quite small until the period after World War II and the older central parts of the towns have retained their small-town flavor.

Many of the older generation live in these large homes and take pride in their well-kept appearance.

But on the fringe of each village's business can be found a handful, or more, [sewer, of] ... shackle homes.

These homes represent a paradox in urban development: the worst-looking places are sitting on the highest-priced land in town!

The business district of each town must expand or die before the encroachment of the shopping center. The run-down properties near the center of town will be sold to businessmen — as soon as owners find a buyer who will pay the usual asking price of $500 a front foot.

A SECOND paradox: if there were more blight near the center of the villages, the business districts could expand easier. This curious theory is predicated on the belief that retail stores usually won't displace a valuable residential area.

In fact, as the Mt. Prospect village fathers recently pointed out, the shortage of land for commercial development is one of the more urgent problems facing local merchants.

Local Firms Win Contracts For New School

Arlington Heights firms have been awarded contracts totaling more than $30,000 for furnishings for the addition to Arlington high school.

A variety of equipment is now flowing out of the Arlington Seating co., which is manufacturing $22,980 worth of furniture for the school. The local firm has contracts for the following:

A thousand table-arm chairs at $11 each, 356 auditorium seats at $20 each, 30 typing tables at $60 each, 12 library tables at $30 each, 180 choral and band room chairs at $6 each, 25 secretarial desks at $16.80 each and 200 cafeteria chairs at $6 each.

SCHILLER Carpet co., also of Arlington Heights, was low bidder on vertical blinds for 112 window units at $8,000. John W. Schaff, business manager of the school, said that the aluminum blinds are of a new type and will be much easier to maintain than venetian blinds. Two local firms are now bidding on carpeting in the board room and on furniture for a teachers' room.

Milburn Bros., a Mt. Prospect contracting firm, has been awarded a $2,600 contract to repave the sidewalk on the west side of Ridge opposite the school. B7)

Now Pay High School Student Fee In Advance

Arlington high school pupils will pay their student fees before the start of school next fall, the board of education decided this week.

The change of policy was made in order to permit classes to start on the first day of school, according to Superintendent H. L. Slichenmyer. It will also free teachers from clerical duties.

Fees may be paid from August 20 through 31 and bus and book cards will be issued on payment of fees. The school remains open for registration all summer.

COMMITTEES appointed at the Monday night meeting of the board were as follows: Mrs. Alma Fontayne and John Kappa, education; K. E. Dougan and W. H. Spomer, [illegible], and Joseph Brant and William Hartman, [illegible]. President George H. Sheppard is a member of all committees. B7)

Prison Award Presented To Federal Units

IT WAS given in recognition of the outstanding contribution to the field of corrections in the founding, editing and publishing of the "Federal Probation Quarterly."

This journal is distributed throughout the United States and to 56 foreign countries without cost to law enforcement and correctional people as a public service.

The award was accepted for the U. S. bureau of prisons by Myrl E. Alexander, assistant director, and for the administrative office of the U. S. courts by Victor H. Evjen, editor of the journal. (B7

OLD center-post agitator WAY

Lake County Supervisors Reject NTA Drag Strip

Lake county board of supervisors Wednesday halted an attempt by the National Timing association to build a drag racing course between Buffalo Grove and Long Grove.

By an overwhelming 30-0 vote in a Waukegan meeting the supervisors refused a request by the NTA to rezone 100 acres of farm land to commercial usage.

The NTA had option on the Irving Stahl farm on Elmhurst rd. If approved for commercial usage, the NTA planned to construct a mile-long drag course with bleachers and concession stands on the Stahl farm.

The board of supervisors Wednesday acted on the recommendation of the Lake county zoning board of appeals. The zoning board recommended unanimously to reject the request for rezoning after a recent meeting at the Half Day fire house where over 200 area residents turned out in protest.

Under president Harold Wilder, of Prairie View, the Kildeer Civic association led the assault on the NTA proposal. (B7

Invite Local Firms To Bid On High School

The board of education of Arlington high school district has invited local businessmen to participate in the construction of the $3.5 million Prospect high school.

John W. Schaff, school business manager, has specifications available for parties interested in bidding and also has a list of contractors who have already indicated an interest in bidding.

BIDS are now being taken on 5 separate contracts, which total an estimated $3.1 million. In addition to the general contract, there are contracts for plumbing, electrical, painting and decorating and heating and ventilating work.

Bids will be opened at a special board meeting June 6. B7)

Open Traffic Survey In Chicago, Suburban Area

A six-months traffic survey during which 200,000 motorists will be interviewed throughout the Chicago metropolitan area got under way last weekend on the Congress Street expressway.

Interviewers will check motorists on major highways and at key intersections in Chicago and suburbs. The Chicago Area Transportation Study, which is conducting the survey, estimates that 600 drivers will be interviewed hourly day and night but "no motorist will be unwillingly detained."

In addition to the roadside interviews, the organization also is surveying 60,000 households among the 6 million persons who live within a 30-mile radius of Chicago's loop. A third survey covers truck and taxi operators.

All information is anonymous and confidential. A preliminary survey report is expected next spring with the final one due in 1958.

The Transportation Study has a $1,850,000 appropriation for the surveys, sponsored by the U.S. Bureau of Public roads, Illinois Division of Highways, Cook County Highway Department and the City of Chicago. (B7

Thursday evening, May 3, troop 19, under the leadership of Mrs. J. Huskey and Mrs. C. Loechl held its annual mother-daughter tea in the basement of St. James school, Arlington Heights. Seventeen girls participated with 16 mothers and 2 grandmothers in attendance. Mrs. John Crawford, neighborhood chairman, was guest of honor. Each received a carnation corsage. Party arrangements were under the direction of Mrs. W. Hawley and Mrs. D. Hansen. Open-faced sandwiches, cake and coffee were served.

This was the last official function of troop 19 for 17 of its 19 members are June graduates and will be entering senior scouting this fall. The other 2 girls, Catherine Flanagan and Mickey Peterson, will continue their scouting with troop 360 under Mrs. J. Murphy.

Harrah, Mrs. D. Hansen, Mrs. J. Elgas and Miss Judy Hansen asssisted with the badge program. Mrs. D. Krebsbach was cookie sale chairman. The cookie sale netted the troop approximately $20 which will be used to help organize the new senior troop.

Entertainment portion of the evening program was entirely planned by the girls.

Troop 24

In completing requirements for Child Care badges, troop 360 visited the brownie troop under the leadership of June Hetzel and taught the brownies a number of songs with gestures. Brownies served the scouts and leaders fancy cookies.

Working as a troop for the back yard camper badge, scouts cooked lunch consisting of hamburger, biscuits, cocoa, brown betty and walking salad with tin can utensils, which they made themselves. They also made and used waterproof matches, trench candles and buddy burners.

Spending their meeting time in their back yard camp, at the home of Mrs. Robert Buckeridge, scouts each sketched a map of the route from St. James school to their camp and also an artistic map of their camp, coloring in trees, bushes and flowers. Janet Hipp recently entered the troop as a new scout.

Arlington Juniors Win First In District Contest

The book was made up of newspaper articles about the club's various activities during the past year and included a copy of the year's club history.

Awards are given to the books on a point system. Points are earned mainly for news coverage and for the value of the publicity to the philanthropic work of the club, both local and statewide.

Arlington Juniors give a nursing scholarship annually to an outstanding senior student at Arlington Heights high school. The club also supports the Braille classroom of the Wheeling school and contributes to scholarships for teachers of exceptional children.

Donna Gould Is Bride Of George K. Gunder

In a 2 o'clock ceremony Saturday, April 28, in Gurnee Community church, Gurnee, Miss Donna Lee Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Gould of Libertyville, became the bride of George K. Gunder, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Gunder. Lanark lane, Palatine.

Rev. Bruce Neal officiated at the double ring ceremony and a reception for 200 guests followed in the church social room.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of imported lace and nylon tulle featuring a scoop neckline accented with iridescent sequins and a fitted bodice. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of tiny hearts made of pearls and iridescent sequins, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Sally Morgan of Libertyville was maid of honor and Miss Trudy Koppitz of Sylvan Lake was bridesmaid. Both attendants wore gowns of turquoise crystallette and carried colonial bouquets of pink tea roses.

Ronald Ramstedt of Palatine was best man for Mr. Gunder and serving as usher was Edward Gunder, brother of the bridegroom.

Linnie Sedgwick, niece of the groom, dressed in a pink floor-length gown, was flower girl and Fritzie Bradke, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer. Bill Ehnert sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" while Fred Faassen played the organ for the ceremony.

Mrs. Gould witnessed her daughter's wedding in a dusty rose gown with white accessories and a corsage of white roses. Mrs. Gunder chose a navy blue lace dress with light blue accessories and wore a yellow rose corsage.

Upon returning from a southern bound honeymoon, the new Mr. and Mrs. Gunder will reside in their new home in McHenry Shores, McHenry. Mr. Gunder attended the University of Illinois and Northwestern university and is employed with the Pure Oil Research Co. in Crystal Lake. Mrs. Gunder is a former employee of Abbott Laboratories, North Chicago.

Community Concert Artist To Be Soloist With Symphony May 20

James de la Fuente, violinist, will be featured soloist at Northwest Symphony's spring concert next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in Maine township high school auditorium. Fuente, with Herbert Stessin, pianist, opened the Des Plaines-Park Ridge 1955-56 Community Concert season last fall.

James de la Fuente is well known to concert goers throughout North America. He has appeared from San Diego to St. Johns New Foundand, from Key West to Seattle. He is the veteran of solo performances with the New York City Symphony orchestra, and the orchestras of Atlanta, Bridgeport, Baton Rouge, Little Rock, Terre Haute and Spokane, among others. Last season he appeared as soloist with the St. Louis symphony under Vladimir Golschman. Born in New York, he was brought up in Georgia, won a series of National Federation of Music Club competitions and a 6-year fellowship at the Juillard graduate school where he studied under the late great Albert Spalding.

An athlete as well as musician, de la Fuente was an instructod of commando tactics during the war, while his program of classical music, known as "Concert Time," received one of the highest ratings in the Pacific Theater. A horseman and member of the sheriff's posse at his home in Spokane, he also conducts that city's performances of light opera.

De la Fuente plays the Montaguana violin, dated 1723, on which Albert Spalding played his American debut performance and many of his subsequent concerts. At his death Spalding bequeathed the instrument to his friend and former pupil.

In 1948 James de la Fuente and Herbert Stessin, well known pianist, pooled their individual careers to form a concert duo and have established themselves as popular favorites on the American concert stage.

Tickets for Sunday's concert may be purchased at the door.

Explorer Scouts To Sail July 6 On Philmont Expedition

Some places still remain for explorer scouts to take part in the annual Philmont expedition to the 127,000 acre ranch owned by the Boy Scouts of America, located at Cimarron, N. M. The group will leave Friday, July 6, aboard the luxury streamliner, the El Capitan. Upon their arrival at the ranch they will spend 4 days in orientation, instruction in outdoor skills, "toughening up" for the trails and planning for the expedition which will follow. After completing plans they will embark on an 8-day mountain hiking and camping adventure, where they will have a chance to camp in wilderness campsites, pan for gold in an authentic prospector's mine, study archaeology, and climb several peaks.

Total cost for the expedition is $100. Interested explorers, or their parents, are urged to contact John W. Fanning at the office of the Northwest Suburban council, Park Ridge, Talcott 3-4197. (B7

Illinois Toll Road Group Makes Progress Report

The first quarterly report of the Illinois Toll Highway commission, released this week, indicates that the project to provide 193 miles of modern toll highways by December, 1958, is generally on schedule.

Charles L. Dearing, executive director, summarized the progress made since the sale of $415,000,000 of revenue bonds on January 23, as follows:

1) AN administrative organization and staff was estabished within a few weeks time as well as principal offices at 20 N. Wacker dr., Chicago.

2) Reduction of the commission's cash balance, previously established at $26,000,000 to $1,000,000, permitting the reinvestment of an additional $25,000,000. The commission's reinvestment program has reduced the net interest cost on its bonds from $42,636.99 per day to $14,232.38 as of March 31.

3) Decision to build a prototype bridge of prestressed concrete as a possible model for 200 such bridges. The "assembly line" bridge is expected to reduce bridge construction time by 75 per cent and save $5,000,000 in costs.

4) STEPPING up of land acquisition procedures to reduce total land acquisition time by several months and insure the availability of a full construction season to meet schedules.

5) Field engineering work is generally well along wtth a large percentage of the center line of the roadway established and staked out.

6) Policy and regulations to control relocation and realignment of the various utility facilities has been established and adopted.

7) The commission expects to award its first construction contracts during July on a package basis to include grading, paving, and structures. Contract sections will vary from three to eight miles in length and from $2,000,000 to $10,000,000 in amount. First construction activities will probably be in rural areas.

8) TOTAL expenditures from January 23 to March 31, totaled $410,707.53, divided as follows: preliminary expense, $11,028.47; right of way, $4,930; engineering, $283,723.60; and legal and administrative, $111,025.46.

The commission has budgeted a total of $112,979,700 for expenditure during the current year as follows: preliminary expense, $1,300,000; administrative and legal, $682,700; engineering, $10,597,000; right of way, $30,000,000; construction, $50,000,000; and financial expense, $20,400,000.

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

On discs this week, you're in for an unusual treat of Spanish zarzueas by Montilla Long-Playing Records, which specialize in offering on lp complete operettas by leading Spanish composers, admirably performed by the Chamber Orchestra of Madrid and featuring such brilliant singers as the great baritone Luis Sagi-Vela, the brilliant young soprano Dolores Perez and the fine basso Ramon Alonso. The zarzuela is usually of comic or romantic theme, but is often used to satirize or delineate a certain kind of behavior or social outlook, as, for example, in the wonderful Montilla discing of "La Gran Via."

One of these discs is Montilla FM 66, Manuel Penella Moreno's witty comic operetta "Don Gil de Alcala," the plot of which relates how a clever adventurer wins the hand of his beloved by pretending to be of noble birth. A second, "La Monteria" by the gifted Spanish composer Jacinto Guerrero, takes the theme of justifying a commoner's love for a nobleman, since the reverse is quite permissible. The third Montilla 12-inch album presents Federico Moreno Torroba's famous, beautifully melodious "Luisa Fernanda," one of the best known of all zarzuelas. The singing and orchestral playing are of high artistic order, and all three lps feature admirably realistic hi-fi sound. You needn't know a word of Spanish to enjoy them. (Bill

ARLINGTON GREENS

Twenty-two couples gathered last Saturday night around the festive tables of the Old Orchard country club to celebrate the end of the bridge season with a banquet and award prizes to the winning partners.

To the winners, Walter and Mary Dahl, went a set of steak knives. Second prize, of a kit of barbecue tools, was presented to Bill and Shirley Willy and the Hultgresn, Chuck and Dell, went home with a bath scale for third prize. The "best defensive" players were Earl and Alice Nichols, who were given an alarm clock for their bridge abilities during the season:

Members appeared to be unanimous that it was a grand meal, giving top billing to ham and turkey served family style. Best thing about it, said some, was that everyone was able to eat his own meal and none of the bridge players had to play dummy.

Birthday

The Karl Buttstadts observed 2 family anniversaries within a week. The first was Karl's birthday Sunday, April 29, and the second was the 35th wedding anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Buttstadt of Chicago.

Among Greens' youngsters who marked their first communion with parties were Janet Zimmer, Diane Ravas, Linda Loos and Susan Johnson. They all made their first communion Sunday in St. James Catholic church.

Diane Schlack, daughter of Ed and Lenore, was one year old May 10, and her relatives didn't let the occasion pass unnoticed. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kaestner, Walter Jr. and Diane's great aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schlack, brought gifts and helped blow out the single candle on the cake.

Bowling

Arlington Greens keglers will assemble for a banquet May 26 at Hartmann house, Wheeling. The Rales boasting a record of 67 victories and 35 losses, with 2 weeks to go, enjoy the role of favorites to take the trophy. Not far behind are the Bust Pinners who have a 57-45 slate. The R-F's appear a cinch for third prize with 55½ matches won and 46½ lost. Individually, Jack O'Neil tops the list with 245 pins in the men's division and Alice Nichols is the leading woman bowler with 210.

As a prelude to the bridge dinner, Rosemary and Gordon Baer had a cocktail party. On hand were Emily and John Coward, Shirley and Bill Willy, Marge and Jim Baker, Anne and Bob McLean, Jean and Gary Waffle, Lorraine and Al Loos and Jane Brown. Jane's husband missed it as he was out of town.

Visit

Richard Gardner, former acting president of the Arlington Greens association, was a recent visitor to his old stamping grounds. He dined in the home of Jean and Ray Thorsen after a trip from his present residence in Pennsylvania. The Flodines, also ex-Greens inhabitants, live in Pennsylvania and keep in regular touch with the Gardners, according to Richard.

Anne and Chuck Freund, Ned and Beth Shanahan and Norma and Dee Kemp went to the Jaycee state convention May 5 in Rockford. Shanahan is Chicago president of the Jaycees. After their return the Shanahans gave a buffet dinner in their home for 40 guests in honor of Ned's brother, Jim, who plans to marry June 30.

This column reported last week that guests at an outdoor birthday party for little Mike Coolidge feasted on roasted coals. Believe us, that was a printer's error. Who'd go all the way to Deer Grove to eat coals, anyway?

Chill Of The Cold War Forcing Nudists To Keep Their Clothes On

by BILL DILLINGHAM

The chill of the cold war is forcing nudists to keep their clothes on.

West Berlin's nudists are complaining that communism is standing in the way of their sunshine vitamins. They openly claim to be more interested in caring for health than in sharing the wealth.

The most desirable locations for nudist activity lie in and beyond the suburbs of East Berlin. But Western zone residents do not have the confidence in communist authorities to practice their "sport" there. As one former nudist put it, "If I'm going to be arrested, I at least want to have my clothes on when it happens."

If it were not for this single fear, nudist club authorities believe that membership in their outings would increase threefold. But as things stand now, they just do not want to be caught with their pants down.

THE RESULTS of the Geneva conference were disappointing to Berlin's nudists. With the unification of Germany this sunshine sport would have become of major interest to Berliners.

The problem as it stands today centers around the lack of a lake in the West Berlin area. Very few people are interested in joining one of the city's 3 nudist clubs unless they can combine swimming with their D vitamins.

An air lift was created to sidestep Soviet policy, but building an artificial lake for nudists is not on the agenda of allied plans just yet. Without German reunification, therefore, the problem seems almost insolvable.

Germany is a country with many nudist-minded people. For years it has practiced this "cult" with legal and social approval. Before World War II, nudist propaganda was at its height in Germany. The so-called "nudist's dream," if it can be proved what nudists really dream about, is a visit to Westerland on the island of Sylt.

THIS GERMAN island, lying just off the west coast of Denmark, is highy developed to catch the nudist trade. It has a casino, restaurants and a fine beach. Every travel bureau in Europe arranges trips to Sylt. Huge advertising posters with sketches (not photos) of its attractions are displayed by agencies in London. Paris and Rome.

But West Berliners, or at least the poorer ones, cannot afford such lengthy transport out of the city to their North Sea nudist Utopia.

The Geneva conference results quashed all immediate hopes of solving the nudist problem in Berlin itself. It is certain that the Big Four were not aware of the hardships they were imposing.

Bill Carle of Hollywood, Cal., America's newest sacred singing sensation, will appear in person in Arlington Heights at the Junior high school cafeteria, Tuesday, May 22, beginning at 7:30. The auditorium is located at 301 South st.

Carle, who for many years has been singing around the world, recently gave up a life of fame on Broadway in order to devote his time and talents to the presentation of sacred music. Gifted with a rich bass voice, he holds the record on Broadway for consecutive performances. While master of ceremonies at the Billy Rose Diamond Horseshoe he had a consecutive run of over 3,000 performances.

HE WAS the first "Daddy" for the Fannie Brice radio characterization of "Baby Snooks". He was featured soloist on the ABC network "Hour of Faith," and the CBS "Church of the Air," in addition to many other radio and TV appearances. His recordings have had wide distribution and popularity.

Carle has given 2 command performances at the White House and on several other occasions was featured singer for White House musical functions.

During a concert tour abroad he gave a command performance before Royalty in Great Britain.

His musical career was climaxed in 1948 when the Metropolitan Opera Co. offered him a 5-year contract as a Wagnerian basso.

He was first recognized as one of the great bass singers of this generation when he appeared as guest soloist with the Chicago Symphony orchestra performing Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, and with the New York Philharmonic and Toscanini and the NBC Symphony.

IN THE YEARS that followed he found himself singing in the Starlight room of the Waldorf-Astoria, 3 editions of the Ziegfeld Follies and with Milton Berle in "Spring in Brazil."

Carle was trained at the famous Wisconsin Conservatory of Music, the Chicago Musical college, and the American Operatic laboratory.

He sang to one audience of 30,000 persons in a great open-air mass rally in Belfast, Ireland. On 3 different occasions he sang request musicales at the boyhood home of President Eisenhower in Abilene, Kan.

His sacred presentations include a variety of selections known and loved the world over. The musicale is open to the public and there is no admission charge. (ACM

Parents Of The Deaf Form Society To Aid Pre-School Children

The newly formed Parents of the Deaf society for northwest suburbs of Chicago met in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Vernon R. Boman of Arlington Heights May 17. Purpose of the meeting was to discuss the opening of a school room for deaf children in the area. Parents from the Northwest suburbs at the meeting all have deaf children from 3 to 5 years old. Since the only facility for educating these tots, Bell School in Chicago, is no longer able to accept children from the suburbs, parents have banded together to try and work out a school program for this area.

School superintendents have shown interest in the project and Park Ridge has decided to present the problem to its school board. Parents are grateful to those superintendents who have been co-operative, because the sooner a deaf child begins his education, the sooner he will be able to take his place in a hearing world as a well-adjusted personality.

"The handicap of deafness is essentially a language handicap, because, not hearing, the child is deprived of the easy, natural method of getting and using language symbols that the hearing child has" saod members of the society. "Although the problem is a great one, it can be overcome, and deaf children can and do acquire language, both in the oral and written form. The success that is obtained in training deaf child to develop language skills depends mainly on the training he is given, and on the time when it is given to him. Language is a growth; so training can and should start before the child is of grade-school age," they added.

PODS extend an invitation to anyone interested in problems of deafness to attend any of their meetings. Anyone who knows of a teacher for the deaf interested in teaching a pre-school class would be helpful if he or she would call Mrs. Boman at CL 3-5625.Any assistance in educating their children that the PODS can obtain will be greatly appreciated. Two New Commercial Buildings On The Way

Arlington Heights village board last week authorized permits for 2 commercial buildings.

Rudolph Stein will erect a 31x24 building of brick at 17 S. Evergreen which he will use for his store and taxi stand. There will be parking space for 17 cars. He has been located at 109 N. Evergreen many years.

Kermit J. Bressner was given a permit to erect a building on the lot adjacent to Master Electric and Radio Service, 1416 E. Northwest highway, that will be used by that firm. Off-street parking will be provided for 6 cars.

Attorney Thal informed the board that he had received a dedication pat that will permit the extension of West Sigwalt st. to Westgate.

Trustee Hoover suggested that the Arlington police department take advantage of the special classes that Sheriff Lohman has organized for the benefit of the departments of suburban police. He said at present there are only 21 villages represented.

Arlington park district recently accepted for park purposes tracts of land in Virginia Terrace, Westgate and Stolzner subdivision. The village will retain title to 10,000 sq. ft. in the north corner of Virginia Terrace park as the possible site for future well and pump house. Residents of the area have given their consent to such a use.

The Douglas street well is expected to be in operation in about 2 weeks. The well has yielded from 1050 to 1250 gallons per minute, which is in excess of its expected capacity. A booster pump may not be needed.

Assurance was given that a sidewalk would be constructed by property owners in the north side of 1000 block on W. Campbell.

The street department received bids for the spring pickup of rubbish from Laseke Disposal Service, $900; from Arlington Disposal Service, $775. The contract was let to the Arlington Disposal.

An ordinance was adopted regarding the moving and relocation of old residences. (A

Arlington Heights Family Hospitalized By Collision

Donald Conley, 32, of 417 Lincoln lane, Arlington Heights, his wife and 2 children, who were injured in an automobile accident Friday, were reported in fair condition Wednesday at St. Therese hospital, Waukegan.

Conley and his wife, Delores, 33, suffered multiple injuries in the 3-car accident on rte. 72, a quarter of a mile west of rte. 83.

Hospital spokesmen did not specify injuries suffered by the children, Deborah Jo, 6, and 7-month-old Donald Jr.

State police said a car driven by Robert Frazier, 29, of Meadowdale was passing several other vehicles when his car collided with one driven by Mrs. Conley. The Conley auto then was struck by another vehicle, driven by Chester Baresel of Dundee, police said.

Frazier who was injured received a ticket for being on the wrong side of the road. Baresel was uninjured.

IN ANOTHER 3-CAR accident last weekend at the intersection of rte. 58 and Barrington rd., 3 suburban residents were injured.

St. Joseph hospital in Elgin yesterday reported that one of the injured, Norman Karow, 53, of 438 Garden st., Park Ridge, was "coming along nicely." The others, Leroy Cox, 51, of Addison was discharged from the hospital Tuesday and the third driver, Frank Campbell, 31, of Evanston, was not admitted to the hospital.

State police said Cox was driving north on Barrington rd. and failed to stop for the stop sign. His car was struck by Campbell's, traveling east on rte. 58, and then by Karow's auto which was going west on rte. 58.

Cox was given a ticket for failing to stop, police said.

Mammoth Air Show At O'Hare Saturday

The largest air show in Chicago's history will be presented Saturday when open house activities are held at O'Hare air force in Park Ridge from noon to 4:30 p.m.

Mass flyovers of jet and multi-engine aircraft, high speed jet passes, and more than 20 static display aircraft will be exhibited.

The 150-piece University of Wisconsin marching band will make a spectacular appearance marching in formation from a giant C-124 Globemaster.

Aerial demonstrations will include a midair refueling operation 1500 feet above the field, flyovers of SAC B-47's, and drab chute landings, formation take-offs, and high speed passes by Air Force jets.

ANOTHER EVENT will feature Betty Madigan, popular recording star. Miss Madigan will be garbed in an air force flying unit, helmet, and parachute pack and given a ride in a T-33 jet trainer.

Static ground exhibits include many of the latest jet fighter planes, a B-47 and KC-97 from Strategic Air Command, an operational mock-up of an ejection seat, and various types of electronic gear.

Jet pilots and crew chiefs will be on hand to personally exhibit the F-86D, F-84, F-89, and T-33 jets. The J-57 engine, which powers the F-100 and B-52, will also be displayed.

All air force units at O'Hare, including the 2471st air reserve flying center and the Illinois Air national guard will participate.

The air force base is located west of Park Ridge and south of Des Plaines at Higgins and Mannheim rds. (U.S. 12 and route 72). (B7

Presbyterian Women To Hear Missionary From Chile May 23rd

MRS. PHILIP EVAUL

Mrs. Philip O. Evaul, former Presbyterian missionary in Chile, will be guest speaker at the final spring meeting of the Women's association of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights Wednesday, May 23, from 12:30 to 3 p.m. Mrs. Evaul, who has chosen for her topic, "Things the Chileans Taught a Missionary," will be introduced by Mrs. Richard Frasier, foreign missions secretary for the association.

Mrs. Evaul, with her husband, who is an ordained minister, returned 3 years ago from Valparaiso, Chile, where they were directors of the Bible training school for lay workers. Mrs. Evaul, mother of 6 young children, was active in the school's 2-year training course which trains volunteer workers for the local churches.

A graduate of Maryville college, Maryville, Tenn., Mrs. Evaul not only worked in the Bible school, but spent much time traveling with the school choir, which introduced the institution to the people of southern Chile and helped arouse their interest. Mrs. Evaul and her husband had hoped to return to missionary work in Columbia, South America, but because of unrest in that area, they have not been granted their visas. At the present time, the Rev. Mr. Evaul is a secretary for the board of foreign missions in the Chicago area office.

Others appearing on the afternoon's program will include Mrs. Howard N. Froyd, who will give a devotional presentation entitled, "Christian Faith and Courage," based on the story of Rahab in Joshua 2. A string trio from the Arlington high school's music department will furnish a short musical interlude.

The 12:30 p.m. luncheon is being prepared by members of circle 2, with Mrs. Kenneth E. Dougan, Mrs. John Turner and Mrs. Melvin L. Kurtz in charge. Reservations may be made through the unit leaders or by calling the church office. (A

"A World Tour of our Missions" is the name of the mission filmstrip to be shown next Friday, May 18, at 8 p.m. in St. Peter Activity building, Arlington Heights. The film is in color and depicts missionary activity in more than 20 nations where the Lutheran church is at work today.

"Those who have seen it have called it the finest mission filmstrip they have yet seen," the local pastor, Luther V. Stephan, stated. "Children, too, will benefit from the pictures and wording," he added. "Everyone is welcome!" (A

Card Golfers And Thinclads In State Meet This Weekend

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by Bob Paddock

BILL PALMER will lead a group of 7 Arlington high tracksters to Champaign this weekend with local fans hoping he, Dennis Striegel, Lew Green and Dave Schimmel can come through with some outstanding performances. Palmer was state co-champ at 6-2 last year as a sophomore, could repeat. IF he should do this, and IF Striegel could take the shot, and IF Green could cop the discus, and IF Schimmel could pick up a few points in hurdles . . . well, the state track has been won with fewer points than those.

Bill Palmer

We don't mean to put anyone on the spot, but with the Heights golfers also down there with as good a chance to take state honors as any other team in the meet (some say we're dreamers) what if . . . Oh no, we better not say it . . . That district golf tournament at Old Orchard had its moments when a 20-foot putt by Wayne LeBlang put Maine into the state meet with a 314, the limit for qualifiers . . . All 3 alternates for Arlington, Leyden and Maine shot 81's . . . In district track Saturday at Evanston a terrific wind favored sprinters and hurdlers but hampered others . . . West Suburban conference tennis meet will be held at LaGrange and Hinsdale Monday and Tuesday, then move to Maine for the finals Wednesday . . . Arlington frosh-soph trackmen are undefeated in dual competition this season, placed second in a triangular when 1 man fell, finished third in north shore meet Tuesday . . . Cardinal baseball squad can make amends for that district elimination by winning their 3 remaining games and tying for the league championship . . . Opponents will be Maine, Downers Grove and Glenbard.

COOL WEATHER MONDAY made us think of football as we came across Bob Frisk's ideas as to whom to expect at what positions for Illinois next fall. Bob's covering varsity football for the Daily Illini, and will be handling golf leagues and Little League stories on these pages this summer.

"Hiles Stout is going to have a lot of competition at quarterback from Chuck Schrader of Champaign and Bill Offenbecher of Alliance, Ohio, with Lockport sophomore Tom Haller seeing some action.

"Ray Nitschke, a junior, should be fullback, but sophomore Jack Delveauz could take over. Probably only 3 seniors in the starting lineup." These boys, by the way, hail from Arkansas, Arizona (2), Florida, Ohio, New York and Illinois.

STAN HAUSEMAN, Palatine grad, was a tackle with the Whites in spring grid practice game Saturday . . . Whites defeated Greens at Michigan State when Dave Kaiser, Rose Bowl hero, snagged game-winning TD pass, then kicked extra points that clinched things . . . Dave's picture, by the way, is on Spartans' schedule card.

Dubuque U. athletic speaker Friday night was Bucky O'Connor, Iowa cage mentor . . . York's Keith Quirk is seeing quite a bit of action with Dubuque netmen . . . All 6 assistant grid coaches at Notre Dame saw pro action, including Finks and Walsh of the Steelers, Fischer and Landry of Cardinals, Zilly of Rams, and Witucki of Rockets (remember 'em?)

GRADE SCHOOL TRACK is sort of sparse in these parts, but Wheeling graders are putting this area on the map, even if it is only to further extend the track exploits of the Striegel and Stavros families. Wheeling took second in the state Saturday with a 2-man team.

Dan Striegel took thirds in shot and discus. Tony Stavros won high jump at 5-3½.

Dan had 2 tosses that would have won, except he fouled. His brother Dennis was winning district high school honors at Evanston at the same moment. Tony would have been third in 440, but 2 fans crossed in front of him as soon as the winner went by, making Tony swerve into sixth.

LONGEST NAME in the major leagues could be Victor Struckenschneider of the Senators . . . That recent baseball spectacular on TV was emceed by Art Linkletter, after Ralph Edwards had offered to do it for $100,000 . . . Five West Suburban league schools qualified in state golf tournament at Urbana this weekend, including district winning Arlington and LaGrange, plus Maine, Glenbard and Downers Grove.

Palatine's Norm Stenzel is back in action with Dubuque college hurdlers after a 5-week layoff due to a torn thigh muscle . . . He's winning his share, will be competing in Iowa conference relays Saturday at Indianola.

Ohio State grid clinic speaker last weekend was Tug Wilson, Big Ten commissioner . . . Oldest of the 6 "old men" of Lawrence college track squad is Win Jones of Maine, back to graduate after a stay in armed forces which interrupted his senior year . . . He was captain-elect before going into service, captained the cross country team, is a distance runner . . . George Drake of LaGrange is running anchor on Grinnell college mile relay team that is winning honors right and left, will be competing in Midwest conference event Saturday on the home field . . . Arlington's Marv Berschet has again signed to play with the Redskins professional football team next fall.

Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap golf tournament will be held Sunday, August 19, at Roselle golf club, with first place teams of twilight leagues as of August 4 eligible.

Our hats are off to Palatine Junior bowling league, the group of 40 youths which held its banquet and awarded trophies last week . . . Two of the teams placed high in the national telegraph tourney involving almost 4,000 junior bowling league teams . . . Just for the record, the "big name stable at Balmoral" of James L. Paddock has nothing to do with these publications, nor do we print the Racing Form, as so often suggested, nor are we part owners of Post and Paddock club at Arlington.

CATFISH ROLLINS, high scoring cager at Carrier Mill-lan high, graduates this week in order to join the Globetrotters for their European tour, at $450 a month plus expenses . . . Maine high spring sports banquet will be held May 24 . . . Michigan State beat Michigan in football 4 years running, then went on probation . . . Ohio State did the same thing 3 years, then went on probation . . . Topnotch Glenbard golfer Bruce Houdek started his tee workouts Jan. 1, believing in an early start . . . "Besides, you don't have to worry about the water holes," he says.

When LaGrange edged Glenbard in district golf Friday it was revenge for the Lions who were edged by the Bards last year.

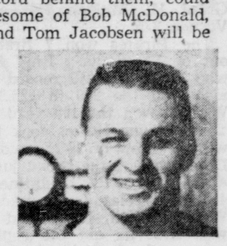
Niles Booster club meeting speaker was Northwestern's Stu Holcomb . . . Not that you're interested, but Jody White has been named queen and hostess of NCAA baseball finals at Omaha June 9-13 . . . She stands 34-23-34 . . . Initial speed tests reveal athletes do not run appreciably faster after warm-ups, though most coaches feel the muscles benefit . . . West Rockford's Nolden Gentry may choose Northwestern or Iowa . . . Maine's Clem Ryan suffered a twisted knee in spring football workouts . . . Northwestern will start a football series with Oklahoma in '59 . . . Senior veteran admitted to lettermen's club at N. U. is Ed Zargol of Downers Grove.

THESE FIVE GOLFERS will be carrying the hopes of Arlington high in the state golf tournament this Friday and Saturday at Urbana country club after winning the district tourney last week at Old Orchard. The Heights squad led Leyden by 12 strokes to take first place. Swinging their clubs to get in shape are alternate Tom Jacobsen, Bob McDonald, Mike Spinello and Wayne Rolfs.

Arlington Athletes Converge On Champaign

The greatest opportunity in history for Arlington Heights high school athletes is offered this weekend at Urbana-Champaign when 5 golfers and 7 trackmen carry the Cardinal and White into state meets.

The golfers have an outstanding record behind them, could conceivably take the state title. The fivesome of Bob McDonald, Wayne Rolfs, Mike Spinello, Bud Holm and Tom Jacobsen will be on hand with Coach Curtis Larsen attempting to keep up the good work and bring home all honors possible.



Dennis Striegel

IN TRACK Coaches Russ Attis and Bill Beckman will be watching 7 individuals attempt to bring home their share of points. Three standouts in their events are returning state co-champ in high jump Bill Palmer, Dennis Striegel in shot put and Lew Green in discus. Palmer tied for state honors a year ago at 6-2, hit that figure in tying for first in district competition Saturday.

Striegel has been leading the shot putters by a hair all season and hopes to do the same in the state meet. Discus is wide open with a dozen boys capable of winning the state, though Green will be hard to beat if he can toss the platter in the middle 150's the way he was doing in practice Monday of this week.

OTHER HEIGHTS lads competing in state meet include Dave Schimmel in low hurdles, Ed Wilson in pole vault, Bob Lockwood and Bob Busse in 220. Stan Norman, who has also cleared 6-2 in high jump this year, wrenched his knee in broad jump at Evanston, eliminating him from accompanying Palmer to Champaign.

Lew Green

Striegel won district shot with a toss of 53-7½. Green took second in discus with a throw of 148-6½. Palmer tied for first in high jump at 6-2. Both he and Etnyre of New Trier attempted to clear 6-4 but failed.

Schimmel covered the low hurdles in :19.4 for second, broad jumped 20-2 for fifth place. Wilson tied for second at 7 others at 11'. Lockwood and Busse finished fifth and sixth in 220 at :22.8 to qualify for state meet. Heights 880 relay team finished fourth.

Favor Cards In League Golf Monday

Arlington golfers will be host again Monday when the league-leading squads entertain West Suburban schools in the conference meet at Old Orchard. Arlington is favored to cop first honors in both divisions.

Both Coach Curtis Larsen's varsity and Coach Rusty Dowell's frosh-sophs are leading their divisions in the league. The Card duffers are undefeated in league competition. Shooting for the varsity will be Bob McDonald, Wayne Rolfs, Mike Spinello, Bud Holm, Tom Jacobsen and Denny Evans. For the frosh-sophs it will be Ed Moehling, Rick Lindstrom and John Murray, plus 4 sophomores being selected in a series of eliminations.

Each school will enter 13 boys in the meet, starting at 8:30, with varsity and frosh-sophs designated at the start. Low 4 varsity scores will be tallied, as will low 3 frosh-sophs. Varsity awards will include medals to first 4 individuals and first 2 teams. Frosh-soph awards will be ribbons to first 3 individuals and first 2 teams.

Redwings Bow, Oak Park Next

The Arlington Heights Redwings semipro baseball dropped a tough ball game last Sunday to last year's champion Kolski Boosters in a regular Greater Chicago League game.

Five Redwing errors marred an otherwise exciting contest in which the locals outhit the Kolskis 11-10 and seemed stronger than the Chicago team. Redwing pitcher Dick Bokelmann stopped the Kolskis cold before tiring in the eighth inning. This was the first game and the unseasonal heat took its toll. Joe Jankers was scheduled to relieve Bokelmann but had to catch because of the emergency absence of catcher Guy Welman. Only 2 balls were hit solidly off Dick during the time he was slated to work.

THE KOLSKIS picked up 1 run in the second inning on a hit, a walk, a sacrifice and an infield out and got another in the fourth when big Ed Kolowsowski singled to right and the clean-up hitter Rzendzian flied to center after which Bruno Fabris hit a perfect double-play ball to short. Everyone was safe when Big Ed smacked into Sassi and he dropped the ball while trying to throw to first.

The Redwings protested violently about this bad call but the decision stood and a run scored when Sassi made another error on a slow bounder. Bokelmann struck out Saklak to end the inning. The Kolskis got 2 more unearned runs when the Redwing first baseman dropped a throw with the bases loaded and 2 outs.

ALL REDWING runs were earned and resulted from hits by almost everyone in the lineup. Whitey Ebeling, Bill Sprincz, and Joe Jankers led the attack with 2 hits apiece. The hits included 5 doubles which indicates that there is plenty of speed on his club. Ebeling, Sprincz, Stang, Sassi and Bokelmann all got extra base blows.

Oak Park Home Improvers invade Recreation Park Sunday for another championship game in the pennant chase. They are the same team that called themselves Del Marres last season and local fans will remember that they are very good. Joe Jankers pitched the Redwings to a win in the game last year and the Redbirds hope to repeat the performance. Last Sunday the Oak Parkers dropped their first game to the Chicago Vets. Someone's got to win so the other will be in the cellar all by themselves. Many of the Oak Park players are still at the University of Illinois and won't be available until after June 1st. (Sp

Fenton Should Take Several First Places

Palatine is expected to run away with their ninth straight Northwest conference track championship in a row at Glenbrook next Wednesday night. The Pirates have in most cases tripled the score on league rivals in meets during the season and have too much depth and balance as well as outstanding individuals.

Leonard Rohde and Bill Thompson in the weights. Roy Burns in the pole vault, Duane Gordon and Jack Thome in the board jump Dave Wagner and Jim Hess in the 220, Jim Eldridge and Jim Hess in the 440, Carl Condeson and Roy Hahnfeldt in the 880, and George Sailor in the hurdles are expected to make strong bids for first place medals. Palatine has so much strength that many potential point scorers may not even compete as no more than two from a school may be entered in each event.

TOM PHILIBEN of Fenton in the high jump and broad jump is a potential first place winner. Bill Ripperger of Fenton and LeDain of Grayslake should stage a real fight in the mile run and may push each other to a near record. Gary Windells of Glenbrook should cop the 100 yard dash and be a threat in the 220. D'Hooge of Fenton is a strong possibility in the high and low hurdles with Gullborg scoring in the dashes.

The meet will be held on a very fast track at Glenbrook and new records may be set in a number of events including the shot, 440, 880 and 220. (Sp

Select Rosters For Little Leaguers At Mt. Prospect

by BETTY KIRCHHOFF

Last Saturday the Little Leaguers of Mt. Prospect concluded tryouts for the coming season. The managers went into auction this week and all boys have been or will be notified by mail as on what team they will pay.

The 4 Pony league teams in town have been working hard these last two weeks in order to be ready for opening day, May 30. This coming week-end two exhibition games have been scheduled. Saturday the Sox will meet the newly organized Yankee team and Sunday the Cubs and Sox will pair off.

AGAIN THIS YEAR the baseball teams have been asked to participate in the annual Memorial Day parade. Further information will be available at a later date.

Work will begin soon on the fixing up of the baseball diamonds. New backstops, fencing along the foul lines, and grating of the infields are in order for Owens Street park and the two fields at Lions. A new backstop is planned for Fairview. The Park district hopes to have everything completed by the opening of the season.

Palatine Wins 6th Frosh-Soph Title In A Row

Palatine easily won their sixth Northwest conference frosh-soph track championship in a row last Wednesday when they scored 66 7/10 points for a 30 point advantage over their nearest rival, Glenbrook, who scored 36½. Other scores were Wauconda 34½, Grayslake 25 3/5, Fenton 21 3/5, Grant 11, Antioch 7½, and Ela Vernon 3/5.

The Pirates won 7 first places out of 13 events. Jim Eldridge who broke the 440 record in :52.0 also won the 220 in :23.9. Paul Wagner won the 100 yard dash in :10.7. Wayne Howes took the shot with a throw of 38'2", and Jordan Danforth won the broad jump with a leap of 18'7". Palatine's frosh 440 yard relay team made up of Welty, Knight, Knez, and Wagner won first as did the soph group composed of Etchingham, Hauseman, Danforth, and Eldridge.

JIM BEST took second in the high hurdles, Don Funston had second in the discus, and Paul Wagner second in the 220. Thirds were won by Tom Gordon, Jordan Danforth, Bob Elms, Dick Welty, Dan Lemanski, and Wayne Howes. Larson and Brodkorb scored fourths and Etchingham and Patlan won fifth places.

Ridgway of Wauconda broke the high hurdles record with a mark of :17:1, breaking the league mark by more than a full second.

Tennis Squads Lose

Arlington high tennis squads lost to York, won a couple of points in district tennis, and were rained out after leading against Glenbrook in the past week.

Thurston Brown won over Mavity of York, 6-2, 4-6 and 6-4 for Coach Ken Schaller's locals. Jim Mott took his first round in district competition but was eliminated second time out. Both Brown and Mott had won against Glenbrook when the rains came and the entire meet was washed off the books.

In other district action Brown lost in singles 6-1, 8-6, Tom Longwell and Don Stadelman lost in doubles 6-4, 6-4, and Jim Graves and Jim Erickson lost in doubles 6-2, 6-2.

In singles against York Monday Mott lost 11-9 and 8-6 sets with Dean Skadberg blanked 6-0 twice. In doubles Stadelman and Hoder lost 6-4 and 6-1, as did Cummins and Longwell 6-4, 6-2.

For the frosh-sophs against York, everyone lost though Dodge and Von Boeckmann pushed to 6-8 before losing 1 set and Jim Erickson went to 5-7 before losing. Final scores were 4-1 against the varsity, 510 against the frosh-sophs.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McElroy

WEATHER HAS PLAYED HAVOC with baseball schedules and jammed up the Northwest schedule so badly by postponements that another rainy Tuesday or Friday will mean that the full schedule will not be played. At this point it appears to be a 2 team race between Glenbrook and Grayslake's defending champs.

Fred Breitling

Grayslake has the best twirler in the league in Gale Peregrin who has pitched all their games. Glenbrook has Larry Lind and Bill Lutz, a pair of top flight hurlers along with Bob Boyd who has proved he can help out when needed.

On the basis of postponed games Glenbrook must be accorded the edge on their pitching staff. Time will tell. Highly rated Grant and Palatine have good pitching but lack hitters and have slumped off badly from their expected position as contenders.

STATE TRACK MEET this Friday and Saturday should be an especially good one from the stand point of fans in this area. Bloom of Chicago Heights has been our pick all season but if they lose it will be because they are too balanced and have too few standouts. They have a large number of potential places but no one sure of first. Their best best is the mile relay, Nick Thomas in the 880 who broke two minutes in the district, Fred Macklin and Bob Green in the 440 where Macklin ran :49.7, Frank Carra in the hurdles with the second best time in the state in the highs, Macklin in the broad jump, Thurman in the high jump, and Leroy Jackson in the dashes though he ran second to Rechord of Blue Island in the district.

Bloom lost state meet points when they dropped the baton in the district 880 relay and were disqualified. Bloom qualified men for the state in almost all events.

From this area East Aurora, Phillips of Chicago and New Trier are highly regarded. New Trier has Staebler who was district 440 and 100 yard dash winner, Etnyre who did 6' 2" in the high jump, and a very fine mile relay team. Phillips has Lattimore who made the best district time in the state in the 440 and Martin, a top hurdler. East Aurora has Bob Schindel who ran a district :09.7 hundred yard dash, Charles Teuscher one of the state's best hurdlers, Cliff Haden who exceeds 22' in the broad jump, Bob McCue in the 440 and a good 880 relay team.

Arlington Heights made a fine district showing at Evanston and sends Striegel, Green, Schimmel, Palmer, Lockwood, Busse, and Wilson to the state meet. Glenbrook qualified Windells in the 100 yard dash and Palatine sends Len Rohde in the shot and Roy Burns in the pole vault from the Northwest conference.

THURSDAY twelve school representatives are meeting at Barrington as an after math of the area realignment meeting in Chicago last week. Whether these 12 will form a 12 school league with two divisions or form two 6 team conferences or decide to do nothing at all about existing affiliations will again be discussed.

If the amount of time that administrators of this area have attended meetings to try to thrash out realignment problems were figured up in dollars and cents wages, the shifting of schools would come rather high for the area.

Anyway, this meeting at Barrington may, we hope, be the final decision as to the fate of those attending which include Glenbrook, Fenton, and Palatine of the Northwest; Barrington, Crystal Lake, McHenry, Woodstock, Zion-Benton, and Libertyville of the North Suburban; Dundee of the Little Seven; and North Chicago and Elmwood Park, unattached.

JIM ELDRIDGE of Palatine, who broke the Northwest conference frosh-soph 440 record in the league meet held last Thursday at :52, could not run that well Saturday at the Evanston district meet and so failed to qualify for the state meet. Eldridge had :52.9 taking fourth but not meeting the qualifying time necessary. Jim Hess was poorly seeded in the 220 and was eliminated in the preliminary by taking a third with two advancing.

Jim ran well below the state qualifying time with :22.2 but that counted only in the finals where Jim did not get to run.

George Sailor lost a shoe at the fifth hurdle in the prelims of the highs. Carl Bondeson ran a 2:07.5 in the 880 but did not get a place. Len Rohde put the shot 49' 11½" for fifth place but his mark qualified for the state. Roy Burns and 7 others tied at 11' in the pole vault for second place and all go on to Champaign. It was Burns' best vault of the season.

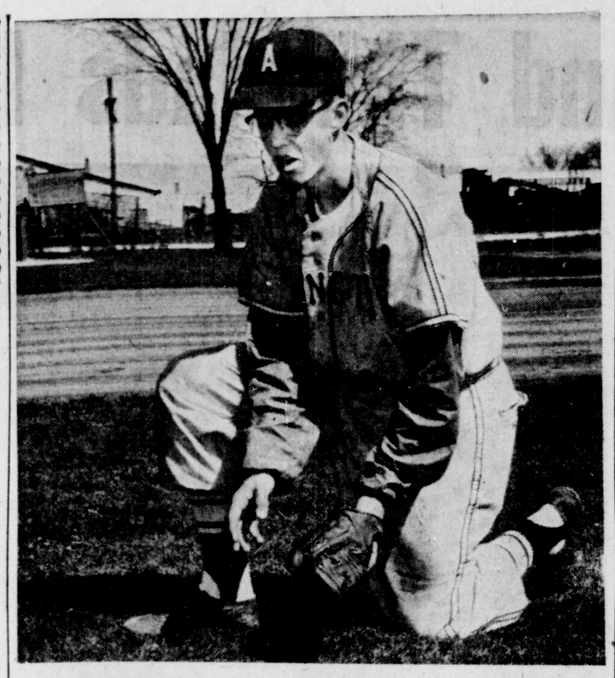
FRED BREITLING, Palatine senior, is a young man very much interested in sports all through high school but too slight of build and weight to do much except act as manager in team athletics. Through hard work, much practice, and ambition to succeed, Fred has made himself a good golfer.

We are especially proud to give a pat on the back to a young fellow whose evidence of making good in sports at Palatine high is in qualifying to play in the state golf tournament. Fred shot a 77 in the district and by the new rules a player shooting no worse than 6 over par, competes in the state.



DAN VITTUM plays the outfield for Coach Howard Lester's Arlington high school diamond squad, and doubles behind the plate when needed. Dan is a good clutch hitter in his second year with the varsity. The Cardinals bowed out of district competition last week, but could tie for conference honors by winning three remaining games. Vittum is one of the leading hitters helping the locals amass a good won-loss record. —Staff Photo

Fenton 9 Loses District To Niles

by BILL RIPPERGER

After being rained out Friday, Fenton's diamond men revisited Niles on Saturday. The Niles pitcher, Niemer, held the Bisons to four hits and defeated them 6

Whitsett and Rice provided offensive power for Niles as each knocked out 2 hits. Mont Forke and Dave Helms each collected a double for Fenton.

The DuPage squad broke the scoring ice in the second inning with one run. Two walks and a fielder's choice accounted for this tally.

NILES BOUNCED back in their half of the second with 4 runs on three hits. Whitsett's double was the big blow of the inning. Fenton errors allowed Niles runners to score a run in the 5th and another in the 7th frame.

Fenton's other runs came in the sixth. An error put John Baumgartner on base. Back to back doubles by Mont Forke and Dave Helms then drove two runs across the plate.

Wind hampered the distance runners, and times in these events were slow. Ripperger of Fenton covered the 880 in 2:15, bested only by Bondeson of Palatine. LeDain of Grayslake ran the mile in about 5:00. (Sp

Fenton Fails To Qualify Any

by BILL RIPPERGER

Fenton track squad didn't qualify any men for downstate competition at the Evanston district meet, Saturday. The Bisons did, however, turn in some times which would do very well in the Northwest Conference Meet.

Bob Gullborg ran :10.3 in the preliminaries of the 100 yard dash, a time equal to the conference record. Bob also went below the conference record of :23 when he covered the 220 yard distance in :22.9. Jay Stoner, another Bison speedster, ran the 220 in :23.1.

RICH D'HOOGE, number 1 hurdler for Fenton, ran the lows in :21.6. Sailor of Palatine ran an identical time and appears to be some rough competition for Rich.

THURSDAY, MAY 17, 1956

TOM PHILIBEN will carry Fenton's hopes in the high jump in Northwest conference track meet at Glenbrook Wednesday, May 23. A senior, Tom set the conference frosh-soph broad jump mark of 19-6 3 years ago. This year he is expected to high jump 5-8, will run a 220 leg with 880 relay team, and will probably broad jump, too. —Staff Photo

Card Soph 9 Loses To Maine

Maine frosh-sophs rallied from a 3-1 deficit to whip Arlington Monday, 4-3, possibly knocking the young Cardinals out of the conference lead. Official frosh-soph baseball standings are compiled at season's end, but not known before that time.

The locals were undefeated in league competition until Monday. In a return game Tuesday Maine was leading 4-0 in the middle of the third when the rains came.

HEIGHTS SCORED 3 runs in the sixth. Fischer, Reinke and Zapp all hit safely, with Perry walking. Two errors also helped. Maine tallied once in the third on a walk, hit and an error. An error, walk and a wild pitch brought in run number 2 in the sixth.

Maine tied the score in the seventh on a walk and 2 errors. A hit and 2 errors cinched things for the young Demons in the eighth.

JUST DOGS

Coat

A recent question brought to the attention of your editor set him to thinking along the lines of the care of a dog during the hot summer months, relative to his coat and overall general appearance.

It always seems that someone asks: Should a dog have his hair completely clipped off for the hot summer months ?It is fortunate indeed that the general dog-owning public is starting to realize that to have such a thing done to a dog is perhaps one of the worst things that can happen to him. His coat serves him as a dual purpose blanket of protection. It not only acts as an insulator against the cold during the winter, but also as his only protection against flies and other such biting insects during the summer.

A DOG PERSPIRES through his tongue and not through his skin as do humans and, therefore, to assume that by removing his coat will make him cooler and enable him to perspire through his skin better is completely wrong.

With normal brushing and cleaning, as the breed of dog requires it, during the summer his coat can be kept in excellent shape. A bath at not too frequent intervals is in order and remember to put a small amount of vaseline in each eye to give him some protection against the soapy water. The vaseline will eventually disappear after he is through with his bath. If there is a possibility of a dog going to sleep somewhere near a cold draft of air immediately following his bath, it is not advisable to permit him to do so until he has been completely dried off with a rough towel, and in general protected from picking up a chill or sudden cold. This is especially true of some of the very small toy breeds and those of other breeds which are subject to sudden temperature changes.

While on the subject of a dog's coat, don't forget that it is during the summer months, if left unchecked, fleas and ticks can run wild on a dog and in general cause him no end of discomfort.

Dog Photo Contest

The annual dog photo contest sponsored each year by Gaines Dog Food Co. has just been announced with the closing date for entries September 1, 1956.

The rules for this year's contest can be had by writing to Gaines at 250 Park ave., New York City.

As usual the judges will be a number of prominent photographers in this country, each of whom has had a considerable amount of experience in photography of various types. The contest is open to all, both professional and amateur, and for those of you who have a particularly good snapshot of your dog, which you feel is rather unusual, it might be well worth your time and effort to enter the picture in this contest.

Obedience Match

The obedience match held by the Northwest Obedience club at Palatine last Sunday, May 13, 1956, had a number of dogs in attendance from many nearby areas. The day was ideal and proved to be just what was required for an outdoor trial of this type.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the general news story and pictures of the trial which should be of interest to all.

Barks and Bays

If the term "flat-footed" can be applied to a human being, perhaps such a term in general could be applied to one breed of dog which actually is "down on the pastern" relative to his paws. This breed is the Afghan, who makes use of a long rather flat paw to obtain better traveling over sand when doing hunting on the deserts of the country from which he originally came. (Sp

Arlington 9 Loses District

by PETE SWANSON

An overconfident, indifferent Arlington team suffered a 13-3 drubbing from Round Lake Saturday in its only appearance in the Barrington sub-district. The game was called after 4½ innings because Round Lake led by 10 runs.

The almost unbelievable wildness of Arlington pitchers resulted in the disgraceful showing of the West Suburban Conference team. An 11-run fourth inning clinched the game for the winners.

Round Lake's big inning came about through 8 walks, 2 hit batsmen, and 2 hits - one a misjudged fly ball. This broke a 2-2 tie, the winners having scored twice in the second and Arlington twice in the top of the fourth. The locals scored their final run in the fifth.

Grant Succumbs To Glenbrook, 12-1

All games in the Northwest conference were rained out Tuesday except the Grant at Glenbrook contest which the league leading Spartans won 12-1. Jerry Sadek clouted 2 home runs, each with a man on base, to lead Glenbrook's attack. The Spartans got to Mack of Grant very early to pile up an 8-1 lead in 3 innings. Gordon Lind allowed only 1 hit and fanned 11 Grant batters in posting his third victory of the season and Glenbrook's seventh in 8 games.

Grant	1	0	0	0	0	0	—	1	1	5

Batteries: Grant—Mack, Hodge (3) and Grenell; Glenbrook—Lind and Butz.

Monday Grant beat Antioch 5-3 in a closely played game. Three passed balls by the Antioch catcher opened the door for Grant to win. Walsh of Antioch who took the place of regular catcher, Jerry Meyer, hit a home run. Grant won the game in the top of the seventh with 2 runs to break a 3-3 score.

Arlington Heights high school golfers won their own district tournament Friday at Old Orchard when Bob McDonald and Wayne Rolfs both carded par 71's, Mike Spinello took a 76 and Bud Holm a 78. The foursome, plus alternate Tom Jacobsen, will be competing in state meet at Urbana country club this weekend.

The Arlington team, coached Curtis Larsen, totalled 296, 12 strokes ahead of Leyden with Maine 6 strokes farther back. All 3 schools qualified teams for downstate however, as they all came within 30 strokes of par. Four individuals of the 80 golfers also qualified, in addition to the team, making 19 boys in all.

LEYDEN WAS SECOND with a 308 with Emi Esposito shooting 73, Bruce Bullis 78, Ron Steele 78 and Doug Tranchitella 79.

Maine finished third with 314 with Frank Huss shooting 77, George Nackel 79, Dick Klent 79 and Wayne LeBlang 79.

McDonald and Rolfs finished in a tie for medalist, with McDonald taking the 9-hole playoff, 36-38. Thus Rolfs took second. Esposito third, and Tom Leith of Elgin took fourth by default from Laureston Lindstrom of Crystal Lake, who had gone home. Both boys shot 75.

OTHER QUALIFIERS included James Clark of St. Mary's of Woodstock with 76 and Fred Breitling of Palatine with 77.

Relax! Do Not Rush Your Backswing. Swing Freely

The Downswing

Now that you ladies have mastered the grip, stance and backswing you are ready for our third lesson, the downswing or hitting the ball.

As in previous lessons I have constantly stressed rhythm and relaxation, and in the third lesson the same rules apply.

YOUR FIRST movement on the downswing should be the shifting of your weight from your right to the left side. This will happen automatically by turning your left shoulder and hip to the left.

The shifting of your weight and the turning of your left hip and shoulder places your hand and arms in the correct position so that you are able to hit the ball properly.

You should have the feeling of "throwing your hands" at the ball. Do not make a conscious effort to uncock your wrists, they will automatically do it themselves.

DO NOT RUSH your downswing. This is the common fault of the majority of the golfers today. By rushing the downswing you are not able to have the rhythm and hitting power that is so necessary in the game of golf.

As you continue your downswing make a sincere effort to keep the back of your left hand facing in the direction that you are hitting the ball. this will help your accuracy and consistency. Keep the back of the left hand straight at impact. This will prevent a "wrist roll," that is allowing your left hand to turn over to the left. Doing this well will cause you to close the club face and hit a bad shot. At all times have a firm but yet relaxed grip on the club.

THE FINISH of your downswing should find you in this position.

Weight on your left side. your shoulders turned to the left; hands and arms should be in a position similar to what they were in the backswing except in the opposite position. (Will demonstrate this at our Tuesday lesson).

Again I repeat, do not rush the downswing, relax, keep the head down and steady.

Next week we will end up our lesson sessions with chipping and putting. (Sp

Peterson Tile Grabs Half Point Lead In Old Orchard Scratch

Ray Hubbs of Arlington Pharmacy salvaged the only point to keep Peterson Floor & Tile from making a complete sweep of the pill pushers in Old Orchard scratch league. C. Berlin made a valiant effort to capture that one point after being 4 down at the 14th by winning the next 2 holes and ended the game 2 down. Matches were won by S. Fill, M. Michgelson, and F. Maytas.

Cork & Bottle moved into second place by winning 3 and halving the fourth, to grayout Webber Paint to a half point. A close match between Griffith and Burkett with birdies at the 14th and 16th, respectively, finished with Griffith one up.

STEADY GOLF by L. Arnold coming in with a 38 jumped State and Rand from 6th to 5th place in legue standing. His opponent B. Brenner of Griffith Insurance held up well under the pressure for the first 5 holes being only 1 down but then lost the next 2 in a row.

The sensational shot of the evening came when S. Raulworth of Flaherty's Jewelers pitched in with a 9 iron from 100 yards out on number 7 to tie a close match with P. Scully of Smith & Dawson.

Bloom Has 'Tough Row To Hoe' To Win State Track Title

by BILL BECKMAN

With "old man weather" helping, some of the best recorded marks in state history appear this week in the Honor Roll. The marks in all running events took a deep nose dive. Bob Schindel, leader all spring in the sprints, established himself as the man to beat in the 100 yard dash when he turned in times of :09.8 last Tuesday at the Hinsdale relays and then a time of :09.7 in qualifying for the state meet. New names appear in the century, Tinsley of Wheaton, Bob Rechord of Blue Island, Al Staebler of New Trier and Modine of St. Charles.

Times of under :22.0 were turned in this past week by John Lattimore of Phillips, Lane Patterson of Glenbard, Reilly of Lake Forest, Bob Lyda, Wheaton, and Streckler of Mt. Carmel. Bob Schindel established his :21.8 earlier in the spring.

IN ORDER to make the honor roll in the 440 yard dash a time of :51.1 was necessary. John Lattimore, Fred Macklin of Bloom and Al Staebler of New Trier seem to be the men who will have to be beaten in the quarter. This event looks as though it could parallel the blanket finish of 1954 between Harold Caffey of LaGrange and Raleigh Floyd of Waukegan.

State champ Mike Smith of Freeport shows the way in the 880 with the fine time of 1:57.6. Smith should receive his closest competition from Dick Pond of Glenbard, Campbell of Oak Park and Ted Beastall of Morton.

State's outstanding track man Jim Bowers of DeKalb again failed in his attempt to set a new national record in the mile. Bowers had to settle for a 4:23.4 in the District. This column hopes that conditions will be ideal down at Champaign this weekend so that this can be accomplished. Dave Hohl of Hinsdale, Phil Shephard of Glenbard, Bob Bagwell of Kankakee, Kastner of Oak Park and Fred Sandoval of Moline are all capable of getting down to the wire with the DeKalb star.

IN HIGH HURDLES Dave Haas of Oregon took an early lead this spring and has held it with an improved time this past week. Downstate it looks like Chuck Teucher, East Aurora, Arlandes Jackson, East St. Louis, Dave Northrup, West Rockford and Haas.

The low hurdles present one of the strongest fields in years with Maine's Hubert Hommer, Chuck Teucher, Dave Schimmel, Arlington Heights, Willie Martin of Phillips and Dave Northrup all capable of lowering the mark set in last year's preliminaries by the above Martin. This field should create quite a picture coming over the last hurdle.

With the shot put the strongest in the history of Illinois track a toss of over 53 feet was necessary to merit the Honor Roll. Striegel of Arlington Heights, Ornberg of Maine, Parnisari of LaSalle-Peru, Brown of Mendota and Jones of East St. Louis are all able to hit better than their record shows here. It is felt that the state meet is the place where form pays off.

THE DISCUS has improved somewhat but is below past years in performance. Any one of a dozen boys is capable of winning this event. It will depend on who is up mentally, has good form, and who knows how to play the wind properly.

The pole vault can be compared to the discus with any one of the boys listed able to win it. Ekstrom of Maine and Brunner of Oak Park seem to be the most consistent at 12 feet.

The high jump presents a strong field with the 3 boys who tied for the gold medal last year back and still leading the field. Sonny Dickson of Danvile listed as the best mark here has had the advantage of good weather, whereas Bill Palmer of Arlington Heights and Ron Swanson of Moline have not. We feel that the high jump will go beyond the 6'2" of last year with Bill Palmer, Bob Clark of Sterling and Tony Etynre of New Trier capable of doing it.

THE BROAD JUMP is very strong with 9 boys over 22'. Fred Macklin of Bloom has beaten Dick Miller of DeKalb in the Oak Park Relays and the Palatine Relays, however, we feel that the DeKalb star will turn the tables down there in the "big payoff." Other outstanding jumpers are Chuck Peugh of Sterling and Duncan of Gillespie.

With Bloom out of the 880 yard relay it will be a 3-way fight between East Aurora, East St. Louis and Joliet.

Bloom all the way in the mile relay for their only clear-cut championship. Freeport, East St. Louis, Lincoln and Mooseheart will be the chief threats. (Sp

EVEN THE GAY PHILOSOPHER was smiling at the thought of the 6 trophies won by Arlington's track squad at Hinsdale Relays last week. Athletic director Wally Grace was smiling, but track coach Russ Attis was obviously thinking about the tough state meet ahead for 7 of his boys who qualified in district competition at Evanston Saturday. Jimmy Kouzmanoff, team manager, is polishing the permanent second place award. All other trophies are traveling awards. —Staff Photo

LaGrange Shares Record Of Most State Track Titles

Bloom high school of Chicago Heights is favored to win the state track and field championship in finals at University of Illinois Memorial stadium May 18 and 19 and continue domination of Chicago and Chicago-area schools in the annual spring event.

Title would be the first for Bloom, but metropolitan area representatives have ruled the meet for many years. Last year, Blue Island won its first title. Lyons township of LaGrange won in 1952-'53-'54 to share the record of three straight wins with University high school of Chicago, 1909-'10-'11, and Oak Park, 1930-'31-'32.

Lyons shares another distinction with Oak Park. They are the only schools ever to win consecutive titles more than once. Oak Park has done it five times, 1907-'08, 1919-'20, 1923-'24, 1930-'31-'32, and 1937-'38. LaGrange won in 1952-'53-'54 and 1948-'49, and took the Class "B" title in 1914-'15, when entrants were divided into two divisions. Other two-time winners were Biggsville, 1899-1900, and Tilden of Chicago 1928-'29.

The highest winning total in history was made by Oak Park in 1919 with 48 points. Lowest championship total was a 12-point tie between Phillips of Chicago and West Aurora in 1906. (Sp

Be Sure To Buy A Balanced Fertilizer For Plants

by WILLIAM C. KREUTZFELD

Planting time is just about here. Those among you who do not understand the principles of gardening are probably wondering how you should go about it.

Let us take a look at fertilizer to see why and how it is used. Before you plant, a good balanced fertilizer should be raked into the ground. When we say balanced we mean that the analysis required by law on every package shows the product contains nitrogen and potash in equal amounts and phosphorus exactly double that figure. Some examples are 5-10-5 or 6-12-6. Any fertilizer that is not balanced should never be used on flowers and vegetables because of their particular requirements.

NITROGEN supplies power needed to grow stems, leaves and any green parts of the plant. But phosphorus makes strong roots, and also thickens and hardens the stems. The other, most important function is to supply the boost needed for good flowering and fruiting. The potash also helps to harden the plant and give it the vitality necessary to fight disease and insect damage.

If you should use a high nitrogen fertilizer for example without much phosphorus or potash the plant will grow fine for a while. In fact too good and it will soon be light green and very soft or spindly. In this condition the wind may soon break off or surely one of the fungus or bacterial diseases will attack the plant, especially here in our section where the ground lacks sufficient phosphorus.

BEFORE doing anything else, of course, your garden plot should be roto-tilled or spaded to make it loose and kept that way by hoeing or mulching during the summer. This permits water to flow into the groud rather than running off or puddling. Also being loose permits oxygen to get into the upper layer of earth which helps all plants.

Newly transplanted seedlings need water on every sunny or windy day for about a week. After that their roots should have penetrated far enough into the ground to enable them to go without water for awhile. When you do water give them a good deep soaking. Then you will not have to water so often.

The next dangers that present themselves are insects and fungus diseases. However except in rare instances any combination plant dust applied at 10 day intervals will handle that problem. Be sure to get a type dust that has both insecticides and fungicides in combination.

Follow these ideas and they will enable you to sit on a lawn chair during the summer and watch your garden grow. (DL

The bride's maid of honor was her sister, Jeanne and bridesmaids were Adele Nelson, Jeannie Read and Jean Ebsen of Park Ridge and the bridegroom's sister, Carol Beigel of Mt. Prospect. All wore identical gowns of aqua with white trimming and bows. They carried ballerina bouquets of feathered carnations and variegated camellias. Mrs. Choate was in a pale pink dress and Mrs. Beigel in a toast lace. Both mothers wore corsages of cymbidium.

Robert Fasick of Mt. Prospect was best man and ushers were Fred Choate, brother of the bride, George Davajon, Robert Haberkamp and Elwood Goebbert.

Following the reception held at the Georgian hotel in Evanston for 200 guests, the couple left for a wedding trip to the Ozarks. Upon their return, they took up residence in Mt. Prospect where the bridegroom is employed by Illinois Range Co.

The new Mrs. Beigel attended Michigan State university and her bridegroom attended Northern Illinois State college.

Wanda Boobyer Marries Sylvesrer Beelar

A pink gown was worn by Miss Wanda Boobyer of Algonquin rd., Palatine, when she became the bride of Sylvester Beelart of Crystal Lake Saturday, April 14.

The double ring ceremony uniting the couple was solemnized at 5 p.m. in Palatine Immanuel Lutheran church with the Rev. Hilmar Th. Rosenberg officiating.

Mrs. Rosenberg was soloist singing "Ich Liebe Dich," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer." Paul Leimer was organist.

With her father, Fred Boobyer of Palatine confined to Plum Grove rest home, the bride was escorted by her brother, Harry F. Boobyer of Palatine.

Mrs. Harry F. Boobyer was her sister-in-law's only attendant and Robert Keil of Crystal Lake was best man. Robert Riecks of Crystal Lake was usher.

The bride's dress was fashioned of chantilly lace and nylon tulle over taffeta. The fitted bodice was made with a V neckline and full ballerina length skirt featured an inset of pleated tulle. A heart-shaped headpiece of matching pink straw held her shoulder-length veil in place and she carried a bouquet of white hyacinths in the form of a heart, accented with roses.

The matron of honor wore a yellow nylon net ballerina-length dress and carried a clutch bouquet of yellow pompons.

Mrs. Katherine Beelart, mother of the bridegroom, chose a blue and white dress complimented with a corsage of white roses.

After the ceremony, 60 guests were entertained at a reception in the church hall.

The newlyweds, who are both employed by Speed Queen Corp. in Algonquin, are now getting settled in their new home in Crystal Gardens, Crystal Lake.

The bride, who was graduated from Palatine high school, made her home with her sister, Mrs. John Hogreve and family, of Algonquin rd. for several months. (Bak Studio

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The vital importance of understanding the true nature of God and man will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday, May 20, in the Lesson-Sermon "Soul and Body."

The Scriptural readings will include Paul's statement to the Philippians (3:13, 14): "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (203:18): "Spiritual perception brings out the possibilities of being, destroys reliance on aught but God, and so makes man the image of his Maker in deed and in truth."

Good taste prompts us to refrain from advertising funeral prices. However, there is nothing "hush" about them. Families receive complete information on costs in advance and have always found a dignified Lauterburg & Oehler service within their income. Many have been grateful for our counsel against what we call "emotional overspending" through inexperience or stress.

Rolling Meadows Man Elected President Of Wayside Holy Name

Richard J. Drolet, 2403 Sigwalt st., Rolling Meadows, was elected president of the Holy Name society at Our Lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights, at a general meeting of the organization last Sunday. He succeeds Dr. A. J. Prasnikar, 10 S. Salem st., Arlington Heights, for a term of 1 year. Drolet was first vice president during the past year under Dr. Prasnikar.

Other officers elected were Fred Ainslie, 106 E. Rockwell, Arlington Heights, first vice president; Merton Taylor, 439 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, second vice president; Herbert Sander, 2704 Oriole lane, Rolling Meadows, secretary; Bernard Cahill, 924 S. Beverly lane, Arlington Heights, treasurer; and James J. Clark Jr., 645 S. Chestnut st., Arlington Heights, marshal. All will hold office for 1 year. Spiritual director of the society is the Rev. Harold T. O'Hara, pastor of church.

The society, under the presidency of Dr. Prasnikar, carried a heavy burden of work for the parish during the past year. Starting with a dance last fall, members then moved into an all-parish building fund pledge drive aimed at financing the building of the new convent for the nuns teaching at the Wayside school.

Culminating the year's work was the annual party in April, held this year at the Chevy Chase country club, run in cooperation with the Catholic Woman's club of the parish. More than $26,000 was raised at this affair for current building projects, necessitated by the rapidly rising enrollment in the parish school.

Other officers who served during the 1955-1956 period were Dr. John Heinz, second vice president, Emil Saelens, secretary, Francis Weber, treasurer, and Theodore Koenig, marshal.

President-elect Drolet has not yet made committee appointments for his administration, but within the next 2 weeks retiring officers and new officers will meet jointly to plan the coming year and to effect the transition from the old administration to the new. (AK

Charge Or Cash?

A Texas zillionaire drove his air-conditioned car to New York one time. On his approach to the George Washington bridge he got into a hassle with the gatekeeper about the 50-cent toll to cross the bridge. "Son," he drawled. "I never carry anything less than a $500 bill. How much do you all want for the bridge."

Way Back When

"Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money," — H. C. Paddock, 1898-1935

Happenings 10, 20, 30, 40, And 50 Years Ago This Week

50 Years Ago

May 18, 1906

Roselle — The fireman's drill last Friday night showed what interest the boys have in the department. Everything went off like clock work. The new hook and ladder truck, which was out for the first time, did some fast work. It is the best outfit between Elgin and Chicago, Milwaukee and Wheaton.

Henry Luerssen, captain; Geo. E. Franzen, chef; Frank Meyer, bait carrier and Barney Broker, clown went to Fox River fishing, Saturday and Sunday and claim to have 175 pounds of fish. The captain came near getting licked for running his craft into another boat.

The Chef lampooned for a whale or catfish and pulled out a brass minnow. He should take his uncle Barney along next time to show him how to fish and keep out of the mud. Meyer thought he spied a bottle fish and dived after it. He got awful wet and his stomach was gladly surprised to take water, once. Barney Broker will keep any crowd good-natured and enjoys fun with the best of 'em.

Our Bensenville reporter went fishing Monday. We suspicion he expected to catch a mermaid without fins or scales and took the preacher along to tie the nuptial knot.

May 8, a heavy frost, ice froze ¾ inch thick and the next night another frost; still the fruit trees are full of blossoms and appearances indicate good crops.

Arlington Heights — J. D. Helmken is clerking for Red Redeker and the store shows his taste and skill for arranging goods in convenient and attractive style. Fred needs such a judicious helper who knows how to serve and please customers.

Arlington Heights believes in patronizing home enterprises. Messers. Bray, Kates, F. W. Muller, E. N. Berbecker, Wm. F. Meyer and others will have Peter Knowe of Palatine, lay over a half mile of cement walks for them. Knowe makes a specialty of concrete work. His guarantee insures a first class, permanent job.

Tuesday, May 16, 1916, Henry H. Weinrich celebrated his 75th birthday. It was indeed a happy family gathering, who spent the afternoon and evening at the homestead, which for the past 47 years has been the home of Mr. and Mrs. Weinrich.

Many of Mr. and Mrs. Weinrich's older friends have passed away until they are today probably Arlington Heights oldest residents, having come here in 1864 when this city was only a small cluster of houses and a big prairie called Dunton. As 75 years do not fall to the lot of many, so also can few who do reach this honored milestone look back upon a more prosperous life — not only in a comfortable competence, but in the confidence of this neighbors. Mr. Weinrich first showed his quality in the renowned early settler days when his merit was awarded by the confidence of his own townsmen. He was chosen trustee in the newly incorporated village, also at different times was elected township collector and constabe.

Mr. Alwin Schwake, youngest son of Mrs. Louise Schwake and Miss Amanda Engelking, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Engelking were united in the holy bonds of wedlock at St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, May 14.

The case of the people vs. Mr. and Mrs. Cruickshank has been heard three times. Trustee A. T. Chidley was the complaining witness. The charge was shooting inside the corporation which is prohibited by village ordinance. At the first hearing Mrs. Cruickshank testified that it was she and not her husband who shot Chidley's dog, so the case against James Cruickshank was dismissed. Then a summons was issued against Mrs. Cruikshank who demanded a jury trial. Attorney H. J. Thal prosecuted and a dapper young fellow from the city who thot it smart to insult country people displayed more gab than logic in his bravado defense. The end is not yet.

The report that Prof. Lowman would not be at the head of the high and grammar schools next year has caused a storm of protest to be raised by many Palatine people who think that Palatine needs such a man at the head of its school system. During this one year here he has shown that he is a forceful man, a man true to his convictions, and willing to work like the "old harry" for the good of the school. He is the kind of a man Palatine school needs in more ways than one. But to get the most out of him, he should be made a sort of a fixture here. The right kind of principal is the man who is in town all the year around, who, altho he is only paid for 10 months, yet is on the job 12. For too long a time Palatine has had fly-by-night principals, men who come at the beginning of September and leave as soon as they draw their last check. Palatine needs a big man. A man with a dozen college degrees would not be necessarily the best man for the town.

With the ever-expanding interests of a growing community come the added activities of various civic, social and cultural groups. So it was to be expected that descendants of the founders of America would some day form a branch chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Such a branch was formed at the organization meeting of Eli Skinner chapter, DAR, which took place the afternoon of May 8. The chapter name of Eli Skinner honors a Revolutionary soldier who died in 1851 and is buried in Elk Grove cemetery near Arlington Heights.

Fellow Traveler

The most-traveled major league pitcher of 1955, says The Sporting News, was Ted Gray. He was signed and released, in turn, by the White Sox, Indians, Yankees and Ohioles. Gray's record for the season was one game won and two lost; and an earned run average of 9.78.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

A wallflower, whether he or she is pale and anemic, buxom and aggressive, or just a poor, dispirited individual, is always pathetic; more so since being a wallflower is largely a matter of choice.

I have seen men and women who apparently lack all of the requisites for mixing with others, as far as looks are concerned; fat men with many chins; skinny women with protruding joints; men with big lips and pug noses, no brows; women with hook noses and buck teeth, breasts or no breasts; yet these supposed misfits join in all the fun at the parties, dance every dance, laugh and joke with the other guests at the party with no embarrassment or knowledg of their appearance, and others enjoy and like them. I have also seen men with the face of a greek god and the carriage of a ballet dancer, women with perfect forms and lovely faces, stand or sit on the sideline while the party progresses happily, lost in their wistfulness, afraid, neglected, alone.

Wallflowers are people who lack self discipline. They take the easy way, wait for others to carry them around like a valuable antique at a bargain sale. They expect others to come to them — all the way. They are afraid to meet the world and its social problems half way, and so lose out all together.

The only way to avoid being a wallflower is to go ahead and get into things. Maybe you will make mistakes, even make a horrible fool of yourself — but only to yourself will it be horrible, to others it will be a joke which you may later laugh at yourself. And most people, seeing an individual trying to escape loneliness and fear, will offer helping hands at every opportunity.

If you are too scared to take the first plunge alone, perhaps a little education is necessary. Try a public speaking course, learn to dance, sing, play a musical instrument, talk, walk, and above all, turn your thinking inside out — to things and people outside yourself. You will find, if you persist, that the world and the people in it are much less frightening than your own morbid fears and self pity.

Valiant 'Rebel'

I heaved a giant sigh of relief last week when I turned to the Fence Post and read that valiant letter "Barbarous" exposing the vicious shower racket for what it is.

Brave rebel!

NOW LET'S all pull together and do something about the wedding racket. First, we must become passionately upset, like our grand rebel. So start scanning that mounting pile of wedding invitations. The conversation will run something like this, I'll wager:

"Who's she? Who's he? Where are they from?"

And to boot, the near-strangers getting maried 1075 miles from here will enclose an invite to the reception, also!

Brother, talk about strategists!

Tarnished

Just east of Rolling Meadows is a community that has for many years prided itself on being "The City of Friendly Neighbors."

Recently this proud claim was put the test.

A member of the Rolling Meadows Fire Equipment association asked the powers that seem to be in this "friendly" city for permission to park a 1956 car in the business district and sell tickets. The purpose is to raise money for fire equipment for Rolling Meadows.

THE COMMITTEE member was told that it was out of the question. He was further told that it wasn't the responsibility of "The City of Friendly Neighbors" to provide fire protection for Rolling Meadows.

Nobody really asked that this protection be provided. All that was requested was permission to park a car and to sell tickets to those who wished to buy them. This permission has been readily granted by other communities much further away than our "friendly" neighbor.

We realize that this refusal was not made by the people of Arlington Heights. We are also sure that the people of Arlington Heights will be none to happy to know that their city motto is being maligned by a handful of their own businessmen — the very same men who have the most to lose fro ma tarnished reputation.

Barbarism?

I write this to the poor embitter soul, who was caught in the web of the outrageous custom, The Shower.

Three things are evident: you have no children, you are jealous, or have a complex.

In the first place, you could have declined the invite, or accepted and made an impression that would have made you a welcome member of your neighborhood.

That would have led you to social evenings that you are so worried about. (Impression meaning not in gift, but, in personality.)

AS FOR the select few that stay, bless them; for the most part, haven't seen one another for years, and have lots to gas about, plus helping the hostess tidy up.

The next campaign is to get mom to the hospital on time and helping her out when she gets home.

How do I know: I am a mother of 3!

Party Pooper?

The "Rebel With a Cause" (May 10 Fence Post) sounds like a wet blanket and "party pooper" to me.

I've been to quite a lot of showers and never considered myself a "victim" of an invitation.

I don't go to a shower just to sit around looking for something to criticize. And if the "Rebel" thinks everyone goes just to evaluate the gifts each one gives, that's evidently the only reason she herself goes at all.

AS FOR ONE bold character announcing she has to leave, if someone didn't start it, the party could go on all night. And about a "select" few who remain after the others leave; if some didn't stay to clean up and help get things in order, there'd be quite a lot of work to do in the morning.

The reason I like to attend showers is because you get to see friends that you don't get to see very often. Evidently this "rebel" hasn't had any showers given on her and hates to see somone else made happy. No one can compel her to attend a shower. She'd be better off at home with her suspicious mind. Then she wouldn't have to spend a little money on a gift.

Distraught Fan

My home is located directly across the street from the South park.

Each and every time the Little League plays a game, I spend the next day picking up a staggering load of trash that has been dropped by the sponsors and viewers of the game and left to blow about the street, eventually to my lawn.

Fence Post ....

PLEASE believe me, no one can be more ardent a Little League fan than I am, but, after working all day and then coming home to "housekeep" for the participants and fans is more than I feel I should be called upon to do.

There are no trash containers out as yet this year, which usually cuts my paper-gathering chores down a bit.

Gentlemen — couldn't a clean-up committee be formed to help solve this messy and unfair problem? It seems to me that good sportsmanship and good citizenship is really a unit that also includes "leaving things as neat and orderly as they were found."

WHATEVER can be done to put a halt to the wholesale distribution of waste material via my lawn, as well as that of my neighbors, will be most certainly appreciated.

Scourge

And sudden death!

Yet jus a moment before 2 girls were playing with a frolicsome dog in typical childlike manner. Then Mr. Motorist, whoever you were, made a mad dash up the street in a residential area.

I hope you had a terribly important date and that you made it. You see, our dog had one, too, because of you — a date with death. An eye witness account of the incident stated one of the girls came near being a victim, also.

But did you stop?

Oh no! If only you had the courage to inspect the tragedy you had wrought, as much as you had courage to press the accelerator of your car allowing its grinding wheels of death to pass at high speed over our village streets. What a calloused soul; scourge to humanity and violator of human decency you exhibited yourself to be.

I WISH you could have seen my 5-year-old daughter's tear-filled eyes as she patted the side of the limp, blood soaked silent little pal, with whom she was so happy moments earlier.

Because of you 3 children cried themselves to sleep that night. What kind of celebration did you enjoy? The situation cannot be minimized by saying it was only a dog's life that was lost. It could have been, and may next time be, a human life.

You were traveling west on Evergreen ave., in Mt. Prospect, about 7:30 p.m. on Monday, May 7, Mr. Motorist. You had just crossed the intersection at Hi-Lusi ave. when your infamous deed was accomplished.

So that similar accidents might be avoided, I would willingly promote stop-signs at every potentially dangerous corner in the community, because you and others like you, can not exercise a reasonable degree of caution, when sitting behind the wheel of a car.

Extreme Need

This week we have passed the 85 per cent mark of the 1956 Chicago Chapter Red Cross fund campaign, and we are optimistic that we shall reach our goal of $3,700,000 in the near future.

I am sure that we would have been unable to present our need for these fundds to the public in the Chicagoland area were it not for the valuable help given us by the community press. I want you to know that we appreciate, more than I can say, the use of the material which we sent to you in presenting the Red Cross' story to your readers.

Because of the extreme need this year, due to the fact that this is the worst disaster year in American history, we are most grateful to you for your cooperation and help.

LAST WEEK'S HEADLINES

Resume of front page news that appeared in various editions of Paddock Publications and other newspapers of the area that will keep readers informed on headline news of their neighbors.

Arlington Heights

The Consumers Co. cement-batching plant, under fire from village officials, won't be closed down without a fight, company officials said last week.

Village officials and owners of 6 lots in the business district that the village wants to buy for parking are far apart on purchase prices. The eris a gulf in the neighborhood of $40,000 between the asking and bid prices on the 4 homes and 2 vacant lots.

A petition containing 876 signatures asking that Police Chief Skoog be given a public hearing was presented to the village board at a special meeting. The petition was circulated on the assumption that the board will soon ask Skoog to resign.

Wheeling

Wheeling will get its first shop ping center soon. A contract has already been signed with Jewel Tea co. for a supermarket and there will be 7 other stores and a medical building. Ray and Glenn Miller, local residents, will break ground next month for the center, to be at the rear of the Wheeling State bank along Dundee rd.

An ordinance creating a 9-man plan commission has been adopted by the village board.

DuPage County

Addison and Wood Dale are the latest north DuPage towns to adopt the half cent sales tax.

The county health department handed back to Wood Dale the power to regulate its own septic systems and wells. The village then passed an ordinance governing temporary installations until the community's sewer system is ready for service sometime next year.

Des Plaines

A city councilman estimates that Des Plaines now has a population of 30,000, which would be nearly 10,000 more persons than it had when a special census was taken in 1953. A new census will soon be made.

Flooded basements in the Cumberland subdivision have led to a second suit against the city and the builder. The first suit, which also charged that specifications were not followed or enforced by the city building inspector, was in Algonquin Terrace, built by E. E Horzog.

The proposed Northwest Suburban Water commission still has not been approved or rejected by Park Ridge and Des Plaines, the only 2 towns to be affected which are lagging. The latest idea of the 2 towns is to combine the commission project with a similar project already under way to bring water to Lombard, Villa Park and Elmhurst.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

from Patty McArdle

Dear Peg:

Each morning, about the time Mother is pouring a cup of coffee for each of us, she casually asks, "How are you feeling today, dear?"

I have to laugh to myself, as each morning I reply, "Just fine and dandy!", for I know that, properly interpreted, her inquiry into the state of my health really means, "Don't you feel even slightly different today, dear? You surely have some indication that the delivery is getting closer—if ONLY you would say that you even just THINK maybe this MIGHT be the day."

This morning was no different—same hopeful question—same hopeless answer. However, I went on to suggest that we do something other than our usual routine of housework, shopping, chauffeuring Megan and entertaining Bridget. It was sunny, warm and an ideal day for a drive. Still hopeful, Mother didn't want to travel too far from home or the hospital so, trying to think of an unusual place where we wouldn't have to "dress up" yet where there would be something to see and a place to have lunch, I thought of Long Grove.

THIS TINY COMMUNITY, lying quietly in the shade of old gnarled-trunked maples and oaks, is located on a picturesque country road about twenty minutes from us. There is no doubt that the major business of the town is the buying and selling of antiques. There is also a charming country store, but its groceries are incidental to its gifts and antiques.

The tiny children's shop and the "Rural Rags" —ladies' casual clothes—would provide no competition for any clothier around. In fact, I presume that both stores are just starting out, since they had so little merchandise. With the rapidly growing popularity of this village, these shops have a wonderful opportunity of becoming quaint little centers for unusual and attractive suburban and country fashions for women and children.

THE LARGEST AND BY FAR the most interesting store is the Crossroads Exchange. Here you can find anything from a second hand bird cage to a piece of lovely Staffordshire. Actually the Exchange is an outlet for people wanting to sell their antiques or second hand items on consignment and judging from the number of people (on a week day) wandering in and out of the place and looking over the things for sale, it would be a good place to dispose of anything you might want to sell.

The first attraction Bridget spotted was a box full of old dolls from various countries. The saleslady gave her permission to look through the box which gave Mother and me the comparative freedom to browse through the store. We saw a couple of dandy marble top tables, lovely old silver coffee serving sets, several spice chests and some antique doll house furniture and accessories. I hope, one of these days, to start a collection of antique doll house furnishings for the girls—I think it would be more fun than a doll collection, since there seem to be more interesting and unusual things to collect in the doll house line.

AROUND THE CORNER from the Exchange, is an antique shop featuring all early American pieces. We saw a beautiful drop leaf table and one of those wonderful pine blanket storage boxes. This dealer also had some fine pieces of lusterware. Another place, called "The Grey Barn" was locked up, so we were only able to peek through the windows—just as well! There's never been a "barn," to my knowledge, that housed such priceless loot as this. From the appearance and design of the highly polished chairs, tables, love seats, desks, etc., all in perfect condition, I would guess them all to be imports.

We went back to the Exchange for lunch then drove home. Total purchases for the day: one slightly used, Spanish doll, with "lovely" long black braids, for Bridget and one slightly chipped china atomizer with pink rosebuds for Megan. Total expenditure: $1.80. The girls were thrilled with their "treasures" and Mother and I had fun.

My love,

A-Waiting-Mother-Still-Waiting

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

Some of our best friends are people. We have some pretty good pals in the beast world but, on the whole, it's the people who fascinate us the most. They are so human and that is the best kind.

For instance, take memory. Memory is a lovely human characteristic. It's convenient too. Last year we gave a slumber party. It was horrible and we woke up the morning after feeling like the morning after. We had about 4 hours sleep and had finally dropped off to the tune of Eddie Fisher warbling something too, too sad. We swore that never again would we give a whing like that.

And we didn't. Not for that child that is. But, this year the two who are creeping up on being teen-agers overrode our good sense. Anyway, the bad parts of last year were a little hazy and it all sounded like jolly good fun. The happy chatter of girlish voices raised in play and all that sort of twaddle.

So 17 screaming meemies spent the night and early morning hours with us last week end. So we fell asleep listening to Elvis Pressley yelling at someone to stay off of his blue suede shoes. And, we woke up the morning after, crawled out to the living room where it had been snowing blanket fuzz during the night and consumed a quart of coffee in a vain attempt to get our motor running.

The thing that kept us going ttroughout the day was a rather diabolical thought we kept fostering in our tired brain. It was not a nice picture that we had conjured up and we can only justify its existence by saying that we were a little bushed. This last is the understatement of the week.

The thought of all the miserable children in town who were running around hollow-eyed and feeling mean just fascinated us. And, all those parents who couldn't cope with all those tired jills. Of course, we were in no condition to cope with our own, but we chose to ignore that. We just bleated at them to get to bed. So we could. And we did.

Next year will be the year for a sedate tea, we think.

FROSH-SOPH TRACK TEAM at Arlington Heights is undefeated in duals this season, finished second to LaGrange in a triangle when one man fell, and won Highland Park meet for the locals' most successful season in years. It was the large turnout of boys that made the difference for coaches Bob Scott and Bill Beckman, with second and third rated boys keeping the No. 1 lads stepping to retain their position.

FROSH-SOPH TENNIS turnout at Arlington high school was large for the photographer, smaller for the coach, but the team showed plenty of improvement as the season went on. Here's the group that turned out one sunny day in March, before Coach Bob Baker could tie them all down for actual team competition.

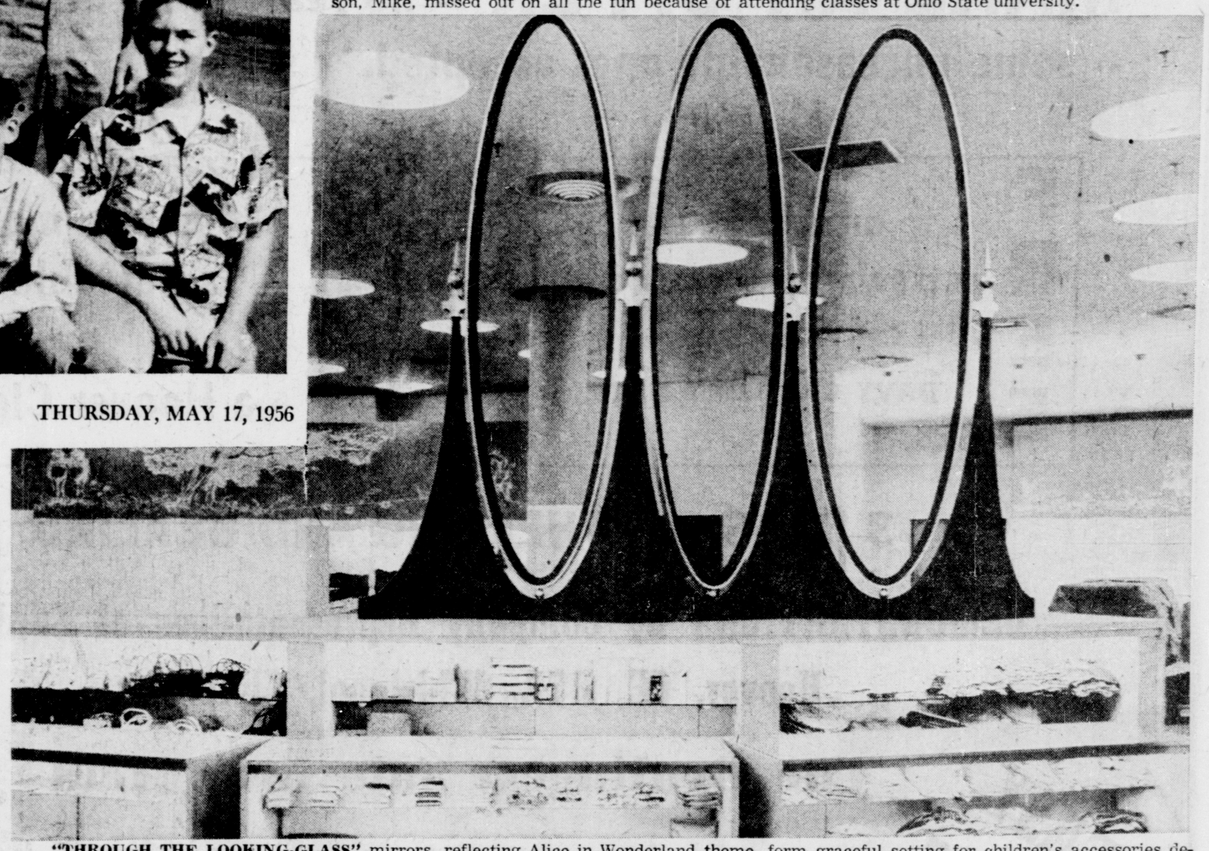
GREGORY WAS THE HERO of the E. J. Bassett family of Old Plum Grove rd., Palatine, recently when he landed the No. 1 prize of a fishing expedition off Pompano Beach, Fla., a 16 lb. 5-5 sailfish. Gregory is standing above next to his catch, the only sailfish caught that day in a fleet of 20 boats. It took the 6-year-old 25 minutes to land it.

The 4-11 Barracuda on the left was caught by Greg's brother Jeff, while the Bonita in the center "was caught by dad." The family returned home 2 weeks ago after a 6 weeks' stay in Florida. Another son, Mike, missed out on all the fun because of attending classes at Ohio State university.



"THROUGH THE LOOKING-GLASS" mirrors, reflecting Alice in Wonderland theme, form graceful setting for children's accessories department at Carsons' Edens Plaza store. Grand opening of the new store is scheduled for this Saturday at Edens plaza at Lake ave.

Hill-Behan Opens New Suburb Yard

Hill-Behan Lumber Co. opens its eighth yard in the Chicago area today at Ontarioville. A. J. Miller, head of Hill-Behan operations in the Chicago area, announced that the 4-day grand opening will last from Thursday to Sunday.

Manager of the Ontarioville outlet is Dennis Friel, connected with the firm for 4 years. The store is on Lake st. (rte. 20) next to the train station.

GRAND OPENING hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday and 9 to 1 p.m., next Sunday only.

Miller said that the store opening is a recognition of the rapid growth in the surrounding areas of Cook and DuPage counties, as both Chicago and Elgin spread their suburbs into the rural areas.

The store will handle a complete line of lumber and builder's materials for both the home owner and contractor. (DL

Mooseheart Official To Be Guest Speaker For Moose Ceremony

Trees Must Watch Their Water Table Manners For Chow

If you're going to feed your trees this spring, there are no short cuts to providing blue plate specials for arboreal friends. The do-it-yourself feeder sometimes makes the mistake of punching too few holes too shallowly.

The key to taking care of arboreal appetite is to assure proper distribution of the tree food high in nitrogen content, according to F. C. Carr, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. This means punching the necessary amount of holes at least 18 inches deep over the entire root area.

Holes should be punched no further than 18 inches apart. It is no mistake to put them even closer. The more holes, the better the distribution of the fertilizer to feeding roots. Feeding roots usually extend as far as the branch spread.

Exhaustive tests have shown movement of soil waters is largely vertical, with very little lateral movements. During rains, movement is down, of course. Otherwise, moisture movement is up.

Since most feeding roots are within 20 inches of the ground surface, holes about 18 inches deep assure the tree available supplies of nourishing elements. Roughly each hole accommodates about a handful of dry, granular fertilizer material. Holes filled back with peat or other humus will aid in root aeration, another essential for arboreal health. (DL

Franchise Fees Still Increasing

Collections of corporation franchise fees and taxes continue to forge steadily ahead of last year's record breaking levels, with the total thoughr April being $127,867.58 greater than at the same time a year ago, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier reported today.

The amount collected through April was $526,378.90, as compared with the $398,511.32 collected in the first four months of 1955, Mr. Carpentier said. The total for the month of April alone, $104,437.33, was $25,302.62 more than the amount for the corresponding month last year.

So far this year, 3,740 new corporations have been granted chartes or issued certificates of authority to operate in Illinois, an increase of 519, secretary Carpentier said.

Home Buyers Now Wary Of 'Gimmicks, Extras'

A trend away from gimmicks and extras as sales features was revealed in a recent survey by Benjamin Keach, president of Chicago Federal Savings and Loan association.

Builders reported extras often lost sales for them.

The following reasons were cited:

1—The buyer is looking for the most floor space for his money. Extras can increase selling price from $150 to $1,500 or more.

2—Sales were lost when purchasers didn't like the kind of appliances installed.

3—Buyers often bring old equipment with them which they plan to install.

KEACH SAID BIRCH or mahogany kitchen cabinets, built-in [illegible] and circuit-breaker wiring are becoming standard in homes $30,000 and over, but that many builders are leaving the extras out, or making them optional in their lower priced homes.

The survey revealed how the increased cost of vacant unimproved land had discouraged builders from putting extra features in their houses.

Ten acres in Morton Grove increased from $5,000 to $7,500 an acre within 6 months during the past year.

Thirteen acres in Northfield township sold recently for $5,000 an acre that could have been bought 2 years ago for $2,000.

In east Morton Grove, 8 acres sold recently for $10,500 an acre that cost only $5,000 an acre in early 1955. The sharpest increase Keach reported was a tract of 6 acres in Skokie which jumped from $750 an acre in 1946 to $12,500 an acre today.

KEACH POINTED out that builders risk loss of competitive pricing when extras are installed.

A Deerfied builder who was putting in fixtures last year is now making time optional because of buyer complaints, and is pricing his homes with appliances and without.

Extras can add $12 to $15 a month to payments on a conventional 20-year mortgage, and $8 to $10 a month on a 25-year 10 per cent down VA loan.

Keach said this was another factor builders must contend with in adding extra features. (DL

Lawn Seed

Lawn seed mixtures that contain large amounts of annual grasses along with the perennial grasses are not a good buy because the faster growing annuals may crowd out the perennials and slow up growth of a good sod.

PUBLIC IS INVITED to attend the dedication ceremony of All American Life & Casualty Company's new general office building at 2 p. m. May 18 at 505 Park Place, Park Ridge. After a brief program, everyone is invited to inspect the building. Guided tours will be provided for those who wish to see the many features of All American's new home. Open house will be held from 2:30 to 5:00 p.m.

John Wm. Chapman, lieutenant governor of the state of Illinois will speak at the dedication. Fred Haack Jr., mayor of Park Ridge will officially welcome the company to the community. Ground was broken for this modern, three story office building of Georgian Colonial architecture April 19, 1955. Today, thirteen months later, the building takes its place as another landmark in Park Ridge. The attractive building across from Hodges Park, at 505 Park Place, is an asset to the Park Ridge business district. The style of architecture is in keeping with the other buildings in the area and enhances the beauty of this section of the city.

Carson's New North Shore Store To Open Saturday

Carson Pirie Scott and company will open the north shore's first complete department store in a shopping center Saturday, May 19, at Edens Plaza, just off Edens Expressway, in west Wilmette.

A dedication ceremony and other festivities will make this historic occasion.

A "FLOWER LINE" of 8-year-old girls representing several communities will part to admit the first official customers to the store. Souvenirs, balloons and the skirling sounds of a kilted bagpipe band will add to the occasion.

As a memento of the opening, Carson's will present sterling silver tongs to all north shore brides who register on or after May 19.

CARSON'S new store contains 100 departments — every department, except for the basement, that the downtown store affords. Managed by Marshall R. Long, of Wilmette, it will employ more than 200 people, all of whom, aside from Carson-trained supervisory personnel, have been recruited from neighboring communities.

Although the department store will be the largest unit, occupying almost half the total area of the center, 24 other stores and services will open in the late summer and fall to complete the roster of occupants.

One of the center's more convenient features is a 648,000 square feet paved area which provides parking facilities for 1,700 automobiles. Edens Plaza was designed for the convenience of shoppers who drive. (BB

Paraplegics Company Wants Handicapped

Dwight Guilfoil, Arlington Heights, president of Paraplegics Manufacturing Co. of Franklin Park announced today that the company was again hiring qualified persons with physical handicaps to handle their ever increasing contracts for electronic assembly work.

Guilfoil pointed out that the new employees—numbering 6 last week alone—were being taken from a waiting list maintained by the company, but that new applicants would also be given careful consideration.

It is the only known firm in the country which employs a majority of disabled persons at standard union wages and is incorporated "for profit," receiving no outside subsidation or special tax privileges. We have a simple credo, stated Guilfoil, "that there is no reason why a person with a physical handicap should be a charity case if he has the desire and ability to work."

All they need is to have the opportunity to be placed in a job to commensurate with experience and skill and within their physical capabilities. The companies that sub-contract work to us are providing that opportunity. We take care of the training and job placement.

PRESENTLY the Paraplegics Co. is doing a variety of electronic assembly work for such firms as Western Electric Co., Bell & Howell, Stewart Warner, Hotpoint, Motorola and Teletype.

In addition to paraplegics, the firm has found many valuable employees with such disabilities as leg and arm amputations, blindness, polio, arthritis, multiple sclerosis, palsy, arrested TB and heart conditions.

Ittis estimated that in the Chicago area alone there are some 50,000 persons unemployed due to a physical handicap. In the past five years the Paraplegics firm has enabled many of these people to obtain a new start in life towards a goal of self-sufficiency.

Shoppers Wary Of Phony Ads After Being 'Stung'

"Worth $30, selling here for $18."

"$60 suit for $39.50."

These claims sound great don't they?

But after you're "stung" once by such phony advertising claims, you're likely to consider all advertising claims a bunch of fairy tales.

A member of the Arlington Heights chamber of commerce this week said that use of false claims regarding the "value, former price, original, regular or usual price" of an article has become so widespread that it threatens public confidence in all advertising.

He is Robert J. March, a toy store operator and chairman of the chamber's retail directive committee.

MARSH NOTED that many ficitious or unsubstantiated comparative prices originate on the local retail level. He stated, however, that according to the National Better Business bureau, the problem is further complicated by fake pre-ticketing practices which have been employed by a small group of manufacturers on the regional and national level.

Among the examples cited by the bureau are certain little-known brands of electric-fryer cookers, which were pre-ticketed with prices ranging from $39.95 to $49.95, although the articles sell regularly at retail within the $8.00-$12.00 price range.

THERE IS ALSO the case of the so-called "perfume hoax," in which unscrupulous companies placed advertisements in prominent magazines giving a price of $20 per ounce for perfume which had no established distribution nationally at that or any other price. These so-called "nationally advertised $20 perfumes" have been palmed off on the public at from $2 to $3 a bottle as a "great bargain."

Reputable retailers throughout the nation are giving serious study to this entire problem, according to Marsh, and are joining in an effort to eliminate all false comparative prices from advertising.

TAX FACTS

By George Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Bourbonnais elementary school district 53 in Kankakee county has been cited by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois as a fine example of how community cooperation and careful planning on the part of school officials and boards of education can provide necessary school buildings without undue burden on the taxpayers.

Like other districts of the state, Bourbonnais was faced with enrollments which almost doubled between 1950 and 1955. Their rented quarters became insufficient to meet their building needs.

Their bonding power would not permit the building of a gymnasium. For a nominal fee, the board of education provided for a check on the assessment rolls in order to see whether or not all taxable property was being assessed. As a result, bonding power of approximately $36,000 was added, enabling completion of the gymnasium.

The board of education, the county superintendent of schools, and the principal all helped in the planning of the building, which is attractive and functional and was built at an average cost of $8.10 per square foot. This is in contrast to prices of $11 to $16 for comparable schools in surrunding areas. Classrooms averaged $7,750 and the gymnasium area, $70,000. The average classroom cost in the United States for 1953-54 was $35,000. (G

Mt. Prospect Laboratories Break Ground For Addition

Arnar-Stone Laboratories, Inc., Mt. Prospect, which completed its new plant last September, has started work on a new addition.

Ground breaking ceremonies were April 17.

The addition will more than double the present manufacturing area and house the research and control laboratories.

"WE THOUGHT," said E. A. Twerdahl Jr., president, "that our new plant completed last year would be completely adequate for all departments for years to come. Little did we think that the rapid increase in our manufacturing needs would soon crowd our laboratory space to the point where additional area would be needed so soon. Our company has been built upon scientific research, and this will always be an important phase of our business."

During the past 7 years, Arnar-Stone has introduced several important innovations as a result of laboratory and medical research.

First came Americaine topical anesthetic ointment, for rapid relief of surface pain and itching; then came Americaine Aerosol, first application of the automatic spray principle to pharmaceutical use; then came Silicote, the first silicone ointment, used as a skin protectant against a variety of skin conditions.

Newest Arnar - Stone innovation is Lorinal, a non-barbituric sleep producer, now being successfully test-marketed in a number of states.

Several other preparations are now in the laboratory stage, and two are being clinically tested in medical research centers. All of the products are promoted exclusively through the medical profession. (BB

Mt. Prospect Still Leads Northwest In Home Building

Arlington Heights inched closer to Mt. Prospect in April in the 1956 home building race between the 2 villages. But Mt. Prospect closed the first 4 months of the year with an edge of 35 homes.

The April survey of new building in the Chicago region issued by the Bell Savings and Loan association of Chicago also shows that the average value of new homes in Arlington Heights this is third among all Chicago suburbs.

Arlington's 203 homes had a permit value of $3,971,600, for an average of $19,565. Mt. Prospect has 238 homes with a $4,120,703 total and $17,314 average building cost.

In April Arlington led far northwest towns with 68 home permits, Mt. Prospect was second with 62 and Rolling Meadows third with 27. This was the first month in which Rolling Meadows was included in the report.

PALATINE'S 11 HOMES were a drop from 27 homes begun in April, 1955, while Arlington's figure jumped nearly two-thirds and Mount Prospect's remained about the same.

For all types of building, both Arlington and Mt. Prospect had totals of just under one and a half million dollars in April, both figures being substantially higher than those of a year ago.

Nearer to Chicago, there were pockets of great construction activity in April. Niles, with 175 home permits, topped all suburbs last month and Skokie, with 148, was in fourth, behind Melrose Park and Gary.

In the suburbs as a whole, home building slacked off nearly 400 homes from April, 1955 totals and the slump was also noticed in unincorporated areas.

Leaders in home building in the first 4 months of 1956 are as follows:

	Homes	Valuation
Skokie	498	$8,787,000
Park Ridge	189	5,427,589
Westchester	317	4,800,000
Niles	281	4,366,300

Morton Grove	231	3,838,800

South's Racial Attitude Exposed

by WILLIAM O. McGILL

Not far from New Orleans, there is town where a Methodist congregation decided to cooperate with the missionary program which serves migrants.

It was a difficult situation because everyone knows that conditions in that part of the country are not peaceful in these days.

AFTER AG REAT deal of deliberation, the mission staff decided to conduct a segregated school. They reasoned that there were separate camps and separate fields for the migrant workers; they could hold separate church schools without unduly compromising their basic convictions.

The missionary assigned to the work was a southern girl, from the Cumberland Presbyterian church which is primarily a southern denomination, a group which is less suspect than even the so-called "southern" Presbyterian church.

They know now that they did fail to take care of one detail; thoughtlessly, they did not register the mission's car so that it would not bear Illinois license plates.

On the day announcements of the migrant school were to be distributed, the church was packed as though it were Christmas (one hopes the offering was good).

The minister began to have a steady procession of callers. They had one message: this school was not to be held.

THE MISSION staff finally decided not to hold the school.

They were not frightened off; the congregation and the minister were apparently willing to go through with it.

But they decided that the missionary would be gone with the migrants; it would not be fair to compromise future work in the community for that congregation and its minister, and to compromise the health and welfare of these people, when the mission could not possibly assume the responsibility of the burden.

But one thing is clear. In all the talk about integration and the desire to maintain the traditional relation between the races in the south, the voluble southern spokesmen are not interested in "separate but equal," the vocal south is opposed to anything that might suggest either opportunity or concern for the nonwhites.

THE MYTH that southern whites understand and get along with southern Negroes is being revealed for what it is —made up out of whole cloth.

The myth that everything is fine until northern people stir up the Negro is being proved to be an old wives' tale.

The church, when its missionary program is caught in the middle of these situations, may retire rather than create difficulties for other people, but it can remember the patience of God with whom a thousand years are as a day, and it can return to the scene with another opportunity in another year.

This is not mere pious waiting because there are people in towns like this one who believe a change must come.

But they are the ones who must assume the responsibility of opposition; they must carry out their own work of reconciliation.

New Health Film Available For Local Clubs, Groups

"The Edge of Silence," a new motion picture film produced by Zenith Radio Corp., received the coveted golden reel award as the outstanding 16 mm film production of 1955 in the field of health, it was announced here today by Mrs. Villars P. Cagann of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Cagann said that a print of "The Edge of Silence" is available for free showings in Arlington Heights and surrounding suburbs to membership of fraternal organizations, churches, PTA's and other organized groups requesting it.

The golden reel award, sponsored by the Film Council of America, is given annually to those films selected by accredited jurors from all over the United States as the best non-theatrical motion pictures of the year.

"The Edge of Silence," a half-hour film in full color, tells the dramatic stories of a young woman and a successful engineering executive who are losing their hearing, and doing nothing about it. True-to-life incidents underline the mounting frustrations, tensions and needless maladjustments that an uncorrected hearing loss causes these two people.

Mrs. Cagann said that in "The Edge of Silence" there are no technical data to absorb. Any audience from high school age up can benefit from seeing it. (B7

The youngsters will have the use of penguin-type dinghies for their enjoyment. The Penguin type is 11 feet, five inches long, five feet wide, and has a 19-foot mast and a 10-foot boom.

Applications to join the Rainbow Fleet must be secured at the boathouse, located on the west shore of Burnham park lagoon on Northerly Island, just south of the causeway leading to the Planetarium. All qualifying swimming tests must be made at a Park district pool.

Mt. Prospect Man Elected President Continental Electric

EDWARD A. GLAESER
Newly Elected President

HAROLD J. HODGSON, Inverness
Vice President, Treasurer

According to E. A. Glaeser, newly elected president of Continental Electric Co., Geneva, Ill., a completely new management has taken over full control of this internationally known electronic tube plant.

The newly elected officers as of April 12, 1956 are as follows:

E. A. Glaeser, president; Harold J. Hodgson, vice president-treasurer; Edward V. Trainor, vice president; E. C. Hanson, vice president in charge of sales; W. S. Sims, vice president in charge of sales engineering; Tulley Trainor, secretary and Jane E. DeVleshower, assistant secretary.

Edward A. Glaeser has been a prominent corporation attorney for many years and has resided in Mt. Prospect, Ill. since 1936. He has been active in civic, church and political affairs in Elk Grove township. In addition to his duties as president of Continental, Mr. Glaeser will remain as general counsel for the Sterling Midland Coal Co.

Harold J. Hodgson, the new vice president and treasurer resides in Inverness Countryside and he too has been very active in civic and church affairs in this community.

The tube engineers, technicians and production specialists, many of whom have been with Continental Electric Co. for fifteen years will remain at their regular jobs thus insuring the uniformly high quality which has long been a standard for Cetron tubes for over a quarter of a century. Engineering and plant production facilities are being increased for the volume production of phototubes, rectifier tubes, thyratrons. New special purpose electronic tubes for both civilian industry and the armed services are on the drawing boards and will play an integral part in this new expansion program, according to the new management.

Employee benefits such as bonuses, profit sharing and pension programs are being inaugurated as part of this new program.

As Mr. Glaeser stated, "the electronic industry, perhaps more than any other single industry is most important in the modern day scheme of things. It's single and integral role in the automation program is making its presence felt in the home, farm, in industry and on land, in the air and on the sea. We are proud to be a part of so vital an industry."

University Releases New Book For Home Planners

One of the most exciting new books for home planners is now available.

Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees, invites anyone in Cook county who is interested in new housing to drop in at the office and look at this atractive new book called "Contemporary Farmhouses."

Published for the colleges of agriculture in the north central states by the University of Illinois, this revolutionary book not only shows 576 different house plan combinations on 24 divided pages, but it has 22 pages of information you'll need to bring your thinking up to the minute on house design, construction, materials and equipment.

THE BOOK includes tips on planning your home, the house and its surroundings, construction ideas and features, air conditioning, heating equipment, lighting, and wiring, and even a section on ideas for outdoor plantings and planning.

But the best feature of all is the section covering many possible plan combinations especially designed for houses on farms or in other uncrowded locations.

The name Flexipan has been given to the planning system, for the basic idea is flexibility and variety of choice.

The book is not intended as a do-it-yourself handbook, but rather as a guide for builders, dealers, architects and rural leaders, as well as the family itself.

With it there is plenty of opportunity to use imagination in the choice of a plan. But, even more, the book will help to make decisions now that will allow for future changes and perhaps prevent costly and unnecessary mistakes.

ALTHOUGH the book emphasizes the particular problems that apply to farm houses, the Flexiplan makes it possible to put designs together so that they are entirely suitable for nonfarm situations.

In the planning section of "Contemporary Farmhouses," the layout sheets are divided in the middle so that the living and work areas appear on the left-hand side of the divided pages and the bedrooms on the right. You can put together any combination you like, with several possible alternatives to fit the location.

The new planning book was published on May 1.

Your county farm or home extension agent may have a copy that you can see. Or address a card or letter to the state college of agricuture to find out how and where you can obtain a copy. Publication is by the University of Illinois Press, Urbana, Ill. If more convenient, you may order direct from the press at the established price of $3.50 a copy.

"CONTEMPORARY Farmhouses" is officially listed as regional publication 58, as well as Illinois agricultural experiment station bulletin 600. It is a contribution from the cooperative research program of the agricultural experiment stations in the North Central States.

The book was prepared by Murlin R. Hodgell at the University of Illinois under the direction of a regional technical committee.

The participating group includes the agricultural experiment stations of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin, and the U. S. department of agriculture. (Fm

April Meat Output Sets Record High

U. S. meat production set a record high during April, hog output showing the greatest gain and reflecting weaker prices at retail.

This prompted the University of Illinois to rate pork roasts and chops in the consumer value position for the week ending May 12. Pork had trended higher the past few weeks and no guarantees are made that this week's advantages will hold for long.

The U. of I. consumer service weekly survey of buyers representing 800 wholesale and retail outlets in metropolitan Chicago painted this general picture of consumer values for the week:

1. Pork, generally weaker—loin end roasts typically 45c, rib end roasts 35c, and center cut chops 69c.
2. Beef, market about 5 per cent higher at wholesale—blade cut pot roasts 33c, and rib roasts range 53-55c, probably spot market values.
3. Poultry, slightly weaker—2½ pound fryers, 35-39c.

Fresh produce steady to lower for these items: new potato stocks drop 1c a pound, lettuce 2/33c, green house tomatoes 39-49c, tube tomatoes 19-23c, strawberries 49c a quart (limited) and average 29c a pint, and sweet corn 6/29c.

MEAT SLAUGHTER under federal inspection the last week in April exceeded 423 million pounds, up 6 per cent over the preceding week and 11 per cent above the corresponding week last year, making it a record month. Beef cattle jumped 4 per cent over the preceding week and 3 per cent over last year. But hog slaughter soared 10 per cent above the week before and a rousing 28 per cent over like 1955, accounting for the weakened prices. Lamb production was down a shade from the previous week and also a year ago.

Other market specifics include:

Beef — despite the 5 per cent wholesale increase in the face of larger cattle runs, prices are still about 10 per cent below year ago. Blade cut pot roasts at this week's concensus price mentioned above computes to about 14c a standard serving, and rib roasts at 23c a standard serving. Other quotes: Short ribs range 15-25c from last week's 19c, for a per serving cost range of 8-13c; most plate beef items quote similarly; corned beef up an average 2c, reaching a typical 51c; round steaks steady at 49c; cube steaks 69c; rolled boneless rump roasts lowest at 69c, and hamburger starts at 33c.

Pork—fresh cut pork situation improves with drop in wholesale loin prices. Picnics, or cala hams—that provide 2 servings a pound—quote 29-39c range; canned short shank cooked picnics quote lowest at 55c; smoked Boston butts that provide 4 servings a pound quote 53-61c by brands. Bacon remains at a concensus 43c for regular slice good quality but 49-53c for top brands. Sausage in bulk quotes lowest at 29c.

POULTRY & EGGS—While fryers hold the value position, stewing hens warrant consideration at a range of 36-42c and ducks are a value according to many quotes, but running typically 49c. Eggs hold seasonally low and steady, mostly 49c dozen for grade A large white, 2c lower for mixed.

Produce — Apple products are representative of a variety of canned, frozen and fresh fruit values. A different storage method—called "modified atmosphere"—prolongs marketing season and maintains better quality for McIntosh apples, one of the varieties used in commercial tests. The result, current Chicago quotes of 2 pounds 39c (virtually fall level pricing). Western Delicious quote 2 pounds 25c.

Spot values also in canned apple products. Florida oranges and grapefruit are firmer at wholesale and reflect accordingly at retail. California oranges mostly 69-73c for larger sizes. Pineapple a value at 29c. Vegetables quote variable with touchy spring weather but mostly steady to lower as noted.

Potatoes are expected to have reached their high point for the season for old crop Idaho's and Dakota reds. Increased shipments of new potatoes are expected to soften prices a penny. Green beans are an example of bad weather dividends, moving higher and of generally poor quality. Special items: Expect watermelon at prevailing 8c per pound, cantaloupe higher, and mushrooms a better treat with 5 ounce packages mostly 25c.

GROCERIES AND frozen foods—While there are no appreciable market changes, there will be many consumer values showing up in spring promotion splurges for key fruit and vegetable items, canned tuna, frozen pot pies, and a few dairy foods, mainly cheese. Canned fruite receive feature attention in many stores.

Most often quoted are 16 ounce pears 23c, Elberta peach halves or sections 29c for 2½ size, fruit cocktail 16 ounce size 23c, and apple sauce 23c. Frozen vegetables—mostly peas, corn, snap and lima beans—quote at per serving cost levels of 6c. A typical 10 ounce package of these items serve 3. Strawberries, raspberries and orange concentrate round out the frozen line features at steady price levels. (Fm

Corn Planting Late Getting Started Here

Corn planting was still just getting started May 10 this year as contrasted with a beginning date in 1955 of May 2.

Scattered rains continued over the weekend of May 5, and low temperatures followed May 7 and 8 with a low of 31 degrees reported in northwest Ohio.

Soil temperatures were in the forties, which is too low for rapid corn germination. However, by Thursday, May 10, many DeKalb crops reporters indicated high temperatures of 80 degrees.

CORN PLANTING began first in Missouri, central Illinois, western Iowa and southern Minnesota.

Northern Illinois, Indiana and Ohio were generally too wet for planting operations.

In northern Illinois as high as 10 inches of rain had fallen in ten days. Warren in northwestern Illinois had a 2-inch storm in two hours on May 10. By contrast, Nebraska, southwestern Iowa and parts of Missouri were still needing rain badly.

Farmers in many areas are planning to use less commercial fertilizer this year. The last 2 dry seasons have caused a decrease in profit from its use in drier areas, and in these same areas there can be a distinct carry-over effect from the previous applications.

ONE DISEASE worry for corn farmers is that Stewart's disease, characterized by longitudinal striping on the leaves with death of plants in severe cases will be prevalent farther north this year. This disease is carried by flea beetles which lived over winter in larger numbers than usual.

The soybean acreage is expected to be the largest ever. The recent high prices of beans will encourage heavier planting.

Central Illinois is still the center of soybean production, but many Corn belt states are continually expanding their acreage.

High Volume Of Cattle Loadings

Serving more than 557,000 farmers and ranchers on 89 major live stock markets throughout the United States, the 23 member marketing agencies affiliated with National Live Stock Producers Assn. handled an aggregate volume of 235,945 deck loads of live stock valued at $747,462.45 during 1955.

This compares with a total volume of 239,269 deck loads of live stock with a value of $848,652,556.63 marketed during 1954. (A deck load is figured on the basis of 25 head of cattle, 75 calves, 70 hogs or 115 sheep.)

On a headage basis, producers agencies handled a total of 12,773,707 head of live stock in 1955 as compared with 13,178,174 in 1954. (Fm

Rented Land Lags Behind In Conservation

Conservation on the 40 per cent of land that is rented in the north central states lags behind conservation an owner-operated land.

A recent north central regional bulletin, "Conservation on Rented Land in the Midwest," describes special problems in leasing rented land so that conservation will be practiced on it and suggests ways of helping to solve these problems.

Experiment stations in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa ,Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota Ohio, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Alaska cooperated in producing the bulletin.

You can look at a copy in your county farm adviser's office, or you can write directly to the department of agricultural Economics, college of agriculture, Urbana, for one.

Farm Adviser's Notes

Are you having trouble in adjusting your plows? A new publication, circular 755, entitled "Six Steps in Adjusting Mold Board Plows" has been released by the college of agriculture, University of Illinois.

This may be just the information you need. You can obtain your copy by writing me.

The third annual Illinois Farm Machinery day will be held Tuesday, May 29 at the agricultural engineering department, University of Illinois, Urbana.

The field day is conducted annually for the benefit of farm machinery dealers and their company representatives.

The co-operating organizations are: Illinois Retail Farm Equipment association and Mississippi Valley Farm Equipment association.

ACCORDING to the 1954 census report Cook county has 2272 farms.

The value of the farm products sold before expenses totalled $23,902,996. The value of the horticultural specialties was $11,152,092 or nearly ½ of the total value of all products sold. Livestock and livestock products sold totalled $5,715,996. In the past we have thought that we were a large dairy county but to my surprise the value of the dairy products was not as large as the other livestock products or the value of the field crops.

Agriculture in Cook county is changing rapidly but we still produce nearly half (in value) of all the horticultural specialties in the state and 25 per cent of all the vegetables.

Many think that because of Chicago and all of the suburban areas and villages in the county that there is little room left for agriculture, but it may be surprising for you to know that Cook County ranks 16th out of 102 counties in Illinois in the value of agricultural products produced.

It ranks 26th in the number of farms in the county. The average size of the farm is slightly under 70 acres, while all other counties in the state, except Du Page, average more than 100 acres.

COOK COUNTY has the most highly specialized type of farming of any county in the state.

July 22 to 28 will be National Farm Safety Week. The theme will be "Safety Pays All Ways." You will read more about this in a later issue. (Fm

Cattle De-Louse Themselves With Backrubber 'Control'

Cattle can de-bug themselves when provided with a backrubber.

The small biting hornfly that clusters about the shoulders, backs and tailcrowns of the animals is readily controlled by this method. In addition, these backrubbers will often help to reduce the louse problem.

Conversely, backrubbers are not very effective against stable flies, horse flies, cattle grubs, and mange with the insecticides now approved for use.

VARIOUS types of homemade and commercially manufactured cable backrubbers are used on Illinois farms. Regardless of the type you use, place them near waterholes, under lone trees in pastures, and in similar places where cattle usually loaf.

Brushy or wooded areas compete with backrubbers; therefore, do not select such locations. The effectiveness of backrubbers depends on how often the animals use them.

DDT and methozychlor are the preferred insecticides to use on backrubbers. Use DDT on beef herds only; methoxychlor can be used on both beef and dairy animals.

Because of residue hazards, do not use DDT within 60 days of slaughter. Rotenone is also being used on backrubbers but the results have been less effective, especially in controlling horn flies.

DDT and methoxychlor are the available as 25 per cent emulsifiable concentrates and should be diluted to 5 per cent strength with fuel oil when used on backrubbers (1 quart of 25 per cent emulsion with 4 quarts of oil). Use a light-grade fuel oil and not crankcase or lubricating oils.

About 2 quarts of diluted solution will treat 15 to 20 feet of sacking for the initial application. Re-treat the burlap every 3 to 4 weeks by adding about half of the amount used for the first application. (Fm

— 10 —

That's how many years we've been building in Arlington Heights and surrounding towns. Many have come and gone in that time—we hope to be around a lot longer.

— 500 —

That's how many homes we've built in that time. Some have been expensive, many of them modest, but the same quality of workmanship went into all of them.

— 2,500 —

That's the number of people who either are living happily in our homes or have sold them at substantial profits.

27,500 —

That's the number of dollars it costs to buy over 1500 square feet of liveable area in our new colonial. Six LARGE rooms, 1½ baths, fireplace, attached garage, full basement, gas heat, extra rooms and baths at low cost—in fact so many plus features we don't like to pay for the space to advertise them all.

Come Out, on South Walnut Street, Arlington Heights, and see what's happening. Your neighbors who need that home with more room have kept us busy—Can we serve you?

Words Often Misused

Avoid such expressions as, "Jim told me as much," "I thought as much," and "He admitted as much." Instead, say, "Jim told me so," "I thought so," and, "He admitted it (or this)."

Do not say, "I wish I could bowl like you." Say, "I wish I could bowl as you do."

Although the statement, "John or Mary must give up his place," is grammatically correct, it is awkward. It is much better to say, "John must give up his place, or Mary hers."

Do not say, "I'll bet he'll fool you as easily as I." Say, "as easily as me."

Do not say, "He believes in mental telepathy." Omit "mental," as "telepathy" means "mental communication."

Do not say, "Where are you going to go now?" Omit "to go."

Words Often Mispronounced

Recess. Preferred pronunciation is with accent on second syllable.

Ribald. Pronounce ribb-ahld, accent first syllable.

Weed Chemicals Are Dangerous

With the season for weed spraying just around the corner, Earl Spurrier, University of Illinois crop specialist, has prepared a check list that can make your spraying easier, safer and more effective.

1. Since weed chemicals can be dangerous to man and plant crops if they aren't used properly, read container labels carefully before you use the chemicals.

2. Put your spray rig into top operating condition before you attempt to spray any crop. Calibrate it several times during the spraying season to make up for wear on nozzles and moving parts. Otherwise they may deliver too much spray material for certain crops. That's very important if you're using 2,4-D at very light rates as a post-emergence herbicide on soybeans.

3. CALIBRATE your spray rig for the soil condition in the field where you'll be spraying. If you calibrate the rig on a hard road and spray in a soft field, you'll find the field speed quite a bit slower. Delivery of spray material will be boosted 20 to 30 per cent if the field speed drops one mile an hour under the same pressure.

4. Look out for spray drift. If there are sensitive crops — like soybeans or tomatoes close to the field you want to spray, hold off while the wind is blowing so that you won't run the risk of damaging the sensitive crop with spray drift.

5. The size of the weeds—not the size of the corn—should tell you when to spray 2,4-D on corn. For annual broadleafed weeds, 2,4-D is best soon after they emerge.

If the corn is less than 12 inches high, you can spray 2,4-D without damaging the corn. But, if it's over 12 inches high, use boom drops or extensions to keep the spraying from going directly over the corn.

Don't spray corn when it's tasseling or silking. Otherwise you can spray throughout the growing season without fear of damage if you use the propber dosage. (Fm

The REGISTER Reviews...

And Comments On Latest Headline Happenings

by BUD BOOTH

- 'Way Back In '32
- Hot Campaigning
- Perry And Reed
- What Happened?

Friday, November 4, 1932 — The Register was in its 33rd year as another presidential election arrived on the scene. Interest was running high on both the national and local levels and we were devoting no less than five front page stories to details, issues, charges and counter-charges, etc.

Here are some excerpts from these articles . . .

"One of the most important elections in United States history takes place next Tuesday. Registrations are the greatest ever recorded. Results are in doubt. Although in the straw balloting, Roosevelt is ahead, much of his seeming lead may be due to the fact that dissatisfied people are probably the most inclined to send in straw votes. Then many of the votes were taken weeks ago before Hoover made his big comeback.

"Whether recovery may gradually progress under Hoover's continued program, or whether new forces may become active, perhaps revolutionary, under a Democratic regime, are among questions involved in the results."

And on the tough race for DuPage state's attorney between GOP incumbent Chauncey Reed and Democrat Joseph Sam Perry . . .

"The Republican leaders today smacked their lips with satisfaction in contemplating the results next Tuesday. 'It's just another Democratic rebellion that we will put down in the customary and convincing manner,' said one leader. 'Of course Perry is going to get some votes throughout the county but the report that he constitutes a danger to Reed's success Tuesday is ridiculous. We expect the vote to be around 35,000 and the most we are willing to concede the Democrats is 10,000 votes for the top man on their ticket,' he added.

"Not only do the Republican leaders expect the county ticket to carry by a substantial majority, but they expect Hoover and Small to run far ahead of Roosevelt and Horner in DuPage county."

From the other side . . .

"Both Horner and Perry are expected to cut heavily into the regular Republican vote in DuPage county, says a late report from county Democratic headquarters at Glen Ellyn. Both candidates are expected to get the support of hundreds of Hoover Republicans. The Democrats claim that there is a breach in the Republican ranks and that this breach is widening as the election nears.

"The report says, 'Republican Perry committees are being organized in several communities. We feel victory is assured for the Democratic candidate for state's attorney. Joseph S. Perry has completed the most vigorous campaign conducted by any Democrat in the county.'

"The total vote in the county is expected to be about 40,000, say the Democrats. They figure that Hoover will carry DuPage by 5,000, Horner by 10,000 and that Perry will win over Reed by at least 5,000 votes."

And back to the GOP side . . .

"Republican candidates for county offices were in Roselle and Itasca Saturday night speaking at political gatherings. Reed intimated that his Democratic opponent was having brainstorms and that his charges were mere 'creations of the imagination' to be enjoyed like any fiction, but not to be taken seriously."

The Dems campaigned in north DuPage too . . .

"The county Democratic ticket members spoke Wednesday in both Roselle and Itasca on their final swing around the circuit. Perry reiterated his charges against his opponent and warned his audience of a last minute defense by the state's attorney.

"Joseph Howe, Downers Grove, spoke on the candidacy of Franklin D. Roosevelt, saying that he was the type president who could best understand the needs of the average man and apply right principles to fit those needs."

And so it went right up until the eve of the ballot day in what was to become one of the greatest elections in nationwide and county history. The observation of the Register editor of that day in closing out a review of the election will undoubtedly always be apropos and remains our idea of a very keen idea of what an election should mean . . .

"The ideal of 'office seeking the man, rather than the man seeking the office' still is a good one and if more generously adhered to, would be of everlasting benefit to our country. The wonder in this day is that as many fit men succeed to public office as do."

Next week the coverage of the 1932 election results given by the Register. Do you remember how these contests turned out in the county . . . Did Hoover carry DuPage? . . . How about Perry and Reed? . . . Did county voters select Small or Horner for governor?

Schmoldt Heads New Committee For Inspections

Clarence Schmoldt, Roselle's veteran supervisor representing Bloomingdale township, has been appointed chairman of a new county board committee that will deal with building, septic tank and well inspections. Such inspections were recently transferred from the Du Page health department.

HE WAS appointed by Chairman Seymour Waterfall Jr., Westmont, last week as the memberships for 20 other previously created county board committees were also announced for the next year. Chairmanships of these groups have been divided between 11 supervisors.

Schmoldt was also renamed to head the job classification committee and will serve as a member on the committees dealing with finance, future planning and legislative matters. Fred Koebbeman, Bensenville, Addison town supervisor, was selected for the county home, roads and septic tank, well and building groups.

ITASCAN Elbert Droegemueller, one of two Addison township assistant supervisors, will work on the county fair, civil defense, fees, claims and salaries and building, septic and well committees. The other assistant, Michael Murphy, Elmhurst, was named to the committees on finance, delinquent tax and fees, salaries and claims.

Chairman named besides Schmoldt were: Ralph Yeisley, Elmhurst—roads, health and TB and special sheriff; Henry Holm, Hinsdale — future plan, leagislative and fees, claims and salaries; Harold P. Dunton, Wheaton — election, delinquent tax and landfill.

ARTHUR D. Lamb, Glen Ellyn — insurance and zoning and plats; Lloyd Harner, Hinsdale — finance and airport; George Pratt, Wayne —county fair and license; Charles J. Schatz, Wheaton —county home; Stanley Karr, Elmhurst — courthouse; Chester James, Downers Grove — Toll road, and Roy C. Blackwell, Lombard, civil defense.

Bensenville Gas Station Blast Burns Attendant

Raymond Herre, 19, 264 S. Center st., Bensenville, was taken to Du Page Memorial hospital, Elmhurst, with second degree burns on his face, hands and legs Friday after an explosion at the service station on the northwest corner of York and Irving Park rds.

BENSENVILLE police who investigated said that Herre, and attendant at the station, was washing the floor in the enclosed garage portion of the establishment when fumes apparently exploded and ignited the gasoline he was using for the job. Only damage to the building was a broken window.

THE POLICE were also called to York and Irving for a traffic mishap last Wednesday at 12:25 a.m., but there were no injuries. Charles W. Luther, 23, a Wisconsin serviceman, said his foot slipped off the brake pedal causing his car to hit that of Floyd H. Sutton, 30, Chicago. Both were eastbound on Irving. Sutton had stopped for the traffic sign at the corner.

Boy Cyclist Drives Into Squad Car

A 14-year-old Bensenville boy, Robert Meegan 216 S. Barron, received a small cut on his lift knee, but was otherwise unhurt when he drove into the side of a village squad car while wheeling his bike around the corner at Maine and Center sts. Monday at 4:45 p.m.

Officer Richard A. Garcia, 31, 1309 Brookwood, was backing the police vehicle out of a parking spot in front of 17 W. Main when the mishap took place. He gave the boy first aid then took him home.

THE ARROW TRACES THE PATH of the auto driven by James Fernald, 21, 111 First st., Bloomingdale, when it plunged down the embankment at the overpass of the Illinois Central railroad on S. Bloomingdale rd. last Thursday night. He was taken to DuPage Memorial hospital, Elmhurst, with chest and right arm injuries. The overpass and its approaches represent one of the most dangerous spots in north DuPage due to the narrow width of the pavement and bridge and the lack of visibility from either direction. Fernald cheated death in his mishap, but will the next driver victimized by this hazard spot be as fortunate? —Staff Photo

New Petition Is Filed In School Transfer Battle

Some 350 signatures appeared on petitions filed Tuesday in Wheaton with Roy DeShane, county school superintendent, calling for a new hearing on the proposed transfer of an area in and around the village of Bloomingdale from the Glenbard high school district to north Du Page district 108.

UNLIKE their predecessors, however, these petitions carry revisions in respect to the section involved in the change sought. Dropped from the plans is a region generally south of Schick rd. and south and west of Bloomingdale village, states Phil Locke, Glen Ellyn, attorney for the petitioners.

DeShane has set May 28 at 8:45 p.m. in the county courthouse annex in Wheaton as the time and place for the county school trustees' hearing of the new petitions. The Bloomingdale area has been involved in the annexation proceedings now for nearly two years.

THE ADVOCATES of the change now feel, however, that the plan will go through as proposed. They hope that the area dropped from consideration in the transfer will eliminate most of the opposition to the project. The new district 10 high school is expected to be ready for occupancy in September.

In the meantime, however, citizens in the area involved remain in the Glenbard district and will be eligible to vote in a special election May 26 which propsses a $4,760,000 bond issue for expansion of the district's facilities to include a complete new building in Lombard.

Annual Legion Dance

The annual dance sponsored by the Robert D. Clark post, Legion auxiliary will be held May 26 at 9 p.m. at 229 W. Irving Park rd., Bensenville. Music by Ralph Stahlmann trio.

New Tax Rates Released; Worst News For Roselle

The new 1955 rates for real estate taxes payable this year are out in Du Page county and property owners in the 18 municipalities can find little to cheer about.

HARDEST HIT OF ALL will be those taxpayers in Roselle where the biggest gain over a year ago has been registered. Increase there based on an average $10,000 valuation will be in excess of 26 per cent from $334.10 to $422.20. Roselle is the only Du Page municipality to top the $400 mark on this basis.

In direct contrast to this marked change upward is the increase of just a little over one per cent figured for Wood Dale. This smallest gain among the cities and villages was announced by the office of County Clerk Clarence V. Wagemann as from $341.80 last year to $346.20.

OTHER LOCAL increases recorded are as follows in the villages: Addison, 12% from $308.70 to $345.80; Bensenville, 6% from $354 to $375.10; Itasca, 8% from $320.90 to $346.70, and Bloomingdale, 18% from $272.90 to $321.80. All these figures are, of course, based on $10,000 assessed valuations.

Roselle's highest taxpayers will be followed in order by those from: Downers Grove, $378; Wheaton, $361.90; West Chicago $358; Itasca; Wood Dale, and Addison. Lowest on the $10,000 basis will be Winfield's $286 followed by $296.70 figured for Lombard in school districts 44 and 87.

Below are the breakdowns of the amounts listed for the local communities.

Addison — School district 4, $145.10; high school district 100, $138.80, and village, $27.30.

BENSENVILLE — School district 2, $163.10; high school district 100, $138.80, and village, $38.60.

Itasca — School district 10, $149.20; high school district 108, $146.30; village, $14.60, and mosquito abatement, $2.

Wood Dale — School district 7, $149.20; high school district 100, $138.80; village, $11.10, and fire protection district, $12.50.

Each of the above also include $17.50 for township, $16 for county and $1.10 for forest preserve.

Laux Gives Land In Addison For Park Facilities

The Addison village board was last week officially notified of the permanent donation of several lots for park property near the intersection of Michigan st. and Diversey ave. by Richard M. Laux, 102 North st., former postmaster in the community.

HE HAD BEEN allowing use of the tract for village recreation facilities for some months, but had not actually turned the property over. The land has been developed as a playground and ball field through the efforts of Addison's park board headed by Leonard Kuhlman.

OTHER MEMBERS of this recently created body which now plans to proceed further with development of the property as a park are D. Fox, M. Rumple, R. Scheel, J. Rutz, L. Elyea, J. McCall, J. Pawlick and J. Liverton.

Old Medinah School On Auction Block June 2

The old and now delapidated Medinah public school and the half-acre of land around it on the north side of Irving Park rd., a short distance east of Medinah rd., will be placed on public sale at the site Saturday June 2, at 3 p.m., it was announced this week.

WORD OF THE MOVE being taken by the Du Page board of school trustees came from Roy DeShane, county school superintendent of schools and ex-officio secretary of the board. He reveals that no bid of less than $1,000 will be considered for the property which has over 200 feet of frontage on Irving Park.

THE OLD SCHOOLhas gradually fallen to a sad state of decay since it has been impossible to keep guard over it to ward off vandals due to its location away from other structures in the rural neighborhood. The building went out of use several years ago when the new Medinah school on N. Medinah rd. was completed and occupied.

Appropriate $20,000 For Community Protection

Roselle has taken a long step toward removing much of the danger at its three Milwaukee Road rail crossings.

THE VILLAGE BOARD Monday night adopted a resolution calling for the appropriation of $20,000 as the local share of the total cost of about $60,000 for gates at the Roselle rd. and Prospect and Park st. crossings.

Illinois Commerce commission inspectors agreed that gates were necessary at the trio of hazard spots after completing a recent survey which showed that a total of over 3,500 vehicles used the crossings during a 24-hour period. Counters registered 1,700 at Roselle rd., 1,100 at Prospect and 750 at Park.

"AND THESE counts were probably conservative since it was raining that day," says Village President A. W. Jordan. The $20,000 appropriation, he reveals, represents what has been figured as Roselle's maximum share of the cost. The money will come from motor fuel and sales tax disbursements as well as other sources.

Balance of the cost of the gates will be born in set proportions as figured by the ICC, by the Milwaukee Road and the state and county highway departments much in the same manner as a similar program in Bensenville.

Seek Okay Of New Itasca Fire Station May 26

Another step in the modernization program for Itasca fire protection district 1 will confront voters of the territory May 26 when they will be asked to act on the proposal calling for the construction of a new fire station with a $37,000 bond issue.

OFFICIALS of the district, which takes in Itasca and an area south of the community, point out that the new structure is a genuine necessity since the existing facilities in the village hall are unable to hold the more modern equipment now in use by the volunteer force.

The district has only two stalls in the present quarters and the recent delivery of a new fire truck increased its number of vehicles to three. Three is aso an emergency truck of the large panel type and the old engine which remains available as an auxiliary unit.

THE NEW building would contain four stalls and adequate additional space to meet needs of the forseeable future, they report. A factor sure to appeal to the voters involves the certain lowering of fire insurance rates in the district with the construction of the new station.

It has been estimated that insurance costs would drop on the average of $35 per home in the village with the new classification and would also fall substantially with a lowering classification in the rural region. The firemen hope that all voters will consider these facts at the polls May 26.

Local Bank To Buy Roselle Fire Bonds

Although they have not yet been issued, the Roselle State bank has agreed to purchase the $50,000 in bonds which will be used to finance the purchase of the new fire truck and construction of the new fire station in the village, it was disclosed this week by Attorney Louis Goebel.

The transaction has been arranged with the bank officials, he says, at an interest rate of 3 per cent callable which means that the bonds may be retired quicker if funds are available for such purpose.

Seek Applicants For Itasca Postmaster

An examination for postmaster at Itasca with a salary of $4,890 a year will be open for receipt of applications until Tuesday, the U.S. Civil Service commission has announced. Applicants are directed to apply to the commission at Washington, 25, D.C. A written test will be conducted at Elgin, it is further anounced.

Local Banks Up Savings Deposit Rates To 2%

The 3 north DuPage county banks this week voted to increase the interest rate on savings deposits from 1% to 2% effective July 1.

THIS ACTION follows that of Chicago banks and will probably soon be in effect all over the country.

Savings depositors in Bensenville State, The Itasca State and Roselle State banks will benefit from the new policy. Interest earning will be doubled.

No Senior Class At District 108 High 1956-57

Afer long and careful deliberation the board of education of community high school 108 has decided that it is in the best interests of all concerned for the 1956-57 seniors to attend the schools in which they are presently enrolled.

IN VIEW OF the fact that many students in this group expressed a strong desire to complete the last year of their high school programs in the schools which they now attend, both the Fenton and Glenbard boards of education advised the district 108 board that they were willing to accept the 1956-57 seniors at a special accommodation rate of tuition.

Consequently a poll was conducted among the families of the 1956-57 seniors to determine whether they felt the seniors should attend the new high school or attend the schools of their present enrollments. The results of the poll showed a dominant preference for the seniors to attend the schools in which they are now enrolled.

AN ANALYSIS OF THE opinions expressed in the poll revealed the fact that should district 108 attempt to conduct a senior class next year, the class size would be so small that it would be difficult, and probably impossible, to offer the type of program to which seniors are entitled.

Therefore, at its May 7 regular meeting the board adopted a resolution expressing appreciation to the Fenton and Glenbard boards of education for their cooperation, and at the same time notifying them that a senior class would not be conducted in the district 108 high school during the 1956-57 term.

THE RESOLUTION also stated that the district 108 board will provide tuition for all 1956-57 seniors to attend the schools where they are now enrolled, and transportation will be provided for those seniors attending Fenton and Glenbard.

District 108 school officials express a strong feeling of responsibility for these seniors. Even though they will not attend the new district high school, the 1956-57 seniors will be welcome to take part in the recreational and social affairs of the new school.

The student advisory council which is working with the superintendent, Carl Forrester, is now attempting to crystallize plans which will provide for those seniors who wish to take part in the affairs of the new high school.

With the weather what it has been, it's no wonder that we still have lots of sickness with us. Cathleen Garry has been confined to her home, but is feeling much improved as of now. Measles are still running rampant; little Bruce Tatarchuk is a recent victim, as is Buddy Yarke, who has been quite ill with them. Tommy Field is also down with measles, while mumps have put Bobby Taylor and Susan Swanson to bed for a few days. We hope these shut-ins, along with all others, will soon be up and around again.

Donations Are Coming In For Public Library

The community library committee is making final preparations for the "Community Book Collection Week," May 21 through May 26. The village hall in Bensenville will be the collection point.

People having no way of bringing the books to the hall may phone the chairman of the committee, Wayne Scheppele, Bens. 2936-R. Arrangements will be made to pick them up.

The committee expresses its appreciation to the Tioga VFW post, the Bensenville Lions club and the Bensenville chamber of commerce for their recent donations of $25 each.

THIS MONEY is being used to purchase the needed supplies for cataloging, indexing and preparing the card files for the books which will be received next week. Many other organizations of Wood Dale and Bensenville have indicated they will be glad to assist as the library gets underway.

After the receipt of the books from the community donors, they will be placed upon the reserved shelves of the Fenton high school library.

THE SCHEDULE of hours for the distribution of books will be announced later. It is also planned to have a branch library in Wood Dale, so the residents of that area will have more ready access to some of the books. As yet an acceptable place has not been made available.

Look at the Bright Side

A boy living in the mountain country in the South went on a possum hunt one night and after the dogs had treed an animal, the boy climbed up to get it. But the limb gave way and the youngster tumbled to the ground and suffered a broken back. Friends carried him home and as they entered his house, they stood silent, afraid of what the boy's father would say. The old man looked at his son for a long moment, pushed his whiskers back, and then said: "Well, it could have been worse. He could have fallen on one of the dogs."

Fenton Students Win Music Honors

Eighteen Fenton high school students and their accmpanists have returned from the state solo and ensemble contest at Bradley university, Peoria, a week ago Friday evening after an exciting day of competing with other district winners of the state for honors in their particular field.

Fenton made a very good showing in spite of some bad luck the last minute. Tommy Bedgood, who had practiced till his solo was almost perfect, developed some sore glands, but heroically struggled through in spite of the pain.

Kenneth Ewert trumpeter in the brass sextette, had to be left behind the last minute due to an unfortunate attack of measles. Ralph Peters gallantly took over for Kenneth and helped the sextette come home with an "S" or Superior rating. Other contestants and their ratings were:

Brass Sextette — Superior or First.

Camille Horak—French horn — Superior.

Connie Bell — Baton Twirling—Superior.

Camille Horak — Violin—Excellent.

Pat Anello — Tuba—Excellent.

Linnea Lilja — low voice singing—Excellent.

David Hoch — medium voice — Excellent.

Ronald Van Brackel — high voice—Excellent.

Bob Heinrich — low voice—Excellent.

Clarinet Quartette—Excellent.

Tommy Bedgood—Baritone horn —Good.

Piano accompanists were Mrs. Pat Cotsakis and Julene Neilsen.

Bensenville Girl Scout News

Bensenville Troops

Twnty-one members of troop 471 and their leaders, Mrs. Russell Fall and Mrs. Robert Braun put on their lovliest hostess smiles and welcomed their mothers to a Mother's tea in honor of Mother's day at their meeting on Tuesday, May 15. Refreshments consisting of petit fours, punch and cookies were prepared and served by Mrs. Clarence Grimm. The mothers were presented with growing plants in hand painted pink flower pots and covered with lovely multi colored stones which the girls had glued on. Brownies and the nineteen mothers who were able to attend agreed that this was a very nice party.

Fly-Up News

If you should happen to meet one of the members of troop 485, please remember not to say "Hello, brownie," as these girls are now officially girl scouts and very proud of it.

Under the direction of their leaders, Mrs. Charles Schwarz and Mrs. Robert Ryan, fly-up ceremonies were held at St. Alexis Hall on Tuesday, May 15, with the mothers attending as invited guests. The entire membership was present and participated in the ceremony. Mr. Schwarz lent his artistic ability to the occasion and carved a large wooden trefoil with space for 13 candles and then this was gilted with gold paint. The program opened with the flag ceremony and a brownie song and was followed by members of the troop lighting a candle for each of the three parts of the girl scout promise and ten candles for each of the girl scout laws. A wooden bridge was prepared out of construction horses and covered with green paper. On one side, the girls received their fly-up wings and then, as they crossed over to the other side, they were each presented with their girl scout pin and a girl scout handbook. These handbooks were purchased with the troop's profit from the recent cookie sale. The program closed with the retiring of the colors and the singing of taps. Refreshments of apple slices and ice cream were served. Because many of the girls had out-grown their brownie dresses, they all wore dark skirts and white blouses. It was a wonderful program and all agreed that it is even more fun to be a girl scout now.

Troop 375 plans to have their fly-up ceremonies on Friday evening, May 18 at 7:30 p.m. at Peace church on Center and Wood sts. Mr and Mrs. Kenneth Lilja, Rev. and Mrs. Harold Hohman, and parents of the troop members have been invited as guests.

Troop 91 presented their mothers with small potted begonias as Mother's day gifts. At their meeting last week, members of this troop made plans for a cook-out at Deer Park on Wednesday, May 16 instead of their usual meeting.

Silver Star Dancers

Members of troop 151 and 299 added a significant part to the program presented at the annual mother and daughter banquet at Peace church on Wednesday evening, May 9. Members of these troops known as the Silver Star Indian dancers presented several Indian dances assisted by Ralph Peters who has always aided the girls in their presentations. A solo hoop dance was performed by Rolita Persinico of troop 299 which required great skill and dexterity.

There are not many meeting days left this year and all of the troops are busily planning end of the year activities.

Neighborhood News

On Monday evening, May 21, our annual adult girl scout banquet will be held at the VFW hall on York st. at 7 p.m. Reservations are $2 and a few are still available if you will call Mrs. Eugene Blair at Bens. 1954 immediately. No later than Friday, May 18. You are all reminded that this will serve as our monthly neighborhood meeting. There will not be a meeting on May 28. All the final business of the year will be considered on the evening of May 21.

Also, you are please reminded to call in all the various coupons that your girls have been saving for the Downey Veteran's hospital. Bring them to the dinner meeting of May 21 or as soon as possible.

Day Camp

Final registrations are now closed for the day camp session for girl scouts scheduled in July, for the ninth to the 13th, announces Mrs. Maynerd Unger, day camp chairman.

Memorial Day Parade

Don't forget that the girl scouts and brownies have been again asked to participate in the Memorial day parade held here in town annually so please plan to march in the parade with your flags or ride on a float.

Tioga VFW Auxiliary

Just half a month gone and it looks like the last half is busier than the first. I don't think it could.

This Thursday, Friday and Saturday is "Calypso." Let's support it. Funds made this weekend are for summer recreation.

Sunday, May 20, fifth district in St. Charles. It is an important meeting, so try and go.

Girl scout dinner Monday, May 21. I'm trying to figure out who is going to keep Marge Daehn, because we have quite a number of leaders in the auxiliary. It's going to seem strange to sit at the table, most of us leaders have usually been the waitresses.

May 25 is Poppy day and we always need help on this important day. It starts at 6 a.m., so if you can give 1 hour, call Helen Keeling or Dorothy Bielak.

June 2 the auxiliary is celebrating their 20th anniversary by having a dinner dance. There are a limited number of tickets to be sold and it is first come, first served. You can buy your tickets from Evelyn Garlesch or Helen Keeling.

Monica Jelley was operated on last Saturday and is in Lying-In hospital. How about sending her a get well card.

The "Yard Birds" took first place. The Dead-Eye Dicks who bowled on that team were Fern Sloan, captain, Shirley Soden, Hazel Schmidt, Jeannette Thompson and Muriel Grabo.

Grace Rusteberg would like some more golfers, so get in touch with her and "tee-off" Tuesday morning.

See you at the meeting.

Marge Carroll

ROBERT D. CLARK POST American Legion

The carnival is now on its way. We want to thank everyone who has been so helpful in cleaning up the lot and helping with the work every night. Also to Thelma and Jack Snowberg for letting us use there lots.

Don't forget the auxiliary has a dance May 26 at 9 p.m. at the Legion home. Some of the women have tickets for $1 donation. There will be music by the Ralph Stalhmann Trio and also a door prize from Tioga Toggery so come out and have some fun.

If you have any news don't forthank all the girls who are helping out at the carnival. Also all the outside folks who have been as generous with their help. We have all been busy with the carnival so be glad to get it in for you or 447-R or Fred Bens. 2598. We will get to get in touchwith Ed, Itasca leave it in the box at the home.

First of all we would like to there is not much news this time.

Don't forget the dance Saturday, May 26, starting at 9 p.m. at the Legion home. Music by the Ralph Stahlmann Trio. There are tickets out at $1 donation. Everyone who has ticket money please try to get it to the dance committee as soon as possible.

Poppy day is on the way. The money we get from the Poppy day is used for rehabilitation. We have several workers but could use a few more. If you can work an hour or more call Bens. 2203 or Bens. 1667.

Don't forget the June meeting as we vote for officers.

We want to congratulate Jean and Fred Hall on their new arrival, a baby boy this week at Elmhurst hospital. We are all happy about it and wish them a lot of good wishes.

That's all,

Hospital Gets $13,000 Boost From Harvester

A check for $13,000 was recently presented Byron Powell, general campaign chairman for the Du Page Memorial hospital expansion project, by the International Harvester Co. plant at Melrose Park. H. T. Reishus, vice president in charge of the Melrose Park office, made the presentation.

THE CHECK, according to Walter Enz, public relations director at the hospital, comes as an additional donation since the company has made previous contributions totaling $22,000 during the past 8 years.

EDWIN DEICKE, president of the Memorial hospital board of trustees, stated that it was through the assistance of firms like International Harvester, in addition to the aid of individuals, that the hospital will be able to maintain adequate health facilities and keep its stature as an outstanding medical center in the area.

Tioga Post 2149 News

Our new officers conducted themselves in right smart fashion at last meeting. It was their first in the obligation of new members.

Delegates were nominated and elected to attend the department convention in Springfield comes June 14. This promises to be a rollicking, swashbuckling convention with Tioga's lads going all out to promote Harold Keeling for junior vice commander of the state VFW.

Bear in mind, men, that his is a distinct credit to Tioga Post to have one of its members considered for this important job in the state department.

It is now up to us to combine our efforts and talents in conducting a successful campaign.

An appeal was made to the membership to support the referendum on May 19 concerning an increase in the tax rate for school districts 100 and 2.

Chairman Chuck Thies in charge of Poppy project is looking for planty of aid May 25 the date of this year's Poppy day. Give this boy a hand. Incidentally we're certain you all know that our Auxiliary gals will bear the brunt of the Poppy day soliciting under the chairmanship of Helen Keeling.

Post Patter

Last meeting's vittles were served by Auxiliary Ladies Loveta Reger, Pearl Burde, Bernice Marshall, Dolores Page, Pat Lynn, and Irene Kancer.

Tioga Post extends its sympathy to the family of comrade last Saturday night. It is especially tragic for Clyde was just 33 Clyde King. Clyde passed away years of age.

Much hustle and bustle about town this week. "Calypso" a local talent endeavor will premiere Thursday night and continue until Saturday eve. What hours have gone into this Caribbean concoction. Ed Gerton's spouse Virginia along with pal Jeannie Snyder have struggled nightly to get this show on the road. Many of Tioga's thespians are in the production including Ed Gunther, Pete Martyniuk, Bob Gallas, Ron Gallas, Ray Soden, Roy Stein, John King, Bob Townsend, Tony Zielinski and Elmer Olhaber. For a lot of laughs we suggest you attend "Calypso" at the Junior high starting Thursday night 8 p.m.

Our golf league could more appropriately be named the frogmen what with all the water the bunker battlers are plowing through. Nevertheless the standings are as follows:

Kinnaman's "Klouters"	9
Geil's "Grubbers"	8½
Schlomann's "Schluggers"	8
Polk's "Brothers"	7½
White's "Whippets"	4½
Kehoe's "Shmoes"	4
St. Aubin's "Arborvitaes"	3½
Stegings "Stalwarts"	3

Low net of 34, Roy Edgerton; Second low net of 47, Dick Daehn and third low net of 38, Bob Freiny.

Hey Rube!

The old familiar reminder that preparations for carnival are in the air. Chairman for this year's fiasco is Big Richard Daehn, condolences boy, other committee members include Pete Martyniuk, Ray Soden, Sheriff Shekelton, Vic De St Aubin, Chuck Theis, Jim Marden, John Martons, Larry Bieneman, John King and Ed Gunther.

Ether Echoes

Joe Felsin is recovered and returned from the hospital.

Joe Jelley's wife is hospitalized at Lying in Hospital. We join with Joe in wishing her a speedy recovery.

Visit the club folks and enjoy yourselves. Check with Shek next week. How about our eager scribbler and the nice write up he got in last Sunday's Tribune, attaboy Chuck.

That's all,
Bul Burde

These always add a beautiful note to the show, and at the same time may assist you in planning similar tables, for your own use.

Plan now to attend the Flower show either Saturday, June 2, or Sunday, June 3, between the hours of 1 and 9 p.m. at Mohawk school, Hillside and Franzen sts., Bensenville.

Roselle Girl Scout News

June is fast approaching—summer vacations, youngsters free of the 3 R's again for all too brief a time. Scouting will close down more or less for the summer, too.

Plans are being made for picnics, overnights and of course day camp.

May 17, mothers are invited to a tea given by Girl Scout troop 342. May 23, Brownie troop 239 will entertain their moms at a tea. Sounds like 2 very nice programs are being planned.

Girl Scout troop 98 hopes the rain clouds will be all "poured out" before Friday rolls around, because they are planning an overnight in Naperville. They will cook Friday night dinner and breakfast Saturday morning at the camp site. Let's hope the sun will shine for these 2 days.

The sun did shine Monday — at least it did in Itasca. Mrs. Grandt and Mrs. Nelson reported that it was a perfect day for the "outdoor" district meeting. A cook-out gave the meeting a "Girl Scout" atmosphere.

Help is still needed at Camp Green Wood. Picnic tables and benches need to be assembled and this is a job for the Dads. Sunday afternoon is the time, 53 is the route to take (just S. of Lisle). There's a big sign at the entrance and you will be more than welcome.

Brownie troop 239 is now the proud possessors of their own troop and American flags. Mr. Somers presented it to the girls "because they have helped so many other people." At a recent meeting the troop decided to buy a uniform for Mrs. Somers. Mrs. Somers has devoted much time, talent and probably money, making this one of the most active troops in Roselle. The girls, and parents say "Thank You." Thanks also to all the leaders, Mrs. Nelson, neighborhood chairman; Mrs. Jensen and Mrs. Pritchard, troop organizer and co-ordinator.

Last Wednesday was our big night at PTA. The Fly Up was simply beautiful. From beginning to end it was certainly impressive.

We all had butterflies before the program. During rehearsal all the leaders had frayed nerves and the children were uneasy.

As 8 p.m. came around everything seemed to fall into place. The children took their places and seemed to relax. The leaders looking at the well-behaved children, knew for the first time in weeks that thing were going off all right. When the drum and bugle were heard we all knew this was it.

A lump came to our throats when we saw over 130 girl scouts and their leaders stand and salute the flag. It makes us proud that we are a part of the girl scouting movement. It is democracy in action.

The audience really raved about our program too. They said they had not realized that scouting was such a big organization. Oh they knew that in every town there were scout troops but the whole impact had not reached them until they saw our program.

Say that was a swell idea to compare the old scout uniform—with the present day one. Sherry Prichard represented the old fashioned scout and Jean Jensen was the modern day senior.

So that the fathers would know what we were talking about, we explained it to them in terms of an old dated car and an up-to-the-minute 1956 make.

Each troop took 3 minutes to tell what they had done. Our scouts are as busy as beavers. Same are takinng first aid and some are learning to sew, while others are learning arts and crafts, troop government, services and cooking. All these things are coupled with the out-of-doors.

Our brownies are learning the basic steps in becoming good scouts. They are learning to play and work together. They are learning from their leader to get along with other girls even though they do not all attend the same church or school. And do you know something? I think that is why we had such a beautiful Fly Up.

It was a wonderful idea of Gen Crawford to have the drmus and bugles. It was very impressive.

Mrs. Quin Prichard was program chairman and Mrs. Robert Jensen was her assistant. Mighty hard those 2 worked too. Here is a pat on the back for a job well done.

Home Gardeners Plan Two Special Events

The Home Gardeners of Roselle held their business and board meeting May 9 at the home of Shirley O'Sullivan with Ardis Weiss as cohostess.

Miriam Vogt, guild chairman, was asked to present her report as the program. Mariam has recently visited the convalescent home in Wheaton and. while there picked up many suggestions on how the club can be of service to the aged in the country.

The club has 2 extra curricular activities scheduled for the near future. The first in a jewelry demonstration with the proceeds going into the club treasury. This demonstration will be held Wednesday, May 23 at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Edith Haney, 180 N. Eagle terrace, Medinah.

The second activity will be a garden walk in June through Mr. Inman's estate in Deerfield. Mr. Inman is well known for his roses. The exact date will be announced later.

Both of these activities are open to the public and anyone interested in attending either or both may call Mrs. Huntsha, LAwrence 9-6421, for more information.

Thank You

My most sincere thanks go to all those who so willing participated in the Fly Up.

This is an annual affair when our little fourth grade brownies fly up into intermediate scouting. The lighting of the candles and repeating the laws and the promise are all very impressive. The girls try their very best to obey the laws and be good scouts. This in turn makes them good citizens.

From our youngest brownie to our oldest girl scout, I wish all happy scouting.

Roselle Church Starts Campaign For New Church

Bishop Martin D. McNamara, Catholic bishop of Joliet, has given permission to St. Walter's parish, Roselle, to start planning for a new church.

The present basement church seats only 250, and is filled 5 times every Sunday. By next year it will be entirely inadequate for the needs of the parish.

AN ARCHITECT, Fox and Fox of Chicago, has been engaged. Preliminary plans call for a church seating 732, including a large balcony in the rear, and a balcony over the main altar for the choir.

A basement for the heating plant and storage space is included. The approximate cost for the building will be $132,000.

Meetings to organize for a pledge campaign are being held with William Manns as general chairman and Robert Foisy as vice-chairman. The special gift committee is made up of Nick Lies, Frank Wampach, and Thomas Orgo.

Division leaders are Wm. Huntsha, Robert Finn, George Reiser, Greg Wright, Mathew Ryan and John Mikottis. Pledges will be asked of the 400 wage earners in the parish, to be repaid over a period of 30 months.

THE GOAL of the campaign has been set at $120,000.00. Monsignor Wagner, pastor of St. Walter's parish, states: "This is a high goal, and will require sacrifice on the part of all parishioners. We are sure, however, that they will make these sacrifices to provide a worthy House of God in our midst.

"We feel, sure, likewise, that our non-Catholic neighbors and friends will consider this church a valuable addition to our community for the training of good citizens for the future."

Roselle Lions Learn Importance Of Wills

Asa J. Baber, assistant vice-president of Chicago Title and Trust co., was guest speaker at the Roselle Lions club meeting last Thursday evening in the Lutheran school in the village. His talk dealt with the needs and requirements of the preparation of wills.

"If you fail to make a will you are saying in effect that the state is better qualified than yourself to distribute your property," he said. "If you have no will, someone you wish to exclude may claim a share of your property while another you wish to help may receive nothing." Baber pointed out.

About Itasca People

It's Carnival Time

There is still time to join the gay festivities and merry making at the Itasca Lion's Club Carnival. The carnival is scheduled to run through Sunday night and will open every evening at 6 p.m. Saturday afternoon it will be open from 2 p.m. on. It is located at the Village park on Irving Park road. Proceeds from the carnival will be used for youth activities during the coming year. Immediate use of a portion of these funds is for the support of the Little league and Pony league teams. The whole family is urged to come out and enjoy itself: There are rides for the kiddies from 2 years old to ? including a whip, ferris "whirly-racer," pop corn, peanuts, games of skill and chance for dad with beautiful prizes. Games for mom and target range and dart games for junior and sister. For your convenience and pleasure Itasca girl scout and brownie troops, with the aid of their mothers, have arranged a refreshment stand. Lions club members predict that "once you get a whiff of the coffee and hot dogs, it will mean an automatic post has set up a first aid station and is maintaining it as a service project. The boys not on duty at the first aid station help eliminate confusion by assisting people in parking their cars.

Track Meet

Itasca public grade school will hold its annual track meet Friday between 12:30 and 3 p.m. in back of the school. Competition will be with other grade schools of Addison township. Among the various contests of the meet will be the 40 and 100 yard dashes, the 60 and 400 yard relays, the broad jumps and running high jumps. Boys and girls will compete separately and there will be a slight variance in the nature of the contests.

Complete Course

Mrs. Jack Samlo and Mrs. James Nelson have completed a course which will enable them to better discharge their duties as Sunday school teachers. They teach at the Evangelical Free church which meets in Itasca public grade school gym. Lessons in their course were held at the Grace Bible church and presented by college professors and other people.

Work Meeting

The Woman's Evening guild of Bethany church had a work meeting Friday evening. At this time they also saw scenes from three well known plays as presented by Beth Driggett, director, Lynn Prairie, and Linnea Siegbahn. "The Recognition Scene" from "Anastasia," "The Parting Scene" from "Cradle Song" and the scene in which Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary meet from "Mary of Scots" were the ones given. This program was also presented for the Fenton Drama club May 7. This will probably be the last dramatic program directed by Mrs. Driggett in Itasca as she is planning to move to Naperville where her sons, Dan and Dick, will attend North Central college. Beth Driggett has given Itasca many fine plays and performances and she will certainly be greatly missed. The women worked on projects for the bazaar between the scenes.

Bethany Evangelical United Brethren church is having a series of discussions and films dealing with the main topic of "Preparation for Marriage." Different subjects are presented each Wednesday at 7:15 p.m.

Smoky Mountain Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Ellworth Whitney Sr., 805 Greenview, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chessman, 226 S. Oak, toured the Smoky mountains of Tennessee. The Chessmans were not aware of the fact that the Whitneys were making a similar trip, so they were very surprised when Mr. and Mrs. Whitney, who stopped at the Darris house shortly after Mr. and Mrs. Chessman, delivered 5 pictures to them that had been taken by Mr. Darris. After their tour of the Smokies the Whitneys went to Grinnell, Iowa, college to spend Mother's day with their son, Eli. There they had chicken dinner with all the trimmings and had the opportunity of sitting in on a German lesson. They were proud to learn that Eli had been elected social chairman of South Younker hall of Grinnell. In September he was chosen as group leader for new students, also won the Marksmanship medal of the AFRTC and was awarded the silver rifle pin. Mrs. Whitney said that this was a Mother's day she would certainly not forget.

Birthday Club

Mrs. Harry Burrell, 725 Greenview rd., is having the Birthday club at her home in honor of Mrs. Ethel Armstrong whose birthday is this month.

"Wardrobe Wonderland"

"Wardrobe wonderland," a spring fashion show, was held recently in the little theatre at Fenton High school. Girls in the homemaking classes modeled clothes they had made in class. After the show a tea was held in the home economics department. Many mothers and grandmothers, who were guests, enjoyed a pleasant afternoon. Girls from Itasca who modeled in the show were Phyllis Muehler, Judy Laatz, Frances Brogan, Lynn Van Balen, Priscilla Rosner, Judy Dahlfors, Drina Christiansen, Linnea Siegbahn, Elsie Mae Rosen and Judy Miller.

Class Night

Eighth graders of Itasca public grade school will have class night May 29. June 1 the well-liked '56 class will graduate. A special meeting was held before the last PTA meeting to discuss plans for a dinner at Mohawk country club. Parents could also attend. At the meeting only about 50 per cent of the children were represented. If the parents who are interested in having this affair for the class contact Mrs. Louis Wrona, telephone Itasca 239, by Monday, plans for the dinner-dance could still be carried through. Otherwise they will have to be cancelled. The class plans to leave a class gift and Mrs. Wrona would appreciate it if each child would give her money toward it as soon as possible.

Candy Bars

Chuck Rosenthal, who is chairman of baseball activities in Itasca, still has candy bars for sale. The sales are for the purpose of helping to support youth activities in Itasca. Only about half the candy bars were sold. If you are interested in baseball teams of Itasca you can help them by purchasing these bars. They can be obtained at the printing shop — on Irving Park road.

Congratulations

Eight Injured In Highway Mishaps Friday, Monday

Four persons, including an 11-year old boy, were injured in a two-car collision Monday at 8:42 p.m. at North ave. and Swift rd., southwest of Addison. All were taken to Du Page Memorial hospital, Elmhurst, for treatment, state county sheriff's deputies who investigated.

HAROLD B. STREET, 57, Wheaton, suffered abrasions on both legs and possible internal injuries; Marie C. Kenemore, 34, who lived near the accident scene on Swift, received possible damage to her back; Kenemore's young son, Edward, sustained head and face lacerations, and Street's mother, Mable, 57, Wheaton, was treated for leg and hand contusions.

The police reported that Mrs. Kenemore was going north on Swift and pulled into the path of the Street vehicle as it headed west on North.

LEROY COX, 51, RR 1, Addison, and Norman Karow, 53, Park Ridge, were both taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, following a three-car crash Friday night at Golf and Barrington rds., Cook county. The third driver involved, Frank Campbell, 31, Elgin, escaped unhurt.

Both drivers involved in the accident at rte. 53 and North ave. at 3 a.m. Friday were taken to Memorial hospital for emergency treatment. They were Louis Bellecomo, 41, Elmhurst, and Christ Ambrose, 57, St. Charles, county police called to the scene disclosed.

DRIVERS of the three cars that collided Sunday at 4:57 p.m. at Swift and North were Tony Yepsen, 67, Princeton; Christ Hoff Jr., 47, Bloomingdale, and Walter Zeeh, 64, Oak Park. Hoff was passing the Yepsen car when he sideswiped Zeeh's auto going in the opposite direction, police said. No one was hurt.

Clarence W. Curtis, 53, Salem, attempted to pass at the same time that Richard B. Duffner, 21, Chicago, tried to turn left. The result was the mishap reported last Thursday at 2:02 p.m. on Church rd., half a mile north of Grand ave. Both had been southbound.

ROBERT O. KUHN, 27, Bloomingdale rd., had halted for the traffic light at the intersection when his vehicle was struck from behind by that of John Sieler, 50, Chicago, Saturday at 12:47 p.m. at rte. 83 and North ave. Both were driving east on North, deputies reported.

RECONSTRUCTION OF Bloomingdale rd. in southern Bloomingdale township got underway the past week in accordance with plans for the use of MFT funds outlined by the county highway department last year. The project calls for base construction for two miles between Geneva rd. and Fullerton ave. and blacktopping for the same stretch plus another 1.5 miles north to Army Trail rd. The grading work shown is proceeding along a stretch north of North ave. —Staff Photo

Need Volunteers

Memorial Hospital guild members are reminded to circle June 5 on their calendars; this is the date of the North DuPage county unit's annual June luncheon to be held this year at Itasca country club. New members are sure to enjoy the party, marathon players will hear the winners of the groups announced, and old members might take this opportunity to bring along that friend whom you have been meaning for so long to introduce to the Hospital guild activities. Several new members from the subdivision have started their volunteer work programs at the hospital. They are Mrs. Robert Christopherson, Mrs. Earl Borre, and Mrs. Irving Falk. Many more volunteers are needed, especially during the summer months, and . . . really . . . . it's fun!

Contact Mrs. Sylvia Furry at LA 9-6213 for reservations and further information.

Among those in the community who attended the spring dance given by St. Walter's church at Roselle country club last Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Tompkins, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Plessner, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Connelly, and Mr. and Mrs. George Wruck. At another table were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Froncak, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. John Shallcross, and the William Huntshas. From all reports the evening was enjoyed by all.

Fifteen guests were present at the birthday dinner given for George Reiser last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Mogren and children were weekend visitors in Chicago at the home of Mrs. Mogren's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bastien.

Sorry to hear that both Mrs. Richard Hagerup and Mrs. Paul Felts were ill and confined to their homes over the weekend. Medinah friends hope all is well at this writing.

A cheery get well note to all youngsters in the community who have measles and mumps. They are: Susan and Sandra Landrum, Bobby Herrmann, Charles Whitacre, Tommy Kinnaman, and Greg and Suzie Christenson. Seems the month of May never fails to bring mere flowers.

Neighbors and friends extend deepest sympathy to Mrs. Russell Smith, who on Sunday received the news of the death of her father, E. Chiarucci of Canton, Ohio.

The weather cooperated beautifully when pupils of grades 1, 2, 3, and 4, toured Brookfield zoo Monday with their teachers, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Green, and Mrs. Schroeder. Many thanks to Mrs. Lotton, Mrs. Fickensher, Mrs. Pulford, Mrs. Sperry and Mrs. Mack who assisted on the trip.

Breaks Arm

Johnny Shallcross suffered a broken arm after falling from a tree in his back yard early last Tuesday. He spent a few days in Elmhurst hospital and is now reported back at school.

Extends Thanks

Mrs. Sylvia Furry was commended in a recent letter from the DuPage county chapter of the American Cancer society for a job well done in the April campaign. Complete returns are now in and Medinah has a record to be proud of. Out of the 28 towns in DuPage county who participated in the drive Medinah was placed second highest for exceeding its set goal.

Confine Dogs

Complaints are coming in once more from residents who have had newly planted evergreens shrubs and flowers ruined by "wandering dogs." This problem presents itself every spring, with the animals being outdoors a good deal of the time. Medinah, unlike other towns, has no set law stating that one must confine pets to their premises, so it seems the problem is left in the owners' hands. It is disheartening to invest hard earned money in plants which will only last a few months. All residents are kindly asked to restrict their pets whenever possible; it will in the end make a "friend" of your neighbor.

Kittens In Attic

How a stray cat entered their attic and bore a litter of 5 kittens without the knowledge of owners, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith, is still a mystery. It was discovered when Mr. Smith started a clean-up job and finally required the help of a neighbor who removed the brood with a fishing net. Anyone's cat missing?

A coppercraft gift show was held at the home of Mrs. William Dahlgren Tuesday. Refreshments were served after articles were displayed by Mrs. Lester Mogren.

Medinah civic organization will meet at Medinah school Thursday, May 31, at 8 p.m.

Thanks to those who phoned in their news . . . see you next week!
